IT WAS SUNNY ON TOP OF MOUNT TAMALPAIS

Valley Land For Tam Park Appears Lost

Deadline Today, But No Reply From Owners

SACRAMENTO — Pastoral Franks Valley, planned as a key expansion of Mount Tamalpais State Park, apparently has been lost to private development.

William Penn Mott Jr., director of the state Parks and Recreation Department, had set today as the deadline for the church to accept the state's offer, but, as of late this morning the state still had not heard from the owner, the First Christian Church of America in Beverly Hills.

The state has offered $3,012,000 for the 2,140-acre Brazil and Souza ranches in the valley, but the church is demanding $3.3 million. Mott has declined to seek the land through court action, claiming he feared a jury would make an even higher award to the church.

NOTHING NEW

Thomas F. Sherman, supervisor of Northern California operations for the Department of General Service's property acquisition division, said he expected to talk later today with the church's attorney, "but I've heard nothing new on any response to the offer."

Sherman said his division will not withdraw the offer until the action is approved by Mott, who is in Illinois and will not return to his office until tomorrow.

The church's attorney, Dennis E. Carpenter of Newport Beach, could not be reached by telephone. The Independent-Journal also could not reach the secretary-treasurer of the church, John Filatreau.

$360,000 LIEN

Further entangling the disputed ranches was a $360,000 lien filed against the properties Friday by Fidelity Bank of Los Angeles.

The lien was filed against the church and 10 "interlocking corporations," the Independent-Journal was told by Victor M. Epport, an attorney for Fidelity Bank.

The "interlocking" plaintiffs, he said, are the church, Consolidated Trust Association, Baptist Foundation of America Inc., Southwest Conservation Inc., Consolidated Financial Corp., Cal-L-Exploration Co., Urban Life Corp., Taylor Building and Development and Taylor Land Enterprises.

Fidelity Bank loaned the $360,000 to Consolidated Trust on June 28, 1965 at 6.5 per cent interest a year, but not a single payment has been made on the loan, said Epport. Also due [illegible]

Law Held Freedom Violation

WASHINGTON (UPI) —The Supreme Court ruled today that it is unconstitutional for the government to bar members of Communist organizations from holding jobs in defense plants under terms of the all-but-jettisoned antisubversive law.

Speaking for the majority in the 6 to 2 opinion, Chief Justice Earl Warren held the job section of the 1950 legislation violated First Amendment protections of freedom of association for an individual.

TOO LOOSELY DRAWN

Warren stressed that Congress has the right to empower the government to safeguard defense plants from the dangers of sabotage and espionage but said the 1950 act was too loosely drawn to be constitutional.

He said it allowed an individual to be punished for "guilt by association."

It was the latest setback for the act which was aimed at making members of the Communist Party and subversive front groups register with the government on orders of the Subversive Activities Control Board.

THROWN OUT

Other sections dealing with registration procedures and the denial of passports had been thrown out previously by the Court.

Justices Byron R. White and John M. Harlan dissented in today's decision. Justice Thurgood Marshall did not participate in the test case which involved a Seattle, Wash., shipyard worker.

In a related case, the Court dismissed a complaint of the W.E.B. DuBois Clubs that the organization had been unconstitutionally denied an immediate court test of the legality of being required to register as a Communist-front group.

The Court affirmed an April 18, 1967, decision of the U.S. Court of Appeals in Washington, from which the group had sought a test of registration proceedings.

Atty. Gen. Ramsey Clark sought to force the clubs to

Wheelwright Says He Wills Ranch To Synanon

George W. Wheelwright today said he has willed his 680-acre Green Gulch Ranch and stock to the Synanon Foundation.

Wheelwright said he and his late wife, Hope, had considered willing it to the state for a park, but decided "the state has no machinery for keeping the land open."

He said he and his wife, who died Oct. 18, became "deeply involved" about five years ago in Synanon, which started out as an organization to help drug addicts return to a normal life. "Now they're dedicated to helping everybody," he said, "and I think they may lead a social revolution in five years."

Mrs. Wheelwright willed her half of the ranch to her husband until his death, at which time it will go to Synanon. Wheelwright said he had not intended to disclose that his half also would go to Synanon, but was doing so now because the terms of his wife's will were reported in the press.

Both wills stipulate that if Synanon cannot accept the ranch it will go to the Nature Conservancy, a non-profit conservation organization based in Washington, D.C., Wheelwright said. "There's every chance, however, that Synanon will be able to take it," he said.

Wheelwright, co-inventor of the Polaroid Land Camera, bought the ranch in 1945 and began breeding cattle there a year later.

"It took us 15 years to clear the brush and get New Zealand grass on it," he said, and I hate to see it built up with little houses. The place was filled with work and love for years, and I'd like to see it continue to be used this way.

"I realize it can't be kept this way forever, but as I see it, Synanon is best equipped to use it and can use and sell the meat for income."

The land was "sub-marginal" when bought, he said, but now supports 175 breeding cows and 300 head of cattle.

The showplace ranch on Shoreline Highway runs east from Muir Beach over the top of 1100-foot-high Coyote Ridge. It also includes 30 to 40 acres on the Tamalpais Valley side of the ridge, which Wheelwright has offered to donate to Tamalpais Community Services District.

Cavalrymen Burn Reds' Shelters

SAIGON (UPI)—U.S. Cavalrymen stormed into the village of Truong Lam today and burned the thatched huts that had sheltered North Vietnamese troops in the six-day battle of the Bong Son Plain. They found 51 North Vietnamese bodies to run the Communist death toll in the battle to 387.

USE ARMOR

The cavalrymen using armor broke through a North Vietnamese trap yesterday and rescued South Vietnamese troops pinned down in the area 300 miles north of Saigon. Today, they attacked the stronghold village of Truong Lam behind a wall of tear gas, rockets, machineguns and artillery.

Today's American casualties were not announced. Previously 28 Americans and 16 South Vietnamese were killed in the fighting and 140 Americans wounded.

SET FIRES

With lighters and matches the troops set fire to the dozens of thatched huts in the village. When they moved out, the two-story Buddhist temple was the only building still standing, it was reported.

South of Saigon, Communist forces attacked three U.S. infantry posts and southeast of Da Nang Communist groundfire brought down a U.S. Air Force Phantom jet, American headquarters reported.

In other fighting yesterday, U.S. Army 1st Infantry Division artillerymen 55 miles north of Saigon killed 124 heroin-charged

TOULOUSE, France (AP) — To the blare of martial music, model No. 001 of the French-British supersonic transport plane Concorde made its first public appearance today.

The needle-nosed plane with delta wings set far to the rear of the fuselage was not unduly exposed to the elements, however. It was towed just outside the doors of the big specially fitted out hanger at the edge of the airport, where it towered over the figures of pilots and hostesses from 16 airlines that have ordered Concordes.

The Concorde is the first of three projected supersonic passenger planes—SSTs—in the world. The Soviet Union has announced it has one under construction and it is expected to be given a test flight some time next year. An American SST will be built by Boeing.

Planners See Too Much Control By ABAG In Federal Aid Plans

By WAT TAKESHITA

Biggest danger of the preliminary regional plan drawn up by the Association of Bay Area Governments is that it will become the official guideline for the granting or denial of federal aid applications.

This fear was expressed today by three Marin County planning commissioners meeting as a committee to draw up an official reply to the ABAG preliminary regional plan.

Mrs. Margaret Azevedo, Niels Schultz Jr., and Hugh Dougherty met at Civic Center for a critical review of the ABAG plan.

Applications for federal aid must be processed through ABAG, planner Albert Solnit pointed out. "I feel if we accept this kind of program we've sold out real control on this thing to the feds."

The commissioners also expressed the fear that the preliminary regional plan, which is bound and printed, would be taken as a firm and fixed plan for the Bay Area.

County Planning Director Paul C. Zucker and Solnit criticized the ABAG plan as largely unrelated to forces at work and lacking in basic information needed to develop a regional plan.

The three-man committee listed these weaknesses in the ABAG plan:

It does not provide employment trends, fails to isolate elements that determine growth and development, does not have adequate information on transportation because the data from the Bay Area Transportation Study Commission is not yet completed and trends in housing developments are not indicated.

Another major flaw, the commissioners decided, is that there is no clear definition between regional and local issues, and how they would be resolved.

Commissoners Schultz and Dougherty noted that the ABAG plan envisages vast open space green belts in Marin but makes no provision for financing such open spaces.

"If Marin County is to be a green belt, how do you pay for it?" asked Solnet. "Who gets the consumers and who gets the producers? And who's going to house the poor?"

The commissioners decided that these practical questions of cost distribution and tax base distribution must be considered before a feasible regional plan can be drawn up.

The committee asked Mrs. Azevedo to draft a summary of the views expressed this morning and present it at the next committee meeting set for 10 a.m. Friday in the planning department conference room, Civic Center.

Campus Quiet In Reaction To Trustees

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — The San Francisco State College campus, gray and cold under one of the thickest fogs of the season, reacted quietly today to condemnation of last week's violence and demands for investigations.

At midmorning, the 18,000 students — bundled up against the chill — proceeded to classes as usual.

No rallies were scheduled, not even for the football team which was beaten in the Camellia Bowl at Sacramento Saturday.

Spokesmen for the more than 100 militants, who closed the campus last Wednesday, distributed announcements before the weekend calling for another demonstration next Wednesday.

They said their demands would be the same — the lifting of what they called "political suspensions" of students involved in an earlier campus incident.

The main dispute is a probe ordered Saturday by state college trustees to determine whether President John Summerskill should be fired.

Spokesmen for student and faculty groups said there was certain to be widespread reaction to this directive and another for mandatory suspensions or expulsion of students found guilty of disrupting a campus by violence.

TWISTER TRAGEDY — Residents at Fort Walton Beach, Fla., begin the task of cleaning up after a tornado swept down in the area in yesterday's pre-dawn. (AP Wirephoto)

Florida's Panhandle Ripped By Tornadoes; Two Killed

PANAMA CITY, Fla. (AP) — Roaring tornadoes shattered the morning quiet yesterday in 10 Florida panhandle cities, leveling hundreds of homes and buildings and killing two persons. One twister hit an Alabama border county.

More than 200 were reported injured in Florida, most in a housing area at nearby Tyndall Air Force Base and at Fort Walton Beach 60 miles west of Panama City. Several were in critical condition. A watchman at a wrecked shopping center was reported missing.

Officials estimated damages at more than $7 million. Gov. Claude Kirk asked federal help for what he termed a disaster area.

Helmeted National Guardsmen toting rifles patroled the cities and highways to prevent looting, turned back sightseers and helped in the massive cleanup.

Kirk toured the Bayou Wood section of Fort Walton Beach yesterday, hours after a twister spun off from a violent thunderstorm had smashed 50 homes at 3 a.m.

As the storm bounced over a lake and tore a five-mile long swath it left 220 homes wrecked.

Five hours later another funnel ripped into a row of duplex homes at the housing area for Air Force families, flattening 30 of them and damaging 24 others, leaving one dead, nine seriously hurt and about 400 persons homeless. That tornado touched down five more times before fizzling out.

Elsewhere across the nation, hail, rain and snow struck last night and today.

Golf ball-size hail raked parts of Mobile, Ala., early this morning.

School Vandals Hit Soft Drink Machine

Vandals entered Tamalpais Valley School early Friday and "totally demolished" a soft drink machine in a futile effort to get the cash door open, the sheriff's office reported Saturday.

The school was entered through an open door between 3 and 6 a.m., deputies said. Also damaged was an $11 metal folding chair. The damage was discovered by an employee at the school, William C. Mancebo.

60 Reported Killed In West India Quake

BOMBAY (AP) — An earthquake shook Western India before dawn today, and the Maharashtra state government said 60 persons were killed at Koyna, 200 miles south of Bombay.

A report in New Delhi told of only two dead but said 500 were injured.

The report from the state government, said most of the casualties occurred near Koynanagar, a town of 10,000 built for workers at the giant Koyna hydroelectric dam and plant.

The government said the Koyna dam was not damaged but another hydroelectric plant at Khopoli, between Bombay and Poona, was put out of commission.

This knocked out electric service to several thousand square miles, including Bombay and its population of 4.5 million. In the metropolis hundreds of thousands poured into the streets and spent the rest of the night in the open.

An area from Sura, 150 miles north of Bombay, to Goa, 300 miles to the South, and to Poona, 120 miles to the east, was rocked by three tremors. The Bombay observatory said its seismograph went out when the power supply failed immediately after the first tremors.

In the last big quake in the area eight years ago, 110 persons were killed.

All-India Radio reported one death in Bombay, a man who was wakened by the rumble, rushed to a balcony and fell to the street. Little damage was reported in the city, but the power cut stopped heavily traveled urban trains and curtailed pumping of water.

The meteorological observatory in New Delhi said the shock had a magnitude of 7.5 on the Richter scale, sufficient to cause severe damage near the epicenter, which was located 70 miles south of Poona.

All-India Radio said 80 per cent of the houses at Koynanagar were damaged.

Power transmission at the Koyna dam was stopped until an inspection was completed.

Ocean Quake Sends Tremor Into Eureka

EUREKA (AP)—A pre-dawn earthquake jolted residents awake early yesterday morning, but no damage was reported.

Centered 25 miles offshore in the Pacific, the temblor rattled windows and swayed hanging lamps from Arcata on the north to Rio Dell 40 miles south of here.

It was timed at 4:07 a.m. by the University of California seismograph at Berkeley and registered as 5.8 on the Richter scale with a 4.5 aftershock 27 minutes later.

The 5.8 rating could have meant severe damage if the quake had been centered in a built-up area.

On Saturday, houses in the San Francisco Bay area were shaken by an unidentified shock which seismologists said had the characteristics of a sonic boom, but military officials said they had no supersonic planes in the air at the time.

Burglars Take $1,000 Coat In San Rafael

A burglary of property worth several thousands dollars and two thefts have been reported by San Rafael police.

A $1,000 mink coat, watches, jewelry and clothing were taken from her apartment at 220 Canal Street Friday, occupant Ronnie Ann Sacks said. She had left her front door unlocked.

Theft of two carburetors and two air scoops from his 19-foot inboard boat while stored at Outdoor Recreation, 521 Francisco Boulevard, was reported by Victor J. Tulpiani, of 65 Fairfax Street. The theft occurred between Oct. 15 and Thursday, he said.

Joseph M. Wilson of 914 Fifth Avenue reported that $50 cash was taken from his apartment Friday afternoon. No sign of forced entry was found, police said.

Retroactive Pay Expected By Christmas

WASHINGTON (AP) — Final congressional action raising postal rates and the pay of federal workers is expected in time to give government employees a Christmas bonus: Salary boosts retroactive to Oct. 1.

Similar increases are in line for members of the military services under separate legislation.

The postal rate increases, affecting all classes of mail and increasing to 6 cents the cost of mailing a first-class letter, will not take effect until Jan. 7.

Two bills containing the increases—one covering postal rates and civilian employees and the other covering the military —are scheduled for House action today.

The Senate approved the military pay bill Friday, shortly after a compromise was reached. It is expected to move quickly on the postal measure so President Johnson's signature can put the machinery into motion to include the retroactive increases in the next paychecks of government workers.

The postal-pay bill, glued together by the House Post Office Committee in an effort to make it veto-proof, exceeds Johnson's recommendations, both in the cost of the pay boosts and in the revenue expected from new postal rates.

But the President is expected to sign it.

Florida's Panhandle Ripped By Tornadoes; Two Killed

PANAMA CITY, Fla. (AP) — Roaring tornadoes shattered the morning quiet yesterday in 10 Florida panhandle cities, leveling hundreds of homes and buildings and killing two persons. One twister hit an Alabama border county.

More than 200 were reported injured in Florida, most in a housing area at nearby Tyndall Air Force Base and at Fort Walton Beach 60 miles west of Panama City. Several were in critical condition. A watchman at a wrecked shopping center was reported missing.

Officials estimated damages at more than $7 million. Gov. Claude Kirk asked federal help for what he termed a disaster area.

Helmeted National Guardsmen toting rifles patroled the cities and highways to prevent looting, turned back sightseers and helped in the massive cleanup.

Kirk toured the Bayou Wood section of Fort Walton Beach yesterday, hours after a twister spun off from a violent thunderstorm had smashed 50 homes at 3 a.m.

As the storm bounced over a lake and tore a five-mile long swath it left 220 homes wrecked.

Five hours later another funnel ripped into a row of duplex homes at the housing area for Air Force families, flattening 30 of them and damaging 24 others, leaving one dead, nine seriously hurt and about 400 persons homeless. That tornado touched down five more times before fizzling out.

Elsewhere across the nation, hail, rain and snow struck last night and today.

Golf ball-size hail raked parts of Mobile, Ala., early this morning.

School Vandals Hit Soft Drink Machine

Vandals entered Tamalpais Valley School early Friday and "totally demolished" a soft drink machine in a futile effort to get the cash door open, the sheriff's office reported Saturday.

The school was entered through an open door between 3 and 6 a.m., deputies said. Also damaged was an $11 metal folding chair. The damage was discovered by an employee at the school, William C. Mancebo.

Three Die As Blaze Engulfs Fraternity

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — "It was like everything was soaked with gas . . . A wave of flame came across the ceiling and the whole place went up."

That was how collegian Lance Kollmer, 19, of Deerfield, Ill., described the way a fire turned decorations at a pre-Christmas college fraternity dance into an inferno, killing three persons yesterday.

JUMP TO SAFETY

Nine others at the Delta Tau Delta house party in the heart of the University of Pennsylvania campus were injured—mostly from jumping for their lives from second-story windows.

Five firemen also suffered minor injuries fighting the blaze which swept through the three-story brick and stone building.

Fraternity members said about 100 men and their dates were at the party earlier. Kollmer was among a score of partygoers staying until the last minute before girls' curfew at 2 a.m. He was in the room where the blaze broke out in a 14-foot snowman made of chicken wire stuffed with paper.

Other decorations at the party included "snow tunnel" made of sheets that blocked the front door. The walls of the living room, too, were covered with sheets, carrying out a snowtime motif traditional with the annual party that preceded exam week.

VICTIMS TRAPPED

The victims—all of them trapped on the second floor when flames enveloped the only stairwell—were Joseph J. Growchowski, 19, a Penn sophomore, of Franklinville, N.J., Kent D. Smith, 20, also a sophomore, of Wilmington, Del., and Susan Sagendorph, 17, of Philadelphia, a guest of one of the fraternity members.

Fire officials said a spark from a cigarette may have started the blaze.

Heart Patient Orders Meal Of Steak, Eggs

CAPE TOWN, South Africa (AP) Louis Washkansky's doctors were increasingly confident he would survive as he began his second week with his transplanted heart yesterday by eating his favorite meal—steak and eggs.

Since they are dealing with the unknown, the doctors said there may be complications they had not foreseen. But one said privately: "We think we've got our problems licked."

"I am very confident he will pull through," said Dr. Christian N. Barnard, leader of the team which replaced the 53-year-old wholesale grocer's failing heart on Dec. 3 with the healthy heart of a 25-year-old woman killed in an auto crash.

Barnard in an article on the historic operation for the Associated Press said the future of heart transplantation appears most encouraging and plans are under way for a second such operation at Groote Schuur Hospital within the next few weeks.

He warned, however, that heart transplant operations will not become widespread for a number of years.

Since Washkansky came through the first recorded heart transplant, the main worry had been the natural tendency of the body to reject foreign tissue, and there was a faint sign Saturday that might have indicated rejection. Treatment to counteract this was intensified slightly and X-rays Sunday showed no sign of rejection.

Barnard said doctors now are concerned primarily about the risk of infection since treatments to counter-rejection tendencies have lowered Washkansky's natural resistance. Because they have developed slight colds, his only child, Michael, 15, and his wife, Ann, have been barred temporarily from seeing him.

Washkansky's elder brother, Tevia, visited him yesterday and reported on the patient's favorite dinner. Washkansky has said when he returns to normal life, one of his first outings will be to a restaurant to order a steak, medium rare, topped with two fried eggs.

Science Shrinks Painful Hemorrhoids Stops Itch—Relieves Pain

Finds Way That Both Relieves Pain and Shrinks Piles In Most Cases

New York, N.Y. (Special): Science discovered a medication with the ability, in most cases—to actually shrink hemorrhoids and promptly stop the burning itch and relieve pain.

In one hemorrhoid case after another, very striking improvement was reported and verified by doctors' observations. Pain and itching were promptly relieved. Then this medication starts right in to gently reduce the swelling of inflamed, irritated piles.

Tests conducted on hundreds of patients by leading doctors in New York City, in Washington, D.C. and at a Midwest Medical Center proved this so. And it was all done without narcotics or stinging astringents of any kind.

The secret is Preparation H®—an exclusive formula for the treatment of hemorrhoids. There is no other formula like it! Preparation H also lubricates to make bowel movements less painful, it soothes irritated tissues and helps prevent further infection. Preparation H comes in both ointment or suppository form. MIGHTY MITE — Petite Aleen (Voom Voom) Vorhies, first woman editor-in-chief of College of Marin Times, takes her new responsibility in stride: "I don't think anyone is going to push me around." (Independent-Journal photo)

POOL PLAYER TOO

Coed Will Become Boss Of The Paper

By ROSS DAVIS

Aleen (Voom-Voom) Vorhies, 19, will become the first female editor-in-chief of the College of Marin newspaper next semester.

And the prospect of a girl calling the shots (she's also a pool player) for a staff of about 20 students fazes her not at all.

In fact, she's already planning on increased and better reporting.

"Whether it's me or a boy, I'm not bothered by that," said the five-foot, one-inch sophomore. "I may be small, but I'm mighty. I don't think anbody is going to push me around."

FEATURE EDITOR

Miss Vorhies, who replaces Gerard Sirocky as editor, has been feature editor for the publication, College of Marin Times, for the past semester. That and a first semester of working on the staff as reporter has given her confidence that better coverage is in the making.

She's a bit vague on what the changes will be, however. "It's difficult because I haven't really thought about it until now," she said. "The thing is we just haven't covered everything that should have been covered."

In addition, Miss Vorhies said, she hopes to make minor changes in placing of the inquiring reporter feature on the editorial page, rather than on the news pages. She said the amount of photography used will probably remain the same, along with general paper makeup.

OTHER IDEAS

A guest editorial for the weekly paper will also be continued, with a member of the faculty, administration, or a student being asked to write it.

Miss Vorhies, daughter of Mrs. Kathleen L. Vorhies of 49 Glenaire Drive, San Rafael, is an English major and journalism minor, and hopes to teach high school journalism after graduation. She got her first taste of newspaper writing for a mimeographed paper at James B. Davision Junior High School in San Rafael.

"But the first time I really got interested was in my senior year at San Rafael High School," she said. "It was just another type of elective course, but it proved to be interesting." She became editor of the school's paper, "Red 'N White."

At College of Marin, she has taken two journalism classes, news writing and a laboratory class requiring that she work on the campus paper. Term for each editor is one semester, and Miss Vorhies will be paid $2 an hour for a 15-hour week in the job. The salary comes from a total $10,000 yearly fund from the college district and Associated Students, College of Marin, she said.

PAPER'S HISTORY

The campus newspaper, started in the 1930s, was called Tower Times because it was published in the bell tower of Harlan Hall. Two semesters ago its became College of Marin Times and has editorial offices in the college center.

The journalism adviser to the staff of about 12 reporters, a news editor, feature editor, circulation editor, three business managers, and three photographers is Paul R. Miller, English and journalism teacher. He also makes the editor-in-chief appointments.

$1.5 Million Claim Is Filed Against Marin

A Sausalito woman filed a $1.5 million claim against the county today, charging that she was committed to a mental institution in 1964 and suffered a heart attack and deterioration of her heart condition.

Tona Cornette, who gives her address as Box 184, Sausalito, says the commitment occurred on Jan. 13, 1964, while she was living at 320 Via Casitas in Greenbrae. She alleges that the commitment "without due process" resulted in her being committed for three years. She names the then Dist. Atty. Roger P. Garety as the county official responsible.

Miss Cornette, an artist, said her commitment came in connection with a divorce action. She alleges that Garety, after resigning from that office, became the attorney for her husband in an attempt to get an annulment for him, but the final action was a divorce for both of them.

The Court today also:

Agreed to hear a Virginia case in which a Negro civil rights organization challenged "freedom of choice" school plans adopted by many southern communities to meet desegregation orders. The National Asssociation for the Advancement of Colored People claimed such plans should be ruled unconstitutional in areas where they result in a slowdown or outright avoidance of integration.

Denied a hearing to J. P. Stevens & Co., a huge textile firm, which has been ordered to reinstate 71 workers on grounds they were illegally fired for union activities.

Held that federal law governs property rights in tidewater lands built up by deposits from the sea over the years. It did so by reversing a Washington State Supreme Court ruling that held that the state constitution prevailed in such claim disputes.

Police Report 'Good Leads' In Slayings

HOLLYWOOD, Fla. (UPI)—Police said today they had a "good lead" in the slaying of two vacationing secretaries whose swimsuit-clad bodies were dumped in Whiskey Creek.

Lt. Fred Rohloff said investigators had learned that both the girls were secretaries working for a firm outside Florida. But he would not name the firm or identify them.

One of the victims was identified by her estranged husband as Mrs. Terry Rae Kent Frank. Billy Frank identified the body yesterday.

The second girl, whom police refused to identify pending confirmation, appeared to be 18 to 20 years old, with shoulder-length auburn hair.

Police yesterday found a bundle of bloodied men's clothing a few miles downstream from where the girls' bodies were found floating feet upward Friday in remote Whiskey Creek. Concrete blocks were tried around their necks when they were found by a fisherman.

the interest, he said.

The loan was unsecured, he said, "because at the time it was thought Consolidated had a tremendous amount of assets."

Epport said he did not know if the loan was obtained to buy the Brazil and Souza ranches.

The church, however, bought the ranches that same week in June, 1965, from John Fell Stevenson of San Francisco.

Fidelity Bank also placed liens against assets held by the plaintiffs in Sacramento, San Berarndino and Los Angeles counties, said Epport.

All 1 were named plaintiffs, he said, "because of reports the land in Marin has been transferred among them."

Epport said he thought the state "no longer was offering to buy the ranches." The state, however, could buy them despite the liens, he said, "and they pay the lien."

Novato Jaycees Plan Aged Tour

The Novato Junior Chamber of Commerce will lead a group of aged persons on a tour of lighted Christmas attractions in the city Dec. 20.

The elderly will be from London House and Novato Manor convalescent hospitals and social groups, project chairman Robert D. Anderson said. Hours of the tour will be 7 p.m. to 9 p.m.

Sanctuary Statement Explained

The recent offer of sanctuary to conscientious objectors against the draft is intended "not to avoid arrest, but to proclaim the arrest as a moral confrontation with present laws and polices,' the session of St. Andrew United Presbyterian Church in Marin City has announced.

The offered sanctuary is not to hide lawbreakers, but to "proclaim the presence" of men opposing what they consider unjust laws, according to a letter signed by the church ministers, Donald Schilling and James Symons, and by Charles Donaldson, clerk of the session.

AROUSES PROTEST

The church's offer of sanctuary aroused protest, some within the church, primarily based on the ground the church was encouraging lawbreakers.

"In counseling young men troubled by the war and the draft," the letter states, "we do not encourage them to resist, and we make clear the penalties resisters will probably suffer. We do intend to support those who, with full knowledge of the penalties, decide to resist."

SESSION WORDS

According to the letter, the session does not oppose all war but opposes the Vietnam war because of its illegality, disruptive effect on the world community, inhumanity and dissipation of the nation's resources.

"We are fully in support of . . . the democratic process," the letter states. "The democratic process is furthered by the clear presentation of alternatives . . . we are ready and eager to discuss the reasons and intent behind our offering of sanctuary with all men of good will."

The session, or ruling body of the church, Symons said, was not speaking for the congregation but for itself and to the congregation.

RCA Strike Will Move To Hearing

The dispute between the Radio Corporation of America and the International Brotherhood of Teamsters — which has placed 113 Marin workers on the unemployed list — will move into the legal field tomorrow.

Back pay and $300,000 damages plus court costs will be sought by the union in a suit to be filed in State Superior Court, according to Paul West, public information officer for Local 9 for American Communications Association, an affiliate of the teamsters.

Since the union's contract expired Nov. 31, members say they have been locked out of company premises. They include 63 workers at RCA's transmitting station at Bolinas, its receiving station at Point Reyes and KPH marine radio at Inverness.

Another 50 Marin residents are RCA employees in San Francisco.

Their suit will ask for $125 for each of the employees, said West. This would be salary from Dec. 1 to Dec. 6.

West said the union was making arrangements to picket the private homes of those supervisory personnel who were helping RCA carry on its operations.

In the meantime, pickets were continuing to operate outside the Marin installations. A company spokesman said Wednesday the stations were operating normally.

WAR

Communists who tried to storm their gun post. The fighting was so close that a U.S. sergeant strangled one Communist.

A captured North Vietnamese major said, "These troops were under the influence of heroin. When you take it, you don't feel anything when you get hit. You have no sense of pain."

In the air, U.S. Air Force and Marine jets flew 83 missions yesterday through monsoon clouds against targets in North Vietnam.

It was reported from the carrier Ranger that the current weather has given Hanoi a breather from attacks, thus enabling the Communists to repair damage or get supplies moving southward.

However, Vice Admiral William F. Bringle said that as soon the weather breaks, even for a short period, "we'll have to go in and restrike, probably some of the areas we have already hit."

On another front it was reported South Vietnamese troops have begun taking over from U.S. Marines the burden of manning the "McNamara Line" just below the North-South Vietnam border.

Government troops now occupy the hilltop post called A-1, the eastern anchor of a string of Marine bases holding back what U.S. intelligence estimates as three North Vietnamese divisions.

More South Vietnamese troops are scheduled to occupy the other Leatherneck forts later. The Marines will fall back into reserve positions, ready to spring back to the line when needed.

The border area has been the scene of some of the war's bloodiest fighting.

Youth Is Hit Crossing 101

A 14-year-old Mill Valley boy suffered a fractured leg and cut lip Saturday when he ran across Highway 101 and was struck by an oncoming car on the Sausalito lateral.

Daulat-Rai Mantravadi, 14, of 30-C Villa Drive, Mill Valley, got off a bus at 10:20 p.m., near the entrance to Fort Baker, and started running across the highway. He was hit by a northbound car driven by Woodruff Fisher Strebeigh, 45, of Sausalito Yacht Harbor, according to the California Highway Patrol.

The boy was taken by the Sausalito Fire Department ambulance to Marin General Hospital where he was reported in good condition today.

Safety Of City Hall On Agenda

An analysis of the structural safety of Fairfax City Hall and firehouse will be presented to the City Council today at 8 p.m. in the Women's Club, 46 Park Road.

State engineers last month found the buildings to be in poor shape, and the council asked Engle and Engle, San Rafael structural engineers, to determine if the buildings could survive an earthquake.

Also on the agenda is an application for a special use permit from Joseph A. Perkins to operate a tropical and marine fish and pet supply wholesale store at 117 Mono Avenue.

To Face Charges

Charles Baldi, 18, of 127 Ross Street, San Rafael, accused of burgling Belvedere Villa Apartments and Mac's Disco of San Rafael, was certified to juvenile court yesterday to face charges.

Sanctuary Statement Explained

The recent offer of sanctuary to conscientious objectors against the draft is intended "not to avoid arrest, but to proclaim the arrest as a moral confrontation with present laws and policies,' the session of St. Andrew United Presbyterian Church in Marin City has announced.

The offered sanctuary is not to hide lawbreakers, but to "proclaim the presence" of men opposing what they consider unjust laws, according to a letter signed by the church ministers, Donald Schilling and James Symons, and by Charles Donaldson, clerk of the session.

AROUSES PROTEST

The church's offer of sanctuary aroused protest, some within the church, primarily based on the ground the church was encouraging lawbreakers.

"In counseling young men troubled by the war and the draft," the letter states, "we do not encourage them to resist, and we make clear the penalties resisters will probably suffer. We do intend to support those who, with full knowledge of the penalties, decide to resist."

SESSION WORDS

According to the letter, the session does not oppose all war but opposes the Vietnam war because of its illegality, disruptive effect on the world community, inhumanity and dissipation of the nation's resources.

"We are fully in support of . . . the democratic process," the letter states. "The democratic process is furthered by the clear presentation of alternatives . . . we are ready and eager to discuss the reasons and intent behind our offering of sanctuary with all men of good will."

The session, or ruling body of the church, Symons said, was not speaking for the congregation but for itself and to the congregation.

RCA Strike Will Move To Hearing

The dispute between the Radio Corporation of America and the International Brotherhood of Teamsters — which has placed 113 Marin workers on the unemployed list — will move into the legal field tomorrow.

Back pay and $300,000 damages plus court costs will be sought by the union in a suit to be filed in State Superior Court, according to Paul West, public information officer for Local 9 for American Communications Association, an affiliate of the teamsters.

Since the union's contract expired Nov. 31, members say they have been locked out of company premises. They include 63 workers at RCA's transmitting station at Bolinas, its receiving station at Point Reyes and KPH marine radio at Inverness.

Another 50 Marin residents are RCA employees in San Francisco.

Their suit will ask for $125 for each of the employees, said West. This would be salary from Dec. 1 to Dec. 6.

West said the union was making arrangements to picket the private homes of those supervisory personnel who were helping RCA carry on its operations.

In the meantime, pickets were continuing to operate outside the Marin installations. A company spokesman said Wednesday the stations were operating normally.

WAR

Communists who tried to storm their gun post. The fighting was so close that a U.S. sergeant strangled one Communist.

A captured North Vietnamese major said, "These troops were under the influence of heroin. When you take it, you don't feel anything when you get hit. You have no sense of pain."

In the air, U.S Air Force and Marine jets flew 83 missions yesterday through monsoon clouds against targets in North Vietnam.

It was reported from the carrier Ranger that the current weather has given Hanoi a breather from attacks, thus enabling the Communists to repair damage or get supplies moving southward.

However, Vice Admiral William F. Bringle said that as soon the weather breaks, even for a short period, "we'll have to go in and restrike, probably some of the areas we have already hit."

On another front it was reported South Vietnamese troops have begun taking over from U.S. Marines the burden of manning the "McNamara Line" just below the North-South Vietnam border.

Government troops now occupy the hilltop post called A-1, the eastern anchor of a string of Marine bases holding back what U.S. intelligence estimates as three North Vietnamese divisions.

More South Vietnamese troops are scheduled to occupy the other Leatherneck forts later. The Marines will fall back into reserve positions, ready to spring back to the line when needed.

The border area has been the scene of some of the war's bloodiest fighting.

Youth Is Hit Crossing 101

A 14-year-old Mill Valley boy suffered a fractured leg and cut lip Saturday when he ran across Highway 101 and was struck by an oncoming car on the Sausalito lateral.

Daulat-Rai Mantravadi, 14, of 30-C Villa Drive, Mill Valley, got off a bus at 10:20 p.m., near the entrance to Fort Baker, and started running across the highway. He was hit by a northbound car driven by Woodruff Fisher Strebeigh, 45, of Sausalito Yacht Harbor, according to the California Highway Patrol.

The boy was taken by the Sausalito Fire Department ambulance to Marin General Hospital where he was reported in good condition today.

Safety Of City Hall On Agenda

An analysis of the structural safety of Fairfax City Hall and firehouse will be presented to the City Council today at 8 p.m. in the Women's Club, 46 Park Road.

State engineers last month found the buildings to be in poor shape, and the council asked Engle and Engle, San Rafael structural engineers, to determine if the buildings could survive an earthquake.

Also on the agenda is an application for a special use permit from Joseph A. Perkins to operate a tropical and marine fish and pet supply wholesale store at 117 Mono Avenue.

To Face Charges

Charles Baldi, 18, of 127 Ross Street, San Rafael, accused of burgling Belvedere Villa Apartments and Mac's Disco of San Rafael, was certified to juvenile court yesterday to face charges.

HERSHEY TALKS—Lt. Gen. Lewis B. Hershey, the controversial 74-year-old boss of the draft, claims the Justice Department's plan to prosecute protesters of the draft offers a choice rather than a substitute for reclassification and priority call-up. New statements brought Hershey's comments yesterday from his home in Bethesda, Md. (AP Wirephoto)

New Antidraft Statements Held 'Smokescreen' Tactics

WASHINGTON (UPI) —The Justice Department's plan to set up a special unit to speed prosecution of those who violate draft laws left it unclear today just who would be affected and how.

Despite a joint weekend statement by Atty. Gen. Ramsey Clark and Draft Director Lewis B. Hershey, differences appeared to remain as to just what violations would bring prosecution and who would do the prosecuting.

A spokesman said that earlier Justice Department statements opposing immediate induction into the armed services as a means of curbing protests still stood.

But Hershey gave no sign of withdrawing his controversial Oct. 26 letter to the nation's local draft boards, recommending just such treatment for student demonstrators who violate draft laws.

The National Student Association said it would seek an injunction against enforcement of the Hershey directive. NSA president Edward Schwartz termed the Hershey-Clark announcement Saturday "a smokescreen" which left students unsure of their Constitutional rights to take part in demonstrations.

He contended that while the Hershey directive "remains in force, the injunction which we seek remains absolutely essential."

The Hershey-Clark statement said that "lawful protest activities, whether directed at the draft or other national issues, do not subject registrants to acceleration (that is, immediate induction) or any other special administrative action by the Selective Service System."

This appeared to contrast sharply with Hershey's October letter, but the draft director insisted that it represented no change in his position, only a "clarification" of the letter.

The Justice Department was equally certain the statement reflected no change in its basic position, which was that those who illegally interfere with the draft or military recruiting are subject to criminal prosecution, not immediate induction into service. Only those who violate the draft law (by failing to carry a draft card, for example, or not showing up for a physical) are subject to immediate call-up.

But apparently Hershey did not entirely agree with this interpretation. And neither did the National Student Association.

School District Over-Ride Tax Discussion Set

The San Rafael Board of Education is scheduled tomorrow to renew discussion of an over-ride tax for school improvements and consider sale of a parking lot owned by the district at Third and E Streets.

The meeting will be at 7:30 p.m. in the district offices.

At the Oct. 28 meeting, the board asked Supt. John F. Plank to determine whether an over-ride tax of 10 cents per $100 of assessed valuation would meet the need to replace Short School and make repairs at Laurel Dell Primary School and the high school gymnasium. The buildings thus would be brought up to state earthquake resistance standards.

Plank said the board will decide whether to offer the parking lot for bid at a minimum of $40,000. The board has been notified persons leasing the property for parking intend to cancel the agreement, Plank said.

Driver Injured

Thomas E. Elliott, 29, of 80 Hawthorne Drive, Tiburon, was treated Saturday at Marin General Hospital for facial cuts and a broken nose suffered when his car hit an exit sign on Highway 101 at the Alto Wye. Elliott said he fell asleep at the wheel, the California Highway Patrol reported.

First Industrial Nuclear Blast Success Is Awaited

FARMINGTON, N.M. (AP) — Scientists seek today to determine whether the first industrial nuclear explosion will render new wealth from the bowels of the earth.

A thermonuclear device was exploded 4,240 feet below the earth's crust yesterday. Preliminary indications were that the explosion, called Project Gasbuggy, had done its job by creating a huge subterranean chamber from which natural gas can be recovered, spokesmen said.

NO RADIATION

Dr. Robert H. Thalgott, Gasbuggy deputy project manager for the Atomic Energy Commission, told newsmen at a briefing after the blast that no radioactivity had escaped from the ground and none was expected to.

Dr. Harry Reynolds, a scientific advisor for Gasbuggy, said there was reason to believe that an underground chamber 160 feet in diameter and as tall as a 35-story building had been created 3,500 feet below ground zero.

DRILLING TODAY

The AEC said drilling into the chamber begins today, although no substantial evidence on whether the nuclear stimulation concept really worked is expected for several weeks or months.

Scientists estimate the nation's natural gas reserves will be doubled if nuclear blasts are found to be a feasible way to free gas from underground rock formations.

The nuclear device, which had an explosive punch estimated as equivalent to 20,000 to 30,000 tons of TNT, was detonated in the Picture Cliffs formation of the gas-bearing San Juan Basin.

Windows rattled in Farmington, 55 miles to the west. Newsmen and others, at an observation sight five miles from the detonation point, felt the sharp shock wave which thundered under the northwest New Mexico hills.

SERVICE HIT

Telephone service at the site was interrupted when equipment was shaken out of place. AEC spokesmen said the ground at the observation site heaved one-third of an inch, while the shock was described as far more severe at Gasbuggy control complex, two and one-half miles from the detonation point.

"We were rising in the air," one scientist at the complex reported.

Joint sponsors who have been working four years on the $4.7 million Gasbuggy Project include the AEC, El Paso Natural Gas Co. and the U.S. Bureau of Mines.

Special Session For Awarding Dixie Contract

Trustees of the Dixie School District will meet in special session at 8 p.m. Wednesday to award a contract to build a $132,000 addition to Vallecito School.

The meeting will be held in the administration office at 35 Trellis drive, Terra Linda.

The trustees will consider 13 bids for the job, which were opened Thursday afternoon in the office of Supt. Dennie B. Willis.

Low bid of $132,000 came from Todd Construction Co. of Santa Rosa. The bids ranged to a high of $144,296.

Three science classrooms, a language laboratory, physical education instructional center, conference rooms and lavatory facilities will be added to the school.

Beer-Wine License Request Is Rejected

SACRAMENTO (CNS) — The state Department of Alcoholic Beverage Control has denied an application from Mannings, Inc., for an on-sale beer and wine license for the Hansa House, 3200 Northgate Shopping Center Mall, San Rafael.

The department said the applicant was not the sole party in interest in the business to be licensed.

Surburban Robberies Reported Up

WASHINGTON (AP) — A 60 per cent jump in bank robberies outpaced a general nationwide increase in violent crimes during the first nine months of this year, the Federal Bureau of Investigation reported today.

A citizen's risk of becoming the victim of crime rose 14 per cent over the corresponding period last year, the FBI said in reporting that violent crimes as a group increased 15 per cent. Robberies were up 27 per cent, murders rose 16 per cent, aggravated assault increased 9 per cent and forcible rape 7 per cent.

The report, based on information from local and state police agencies, showed the highest percentage increase—17 per cent—in suburban communities. Big cities registered an overall 15 per cent crime rise and rural areas 12 per cent.

Regionally the crime trends showed increases of 14 per cent in Southern states, 15 per cent in Western states, 17 per cent in the North Central area and 18 per cent in the Northeast.

Girls Booked; Then Released

Four Mill Valley girls were booked in Juvenile Hall Saturday, one of them for investigation of marijuana possession and the others for curfew violation, then released to their parents.

Larkspur police siad the four, two aged 17 and the other two, sisters, aged 14 and 16, were halted at 2:45 a.m. in a car driven by one of the 17-year-old girls.

They said two small plastic bags containing what appeared to be residue of marijuana were found in the car, along with a pipe that apparently is used for smoking a narcotic.

Probation officers said today no charges have been filed pending further investigation.

Novato Golf Proposals Due Council

A report by the two councilmen serving on its golf committee will be given to the Novato City Council when it meets at 8 p.m. tomorrow in the Community House.

Councilmen Harley McAskill and M. E. Babe Silva studied the proposition of the Hanna Trust to construct a golf course and club house, on land east of Highway 101 and north of Highway 37, and lease it to the city on a 50-year lease.

The council will consider whether or not to raise the city employees' salaries. In the past this has been done the first of each year instead of at budget time.

The council will also accept the Diablo-DeLong project as completed. It will name one of its members to represent the city on the city-county planning council. It must also decide whether or not to meet on Dec. 26.

Reports Car Stolen

Theft of her 1965 blue Dodge Dart two-door sedan, license MLX 400, while parked unlocked Thursday evening at Strawberry Town and Country Village Shopping Center, was reported to sheriff's deputies by Corinne L. Olney, 5 Cherne Lane, San Anselmo. It was taken at about 9:15 p.m. while she was in a nearby restaurant, she said.

Save a second. Spoil a life.

Car theft is often the first offense that later turns a boy into a full-time criminal. A lot of the fault is yours. You make car theft so easy. (Last year 76% of stolen cars were left unlocked; nearly half also had ignition keys in them.) Quite a temptation. You realize how great this temptation is when you know that 64% of people arrested for car theft are under 18. When you carelessly walk away from your unlocked car, you may be avoiding a 10-second job, but starting someone on a 10-year sentence.

Don't help a good boy go bad. Lock your car. Take your keys.

Postal Savings Accounts No Longer Earn Interest

postal savings account, pick up your money now because it no longer is earning interest, the Post Office Department warns.

Postal savings accounts once held through Marin post offices have been transferred to San Francisco since the postal savings plan was abolished June 30. Accounts which once earned 2 per cent interest now are making no interest.

Postal authorities in Marin and San Francisco could give no estimate of how many Marinites still have money in the accounts, but said a list of names of account holders would be published after Christmas.

In the nation, the Treasury Department reported there is $38 million in unclaimed deposits.

Apartment In Marin City Hit

Sheriff's deputies arrived moments after burglars had ransacked the apartment of Mrs. Betty Smith, 49 Cole Drive Apt. 21, Marin City shortly after 10 p.m. last night.

Mrs. Smith called at 10:07 p.m. to report the burglary in progress, with the burglars inside her apartment, her outside and the door locked.

Deputies arrived and entered to find the burglars gone. Missing were a .22 caliber pistol, several skirts and sweaters and some personal papers.

The papers were found, partly burned, at 11:35 p.m. when a patroling deputy found them in a fire in a vacant lot on Cole Drive.

Belvedere Hit By A Power Failure

Belvedere lights were blacked out Saturday at 5:50 p.m., due to a power failure.

Service on streets and residential lights in the city was restored by the Pacific Gas and Electric Co. at 6:35 p.m., according to Leonard O. Roberiston, PG&E district electrical superintendent.

Marin Driver Booked On Several Charges

Jeffrey R. Shelton, 19, of 50 Merrydale Road, Apt. 3, San Rafael, was booked into the county jail Saturday by the California Highway Patrol on suspicion of making unsafe lane changes, disturbing the peace and resisting arrest, while driving a friend to the hospital.

Officer Dean P. Fogh reported he first noticed Shelton's car at 9:05 p.m., heading south on Highway 101, from the San Rafael Second Street on-ramp.

Because of speed and abrupt lane changes, Fogh pursued the car to the Sir Francis Drake Boulevard off-ramp, stopped it and was told by Shelton that he was taking his passenger, an unidentified girl, to the hospital. Fogh told Shelton to proceed and followed him, joined by motorcycle officer John K. Campion.

When he reached Marin General Hospital, Shelton was cited by Fogh for his driving and then began to use "loud and abusive language within hearing of patients in their hospital rooms," Fogh reported.

Shelton refused to sign his citation and was arrested, whereupon he kicked and shoved the officer, Fogh said.

After he was booked at 9:40 p.m., Fogh said he found Shelton had in his possession a facsimile of a driver's license and an altered driver's license, so was given another citation for those two charges.

Released on bail of $1,113, Shelton was set to appear Wednesday in Marin Municipal Court.

Plan Is Linked To Communism

WASHINGTON (AP) — The question of whether the Morgenthau plan to turn post-war Germany into an agrarian state was Communist inspired has been raised in a study published by the Senate internal security subcommittee.

The study recalls that the Morgenthau plan was written by Harry Dexter White, a wartime Treasury official who later was portrayed in congressional hearings as a Communist spy. The study does not answer the question of whether the plan was dictated to White by the Soviet Union.

White denied accusations against him before a House committee in 1948. He was found dead from an overdose of sleeping pills a few days later.

King Saud's Nephew Injured In Accident

SANTA BARBARA (AP) — Faisel Al Saud, 26, nephew of King Saud of Saudi Arabia, was seriously injured yesterday when his sports car went over a cliff near Santa Barbara and split in two.

The California Highway Patrol said Saud, an exchange student, suffered a broken shoulder, broken ribs and a skull fracture.

First Sighting In 71 Years

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Maui Nukupuu, "a small perching bird with a long down-curving bill and a tubular tongue for extracting nectar," has been seen for the first time in 71 years, the Interior Department reports.

The bird—bearer of the scientific name of Hemignathus Lucidus Effinus—was sighted flitting through the Kipahulu Valley of Maui Island, Hawaii, by an expedition co-sponsored by the Interior department and Nature Conservancy.

The department says it will attempt to acquire the 9,600-acre Haleakala area on the island as a wildlife sanctuary to preserve the near-extinct Maui Nukupuu and other rare local species.

Officials Are Stymied Over Nurse Slaying

Marin County Sheriff's officers today conceded they were stymied over the murder of blonde nurse Barbara Jane Parkin, 34, whose bullet-riddled body was found Friday at McClure's Beach at the north end of Point Reyes National Seashore.

Inspector Guido V. Battaglia said: "We don't have much to go on yet. We are contacting friends and relatives and piecing a few clues together."

The body of Miss Parkin, who lived in an apartment in Berkeley, was found, fully clothed, wedged under a tree at the base of a half-mile-long trail leading to the beach from a parking lot.

A coroner's autopsy put time of death at late Wednesday night or early Thursday. There were about 10 gunshot wounds in the body.

A car, identified as belonging to the victim, was found in the beach parking lot. Battaglia said a rancher reported he saw it there about 10 a.m. Thursday but it wasn't there Wednesday when he passed by.

"The tide had washed away all footprints from the scene except those of the fisherman and his wife who found the body," said the inspector.

Residents Routed By A Bomb Report

MONTE RIO (UPI) — Several hundred residents and visitors were routed from this Russian River community of 900 persons yesterday by a bomb hoax.

A man told the sheriff's office by phone at 3 p.m. that there was "a bomb under a store in Monte Rio." A three-hour search failed to reveal a bomb.

Romney In London

LONDON (AP)—Gov. George Romney arrived today for two days of talks with British leaders and said he expects "to get the British viewpoint on a number of matters—Vietnam, international monetary affairs, European-American problems and the Common Market."

The candidate for the Republican presidential nomination came from Paris, the first stop on a world tour.

Man Fined $25 In Lot Incident

William Watt Ellingsen, 32, of 100 Beach Road, Belvedere, was fined $25 and placed on a year of probation by Municipal Judge Alvin H. Goldstein Friday after pleading guilty to disturbing the peace.

Ellingsen was originally charged with resisting arrest after Tiburon sheriff's deputies answered a call of a woman reportedly being beaten up in the Corinthian Yacht Club parking lot Oct. 18.

He pleaded guilty to disturbing the peace of Diane Bartell, of the Beach Road address, who was with him that day.

Immense deposits of phosphate have been found on the Ocean Island in the south Pacific.

Warning Against Fraudulent Mediums

NEW YORK (AP) — A minister who believes the spirit world "may be closer than we think" warned his congregation yesterday against fraudulent mediums.

Rev. Dr. John Sutherland Bonnell, pastor emeritus of the Fifth Avenue Presbyterian Church, said it would be a mistake to assume that all mediums—intermediaries between the living and the dead—were fraudulent.

A Soft Landing

BOCHUM, Germany (AP) — The Bochum satellite observatory announced today that the Soviet Cosmos 194 had made a soft-landing in the Soviet Union today. The launching of the unmanned satellite was announced Dec. 3.

CROSSED SWORDS — Marin Capt. Charles Robb and his bride, the former Lynda Johnson, walk under the crossed swords of Marines after their marriage Saturday in the White House. (AP Wirephoto)

The Robbs Slip Away To Honeymoon Island

CHARLOTTE AMALIE, V.I. (AP) — President Johnson's daughter Lynda and his new son-in-law honeymooned today in the privacy of one of the Virgin Island's most exclusive resorts after the first White House wedding in 53 years.

Lynda and Marine Capt. Charles S. Robb spent their wedding night at the White House, then slipped aboard a commercial airline yesterday afternoon and flew to San Juan, P.R. A private plane took them to St. Thomas, and then they had a 15-minute boat ride to St. John, three miles east of St. Thomas, where they are staying at the Caneel Bay Plantation.

HAWAII RUMOR

A rumor persisted that the couple would go on to Hawaii, but there was no confirmation. Robb has leave from his military duties until Dec. 29.

Both Lynda and her mother have visited at the Caneel Bay home of millionaire Laurence S. Rockefeller, who has developed the northeast tip of the nine-mile-long island as an exclusive resort.

While the newlyweds relaxed in the Caribbean, Mrs. Johnson planned to fly to Texas today to join the President at their ranch. He flew down Saturday night after the wedding, saying he was "very tired."

Robb's family, from Milwaukee, held a big reunion yesterday at an inn near Winchester, Va., attended by his 83-year-old grandmother, Mrs. Harvey J. Sims, and 59 other relatives.

The White House bustled with workmen changing from wedding to Christmas decorations. They had plenty of red and white flowers, holly, mistletoe and other evergreens left from the wedding.

TREE GOES UP

The traditional floor-to-ceiling Christmas tree was being installed in the Blue Room, where the bridal couple and their parents greeted guests with hugs, kisses and handshakes after the ceremony.

In the place of the wedding altar in the East Room, a creche with a Nativity scene was being installed.

Requests For Ferry Study To Be Viewed

Requests from Marin Transit District and San Francisco that Golden Gate Bridge and Highway District join in a study of a ferry system will be considered at a joint meeting of the bridge district's commuters' affairs and new San Francisco-Marin crossing committees on Friday at 10:30 a.m. in the administration building at the toll booth plaza.

The bridge district's attorney, Jerome B. White, already has ruled that the district cannot participate in the study. Director Thomas D. Hardcastle, who called the meeting, has proposed legislation to permit the district to share the cost of the study.

Employment In Bay Area Up

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI) — Employment in the San Francisco-Oakland metropolitan area reached 1,330,700 during November, according to State Director of Employment Peter Weinberger.

Weinberger said Sunday the total was the highest for any November on record, up 38,500 or 3 per cent from 1966. All major sectors except agriculture showed job gains.

He said unemployment was down from November 1966 with a seasonally adjusted rate of 4 per cent, well below last year's 4.5 per cent. The jobless total was 55,400.

Roving combine crews annually move northward through Kansas, Nebraska, the Dakotas and into Canada to harvest the wheat crop.

Welfare Cut May Keep Taxes Down

SACRAMENTO (AP) — California must cut its spending in such areas as welfare and Medi-Cal if a tax increase is to be avoided in 1968, Finance Director Gordon P. Smith told legislators today.

In a background letter on state finances sent to all 120 legislators, Smith declared "The state can no longer go on spending and taxing, spending and taxing without concern for the taxpayers."

He specifically pointed to public assistance area spending, which includes aid to the blind, disabled, aged, medically needy and children of unemployed parents.

"Unless these costs can be brought under control, California faces successively mounting budget totals and further tax increases for each of the mediate years ahead," Smith wrote.

He added, "It is imperative . . . that the soaring escalation of these programs be brought within sensible bounds of our ability to finance them."

Smith said that the expenditures on education also are rising rapidly, but said that was a good investment. Nonetheless, he said, the success of getting enough money for education "depends on the effectiveness of our ability to cut as deeply as possible in other expenditure areas."

The finance director was sharply critical of the public assistance programs passed in recent years by a coalition of Republican and Democratic legislators.

He said California's population grew by 11 per cent from 1960 to 1963, but public aid went up 37 per cent. Since 1963, the population has increased by 14 per cent, but "the state's bill for public assistance shot up 168 per cent! We can't afford it!" Smith declared.

GALLUP POLL

Americans Against Expanding Viet War

PRINCETON, N.J. (UPI)— A Gallup Poll indicates the majority of Americans are opposed to expanding the Vietnam War into North Vietnam.

The poll released yesterday showed that 44 per cent of those questioned were against the United States carrying the war to the north and 39 per cent favored doing so. Seventeen per cent had no opinion.

The survey was conducted in 1,583 households throughout the country by the polling concern of George Gallup, director of the American Institute of Public Opinion.

Many of those polled expressed fear that Communist China might enter the conflict. Asked if they thought China would do so if North Vietnam showed signs of collapsing, 49 per cent said yes, 36 per cent no and 15 per cent had no opinion.

Only 19 per cent of those polled believed the war would end in an all-out victory for the United States. Sixty-five per cent said they believed the conflict would end with a compromise peace settlement.

Four per cent said they believed the war would end with the defeat of U.S. troops. Twelve per cent had no opinion about how it would end.

Youths Quizzed In Store Thefts

Two youths were questioned by police Saturday in separate petty thefts from Montgomery Ward and Co. in Corte Madera Shopping Center.

A 16-year-old San Rafael boy allegedly took a $2.50 knife from the store about 2 p.m. He was cited to the juvenile probation office. The other youth took a pair of new pants about 3:30 p.m. after telling a clerk he wanted to try them on for size, officers said.

He was released to his parents pending further investigation.

Malaysia's Navy To Get New Ship

NEW YORK (AP) — City Traffic Commissioner Henry A. Barnes says hiking the fines for traffic violations just isn't working, explaining that "it has been common practice in New York for many years to just ignore traffic tickets."

Barnes told an interviewer on the WNBC-TV "Searchlight" program Sunday that there were just as many parking violations today as there were before fines here were tripled in some instances, effective Dec. 1.

The commissioner suggested that increased fines won't clear up traffic congestion unless a more efficient system of collecting the fines is developed. He also urged that no driver be allowed to renew his license unless he has paid traffic tickets.

Supervisors Due Progress Report On Mount Tam Land

A progress report on the state's negotiation for the Brazil and Souza ranches for addition to Mount Tamalpais State Park will be given to the Marin County Board of Supervisors tomorrow.

An oral report from the county counsel on the status of the property is scheduled for 10 a.m. The county administrator may also touch on the subject during his oral report at 9 a.m.

The County Redevelopment Agency will ask the supervisors for an ordinance to increase the agency's five-man commission to seven members.

The controversial mobile home development by Paul Sade on 50 acres of land at 300 Olive Avenue in Novato is set for a hearing in the afternoon.

Bids for construction of the proposed veterans memorial auditorium also will be opened at the meeting. County officials hope that the bids will come in low enough to make construction possible.

Youngsters Learning To Run Businesses

PLANNING — Kathie Paulist, vice president in charge of sales, talks selling to Junior Achievement company president Tom Bertolli. Teen-agers form their own business and plan it from the beginning to get experience in raising capital and getting products on the market.

Teen-Agers Have Tough Assignments

By JOHN F. KEARNEY

The 20 or so youngsters who crowded into rooms at a downtown San Rafael recreation center were not there just for fun.

They were meeting to run a company to strict, professional business standards — to eliminate the problems and pain of marketing a letter opener and nylon muffs and to reap the profits, if any.

This was not to say, of course, that the teen-agers were not having fun. For there's a place for humor midst the bustle of any firm. . . especially when business is good.

"If running a business is like this, it's a lot of fun," said Tom Bertolli, 16-year-old Marin Catholic High School student and president of the Paslo Co.

The name of the company will not be found in a business directory but it is real just the same. Paslo is one of six miniature companies organized as part of the Junior Achievement program for Marin.

Young people if high school age are being given an opportunity to gain valuable and practical pre-business experience by organizing and operating their own small scale businesses.

The teen-agers meet once a week for the company's life-span of 30 weeks and are helped over the initial hurdles of being-your-own-boss by adult advisers, usually experts in the field of production, business and sales.

From the beginning, the young businessmen and women are involved in the decisions.

They decide the name of the company and what they will market. Common stock is issued — raising capital of between $150 and $250 — and each member buys a $1 share, making them shareholders with a power to vote.

Chief executives are elected but terms last only half the life of the company to give other youngsters chance at responsibility.

In the case of Paslo, the youthful company decided to market nylon puffs as a Christmas item and a more permanent gold plated letter opener with handles of teakwood taken from the deck of the old battleship U.S.S. Maryland.

Company president Bertolli estimated that with labor costs, materials and overheads — including the weekly rental of San Rafael Recreation Center — the letter openers will manufacture for $1.44 each and sell for $1.90, plus 10 cents tax.

"That is, if we manage to turn out at least 20 a night," he added, looking around at his staff, which was busy polishing the handles, putting the knives together and packaging them. "I think we're making the schedule okay."

Paslo was fortunate to get the ship handles already cut. Junior Achievement of San Francisco, the area headquarters, obtained them from a local businessman who found he couldn't market the idea himself profitably.

In another room at the center the same night, a company calling itself A.B. Co. was busily working on a burglar alarm.

On most other evenings during the week, miniature business work producing such things as a Christmas tree stand, custom jerseys and boudoir baskets.

Once the items are made, some are sold to stores, although Junior Achievement prefers its trainees to sell door-to-door.

"It's one way of getting the young people out to meet the customers face to face," said Ed Koenig, an adviser with Paslo from Northwestern Pacific Railroad.

Other advisers are Ralph Simmons, William Harper and Marie Telegin, all of NWP.

Koenig was a junior achiever in his young days and when he heard NWP was a sponsor of a company, volunteered for a job as adviser.

"We're all volunteers and give up our time for the J.A. because we like it," he said. "I only wish the junior company of which I was a member had the enthusiasm and ambition of these kids."

Present manager of the Marin program is William Henderson, and executive director trainee with the nation-wide Junior Achievement Inc.

He said all financing for Marin and other county programs came through the area headquarters in San Francisco. Since the Marin programs started in 1965, growth has been steady until now a total of 120 junior achievers get a taste of business each year.

Meanwhile, back in Paslo's company headquarters, the talk was of profits.

"Business looks good so we'll probably be declaring a 10-cent dividend on each $1 share, if all goes well," said president Bertolli.

He receives a salary of $3.50 for his 15-week term of office, while other executive officers get $3. Members-at-large gross 20 cents an hour.

"Profit is not the ultimate motive," said adviser Koenig. "The main thing is to teach the kids the rudiments of business."

Other Marin companies sponsoring Junior Achievement businesses are Pacific Telephone Co., Pacific Gas and Electric Co., Crocker-Citizens and Redwood banks, Timmer Realty, Telephone Pioneers of America and Fairchild Semi-Conductor.

PROBLEMS — Adviser Ed Koenig discusses a production problem with Rick Howard, vice president in charge of production. The youthful executives have the same type of responsibility as their adult counterparts. They strive to make a profit but it is practical know-how that counts.

PRODUCTION — Putting the final production together is Leanne Cerruti and Roy Kniveton, two of the company profit-sharing workers who draw a nominal 20 cents an hour. All have a $1 share in their company and work hard to keep the books in the black. (Independent-Journal photos)

Queen Mary Starts Reign In Long Beach

LONG BEACH (UPI) — The blue British ensign signifying the Queen Mary was a reserve ship of the Royal Navy was hauled down for the final time today and the proud name was stricken from the registry of ocean-going vessels.

Her master, John Treasure Jones, was to turn over his last command to the city of Long Beach in dockside ceremonies. He will sail home Jan. 11 on the Queen Elizabeth.

Most of the 800-man crew has been flown back to England. Only about eight old-timers will stay with the ship to act as consultants on renovation of the 31-year-old passenger liner.

The signs of permanency began to appear over the weekend.

Dock workers replaced the mooring hawsers with steel cables and welders joined fresh water pipes from the pier to plumbing aboard the ship.

Ten tons of fresh meat remained in her lockers, condemned because of hoof-and-mouth disease in England. Crewmen who might have worked in the freezer room had their shoes treated with disinfectant.

Plans for renovation called for the Qeen to be eased into drydock, her huge propellers removed and a sandblast job done on her hull to remove layers of paint and sea growth.

She will be given a gleaming new coat of paint and partitions and bulkheads will be shifted inside to convert her to a floating convention center, hotel and maritime museum.

Hughes Airport Offer Made Interest Free

LAS VEGAS (UPI) — Howard Hughes has offered to build a supersonic jet transport airport for the Las Vegas area and let the county purchase it interest free.

The mystery billionaire said he would not expect to make a profit on the deal and suggested work begin immediately. Hughes made the offer in his latest in a series of public statements which was delivered to news media yesterday in typewritten form.

The industrialist apparently sought to counter published statements attributed to an unidentified Clark County commissioner which questioned Hughes' motives for wanting to build an SST facility and trade it for McCarran Airport.

McCarran Airport is the largest and only commercial airport in Southern Nevada and is located at the end of the Las Vegas Strip.

"I only proposed to trade off the new airport for the old," Hughes said in the statement, "because I did not think the county would want the expense or the capital investment of two airports.

"But in case anyone thinks I have secret information disclosing that someone left a package of diamonds behind in one of the lockers at McCarran Airport, or something along that line, I will gladly give the county the option of buying the new airport at its cost instead of exchanging McCarran field for it.

"And in this event, the cost will contain no profit, or fee of any kind, also no interest for the use of the funds involved."

McNamara To Bypass Brussels Conference

WASHINGTON (AP) — Secretary of Defense Robert S. McNamara will stay in Washington to work on the 1969 defense program and budget and will not attend the NATO ministerial meeting in Brussels, the Pentagon has announced.

Deputy Defense Secretary Paul H. Nitze will attend the meeting in McNamara's place. The Pentagon said McNamara was remaining in Washington "at the request of the President."

Highway Walker Struck By Auto; Condition Critical

Arthur M. Shoemaker, 66, of Inverness, was reported in critical condition today in the intensive care unit at Marin General Hospital with internal injuries, head injuries and a fractured pelvis suffered when he was struck by a car while walking on Highway 101 yesterday.

Nels Sorenson Johnson, 84, of Inverness, told California highway patrolmen that his car was heading north on Highway 101 about 30 miles an hour at 5:45 p.m. when he thought he hit something in the darkness. He stopped his car and walked back to find Shemaker lying injured on the road.

The patrol had no explanation why Shoemaker, a tool and die maker for a San Francisco firm, was walking on the highway.

By JOHN F. KEARNEY

The 20 or so youngsters who crowded into rooms at a downtown San Rafael recreation center were not there just for fun.

They were meeting to run a company to strict, professional business standards — to eliminate the problems and pain of marketing a letter opener and nylon muffs and to reap the profits, if any.

This was not to say, of course, that the teen-agers were not having fun. For there's a place for humor midst the bustle of any firm. . . especially when business is good.

"If running a business is like this, it's a lot of fun," said Tom Bertolli, 16-year-old Marin Catholic High School student and president of the Paslo Co.

The name of the company will not be found in a business directory but it is real just the same. Paslo is one of six miniature companies organized as part of the Junior Achievement program for Marin.

Young people if high school age are being given an opportunity to gain valuable and practical pre-business experience by organizing and operating their own small scale businesses.

The teen-agers meet once a week for the company's life-span of 30 weeks and are helped over the initial hurdles of being-your-own-boss by adult advisers, usually experts in the field of production, business and sales.

From the beginning, the young businessmen and women are involved in the decisions.

They decide the name of the company and what they will market. Common stock is issued — raising capital of between $150 and $250 — and each member buys a $1 share, making them shareholders with a power to vote.

Chief executives are elected but terms last only half the life of the company to give other youngsters chance at responsibility.

In the case of Paslo, the youthful company decided to market nylon puffs as a Christmas item and a more permanent gold plated letter opener with handles of teakwood taken from the deck of the old battleship U.S.S. Maryland.

PROBLEMS — Adviser Ed Koenig discusses a production problem with Rick Howard, vice president in charge of production. The youthful executives have the same type of responsibility as their adult counterparts. They strive to make a profit but it is practical know-how that counts.

Company president Bertolli estimated that with labor costs, materials and overheads — including the weekly rental of San Rafael Recreation Center — the letter openers will manufacture for $1.44 each and sell for $1.90, plus 10 cents tax.

"That is, if we manage to turn out at least 20 a night," he added, looking around at his staff, which was busy polishing the handles, putting the knives together and packaging them. "I think we're making the schedule okay."

Paslo was fortunate to get the ship handles already cut. Junior Achievement of San Francisco, the area headquarters, obtained them from a local businessman who found he couldn't market the idea himself profitably.

In another room at the center the same night, a company calling itself A.B. Co. was busily working on a burglar alarm.

On most other evenings during the week, miniature business work producing such things as a Christmas tree stand, custom jerseys and boudoir baskets.

Once the items are made, some are sold to stores, although Junior Achievement prefers its trainees to sell door-to-door.

"It's one way of getting the young people out to meet the customers face to face," said Ed Koenig, an adviser with Paslo from Northwestern Pacific Railroad.

Other advisers are Ralph Simmons, William Harper and Marie Telegin, all of NWP.

Koenig was a junior achiever in his young days and when he heard NWP was a sponsor of a company, volunteered for a job as adviser.

"We're all volunteers and give up our time for the J.A. because we like it," he said. "I only wish the junior company of which I was a member had the enthusiasm and ambition of these kids."

Present manager of the Marin program is William Henderson, and executive director trainee with the nation-wide Junior Achievement Inc.

PRODUCTION — Putting the final production together is Leanne Cerruti and Roy Kniveton, two of the company profit-sharing workers who draw a nominal 20 cents an hour. All have a $1 share in their company and work hard to keep the books in the black. (Independent-Journal photos)

He said all financing for Marin and other county programs came through the area headquarters in San Francisco. Since the Marin programs started in 1965, growth has been steady until now a total of 120 junior achievers get a taste of business each year.

Meanwhile, back in Paslo's company headquarters, the talk was of profits.

"Business looks good so we'll probably be declaring a 10-cent dividend on each $1 share, if all goes well," said president Bertolli.

He receives a salary of $3.50 for his 15-week term of office, while other executive officers get $3. Members-at-large gross 20 cents an hour.

"Profit is not the ultimate motive," said adviser Koenig. "The main thing is to teach the kids the rudiments of business."

Queen Mary Starts Reign In Long Beach

LONG BEACH (UPI) — The blue British ensign signifying the Queen Mary was a reserve ship of the Royal Navy was hauled down for the final time today and the proud name was stricken from the registry of ocean-going vessels.

Her master, John Treasure Jones, was to turn over his last command to the city of Long Beach in dockside ceremonies. He will sail home Jan. 11 on the Queen Elizabeth.

Most of the 800-man crew has been flown back to England. Only about eight old-timers will stay with the ship to act as consultants on renovation of the 31-year-old passenger liner.

The signs of permanency began to appear over the weekend.

Dock workers replaced the mooring hawsers with steel cables and welders joined fresh water pipes from the pier to plumbing aboard the ship.

Ten tons of fresh meat remained in her lockers, condemned because of hoof-and-mouth disease in England. Crewmen who might have worked in the freezer room had their shoes treated with disinfectant.

Plans for renovation called for the Qeen to be eased into drydock, her huge propellers removed and a sandblast job done on her hull to remove layers of paint and sea growth.

She will be given a gleaming new coat of paint and partitions and bulkheads will be shifted inside to convert her to a floating convention center, hotel and maritime museum.

Hughes Airport Offer Made Interest Free

LAS VEGAS (UPI) — Howard Hughes has offered to build a supersonic jet transport airport for the Las Vegas area and let the county purchase it interest free.

The mystery billionaire said he would not expect to make a profit on the deal and suggested work begin immediately. Hughes made the offer in his latest in a series of public statements which was delivered to news media yesterday in typewritten form.

The industrialist apparently sought to counter published statements attributed to an unidentified Clark County commissioner which questioned Hughes' motives for wanting to build an SST facility and trade it for McCarran Airport.

McCarran Airport is the largest and only commercial airport in Southern Nevada and is located at the end of the Las Vegas Strip.

"I only proposed to trade off the new airport for the old," Hughes said in the statement, "because I did not think the county would want the expense or the capital investment of two airports.

"But in case anyone thinks I have secret information disclosing that someone left a package of diamonds behind in one of the lockers at McCarran Airport, or something along that line, I will gladly give the county the option of buying the new airport at its cost instead of exchanging McCarran field for it.

"And in this event, the cost will contain no profit, or fee of any kind, also no interest for the use of the funds involved."

McNamara To Bypass Brussels Conference

WASHINGTON (AP) — Secretary of Defense Robert S. McNamara will stay in Washington to work on the 1969 defense program and budget and will not attend the NATO ministerial meeting in Brussels, the Pentagon has announced.

Deputy Defense Secretary Paul H. Nitze will attend the meeting in McNamara's place. The Pentagon said McNamara was remaining in Washington "at the request of the President."

Highway Walker Struck By Auto; Condition Critical

Arthur M. Shoemaker, 66, of Inverness, was reported in critical condition today in the intensive care unit at Marin General Hospital with internal injuries, head injuries and a fractured pelvis suffered when he was struck by a car while walking on Highway 101 yesterday.

Nels Sorenson Johnson, 84, of Inverness, told California highway patrolmen that his car was heading north on Highway 101 about 30 miles an hour at 5:45 p.m. when he thought he hit something in the darkness. He stopped his car and walked back to find Shemaker lying injured on the road.

The patrol had no explanation why Shoemaker, a tool and die maker for a San Francisco firm, was walking on the highway.

Court Refuses Quentin Death Row Hearing

WASHINGTON (UI) — The U.S. Supreme Court today refused to grant a hearing to Lawrence Glenn Modesto who is on San Quentin Prison's death row for killing two young sisters in Indio.

Modesto, who will be 38 Christmas Day, has been convicted three times of the sledgehammer murder of Connie Mack, 12, and her sister Mary, 9, in October 1961.

Modesto, a laborer from Riverside County, had been drinking beer and was involved in an argument with the girls' father, who played in a nightclub band, the night of the murder.

It is unlikely, however, he will be taken to the gas chamber in the near future.

The California Supreme Court halted all executions Nov. 14 until it can rule on a mass challenge to the constitutionality of the state death penalty.

The court said it will hear arguments early next year.

The United States has as much electric power generating capacity as the next five countries combined: the Soviet Union, the United Kingdom, Japan, West Germany and Canada.

Ronald Lopez, operator of Pacific Studios in San Rafael, failed to appear Friday before a state deputy labor commissioner to answer claims for unpaid wages against the photo studio by former employees.

Deputy Commissioner Leo Ryan said he will consult with the Marin district attorney's office to consider what action will be taken about Lopez and the studio, which operates through telephone solicitation of customers.

It was the second hearing over claims of unpaid wages. In a previous hearing late in November, Lopez had agreed to pay a number of former employees who demanded wages from him, Ryan said. There still were disputes over about six wage claims which Lopez was to have answered at the hearing at 9:30 a.m. Friday at the Civic Center, Ryan said. Lopez did not show up for the hearing, as requested by the labor commissioner.

San Rafael police last week closed the studio at 1203 Third Street because it did not conform to city fire codes and because Lopez, new owner of the studio, did not have a business license under his name.

The studio was reopened Friday, after it was brought up to fire code standards and Lopez applied for a city license under his own name.

Lopez could not be reached for comment today. The telephone of the studio has been disconnected for about a week, a Pacific Telephone Co. operator reported.

San Rafael police reported Lopez, when he obtained his business license on Friday, said he planned to continue to take photo orders through Friday, spend the remainder of the month filling orders, then leave the area.

Toy Re-Label For Diabetic Protection

LOS ANGELES (AP) — The Mattel toy company says it will re-label its new toy candy making machine to protect diabetic children.

The product, Incredible Edibles, contains a liquid substance which can be heated in molds to form a soft candy. The liquid contains an artificial sweetener—not sugar—but has some carbohydrate content.

A spokesman for Mattel Inc., based at Hawthorne, said a large field force of company employees would re-label the toys, which are distributed nationally. Each box will bear a label reading: "Notice to diabetics: If used by anyone having diabetes, the carbohydrate, and caloric content of this product should be included in calculating the day's total intake." The re-labeling is expected to be completed within a few days.

The Mattel spokesman said the product is safe for non-diabetic children.

California produces nearly all the almonds grown in the United States.

60-Day Jail Term Given In Drunk Driving

A man, who was on probation for one drunken driving offense when he committed a second, was sentenced to 60 days in jail Friday by Marin Municipal Judge Alvin H. Goldstein.

Serving the time is Thomas Francis Sweeney of 2250 Juniperberry Drive, Marinwood. The California Highway Patrol arrested him for the second offense May 19, while he was driving on Highway 101.

Six other persons were sentenced in Municipal Court for driving while intoxicated.

Robert Samuel Gott of El Cerrito was fined $115 and placed on six months of probation. The CHP arrested him Oct. 28 on Tiburon Boulevard.

Charles E. Sheehan of Oakland was fined $150 and placed on a year of probation. San Rafael Police arrested him Oct. 29 on Second Street.

Tommy Joe Johnson, 28, of 188 Prospect Drive, San Rafael, was fined $250, ordered to reimburse the City of San Rafael $100 for a damaged street light and placed on probation for two years.

San Rafael police arrested him Sept. 19 after a crash at 1550 Lincoln Avenue. He was originally charged with felony drunken driving.

Myra Cunningham Brammer, 45, of San Francisco, was fined $250 and placed on probation for two years. The CHP arrested her on Highway 101 Oct. 1.

Roy E. de Gorog of 24 El Paso Drive, Mill Valley, was fined $250 and placed on probation for two years. Sausalito police arrested him Sept. 24 on Bridgeway.

Roberto Villa, 23, of San Francisco, was sent to county jail for five days. The Highway Patrol arrested him on Sir Francis Drake Boulevard Nov. 5.

Cluster Housing To Be Considered

The Corte Madera Planning Commission at its 7:30 meeting today at Town Hall is scheduled to consider further a proposed zoning ordinance amendment which would permit cluster housing projects.

When final language for the amendment is agreed upon, the commission plans to hold public hearings. The matter would then go to the council for final action.

Also on the agenda is an application to build a new pet hospital at 5796 Paradise Drive, and an informal discussion on application of Dora B. Solvason to rezone property at 626 Tamalpais Drive from residential to commercial.

60-Year-Old Found Beaten In Apartment

A 60-year-old San Rafael man lay for three days tied up and beaten in his blood-spattered apartment, police reported today. He had been robbed of a collection of 10 guns.

For a reason unknown to police, William Louis Marshall refused the help of concerned neighbors who tried to see him following the attack that occurred at 6:30 p.m. Thursday.

Apparently his attackers tried to get an ambulance to him at 10:34 p.m. Thursday but their anonymous call to police sent a patrol car racing to the wrong address.

Finally, yesterday, a neighbor entered the apartment at 142 Bungalow Avenue, saw Marshall's condition and called police.

The victim's eyes and nose were black and blue and he had bruises all over his body, said Patrolman Raymond L. Maynard. The telephone had been ripped from the wall and there was blood all over the apartment. He had been tied with rags.

Marshall, said police, gave officers the following story.

Three men in their early 20s came to the door and said they wanted to talk to him. Once inside they beat him up.

About fours hours later, police said they got a call to send an ambulance to 146 Bungalow Avenue. The anonymous caller said a man had been beaten up.

Police found the 146 Bungalow Avenue address secure and the case was listed as a "prank call."

Meanwhile, neighbors were worried about the disappearance of Marshall. Residents told police they knocked on his door at 1 p.m. Friday and again at 9 p.m. and they heard him say: "I'm all right."

It was not until yesterday that a neighbor decided to enter the apartment.

Marshall was admitted to Marin General Hospital yesterday with a head injury and multiple bruises. He was listed in fair condition.

SETTLE HIGHWAY DISPUTES, PLAN RECREATION FACILITIES

(Hutchison, Civil Engineer and Developer in the Bay Area for more than a half century.)

As a member of the Marin Property Owners Ass'n., I am proud to be associated with this outstanding group of businessmen, attorneys, ranchers and other professional men, who are devoted to achieving a good balance in Marin between present day needs and conservation.

Marin will be strangled in its own traffic unless prompt action is taken. Improved bus service to San Francisco is both a short-term and a long-term necessity. Marin needs a second Bay crossing to put traffic in and out of San Francisco at another location. I personally favor an underground crossing. San Francisco could help by proceeding with a depressed freeway or expressway and tunnels. Ferry boats are pleasant but will not solve the problem. Long range solution necessitates Rapid Transit.

BAY RECREATION

The future of San Francisco Bay will revolve around recreation for all the people. Recreational development will preserve beauty and fishing. But it will mean increased boating, more beaches, marinas, fishing piers, restaurants and well-planned apartments clustered to preserve maximum open space which can be considered public park areas even though the land remains in private hands.

The quarrels over Highway 1 in West Marin delay road construction which in turn deprives people of motoring pleasure and blocks development of needed commercial recreation facilities. Certainly a good highway on the ridgetops is needed to run parallel to present Highway 1. A ridgetop highway would be the best way to preserve the character of the present towns, promote driving safety, scenic beauty and spur recreational development.

Roberto Villa, 23, of San Francisco, was sent to county jail for five days. The Highway Patrol arrested him on Sir Francis Drake Boulevard Nov. 5.

Cluster Housing To Be Considered

The Corte Madera Planning Commission at its 7:30 meeting today at Town Hall is scheduled to consider further a proposed zoning ordinance amendment which would permit cluster housing projects.

When final language for the amendment is agreed upon, the commission plans to hold public hearings. The matter would then go to the council for final action.

Also on the agenda is an application to build a new pet hospital at 5796 Paradise Drive, and an informal discussion on application of Dora B. Solvason to rezone property at 626 Tamalpais Drive from residential to commercial.

60-Year-Old Found Beaten In Apartment

A 60-year-old San Rafael man lay for three days tied up and beaten in his blood-spattered apartment, police reported today. He had been robbed of a collection of 10 guns.

For a reason unknown to police, William Louis Marshall refused the help of concerned neighbors who tried to see him following the attack that occurred at 6:30 p.m. Thursday.

Apparently his attackers tried to get an ambulance to him at 10:34 p.m. Thursday but their anonymous call to police sent a patrol car racing to the wrong address.

Finally, yesterday, a neighbor entered the apartment at 142 Bungalow Avenue, saw Marshall's condition and called police.

The victim's eyes and nose were black and blue and he had bruises all over his body, said Patrolman Raymond L. Maynard. The telephone had been ripped from the wall and there was blood all over the apartment. He had been tied with rags.

Marshall, said police, gave officers the following story.

Three men in their early 20s came to the door and said they wanted to talk to him. Once inside they beat him up.

About fours hours later, police said they got a call to send an ambulance to 146 Bungalow Avenue. The anonymous caller said a man had been beaten up.

Police found the 146 Bungalow Avenue address secure and the case was listed as a "prank call."

Meanwhile, neighbors were worried about the disappearance of Marshall. Residents told police they knocked on his door at 1 p.m. Friday and again at 9 p.m. and they heard him say: "I'm all right."

It was not until yesterday that a neighbor decided to enter the apartment.

Marshall was admitted to Marin General Hospital yesterday with a head injury and multiple bruises. He was listed in fair condition.

REACHING OUT WITH CHRISTMAS SPIRIT

To help Marinites share some of the meaning of Christmas, volunteers from throughout the county are using their talents and their gifts are coordinated through the special Christmas Exchange telephone, run by the Volunteer Bureau of Marin in San Rafael. At left, Mrs. George Somers of Novato finishes another one of the tree ornaments she makes to give to a needy Marin family. At right, Mrs. John Capel of Lucas Valley answers the Christmas Exchange telephone while Mrs. Robert Mault of Glenwood checks the file to match donated gifts with possible needs, which have been listed after an extensive survey by the volunteers.

SEVENTEEN-year-old Dianne Dingham refurbishes a tricycle which will be the highlight of a Marin youngster's Christmas . . . Toys and games for children in institutions and needy families are among the most frequent requests listed by the Christmas Exchange.

A Special Line To Play Santa Claus—

What does Christmas mean to you? A child's joy over a new tricycle, the smile of remembrance a Christmas carol can bring to an elderly face, the excitement of bringing home the family Christmas tree?

There are children and elderly people and families in Marin who may not share these experiences this Christmas; people for whom there will be no toys, no carols, no Christmas tree.

The Volunteer Bureau of Marin has a special Christmas program which can help Marinites to help these people share the meaning of the Christmas season.

During the past months the bureau has been collecting information about the needs of people and institutions in Marin. And through the Christmas season the bureau is running a special telephone, five days a week from 9 a.m. to 5 p.m. staffed by volunteers who are specially briefed and ready to tell you what gifts are needed and where your gifts can do the most good.

Whether you have an hour to spend visiting a convalescent home, batch of Christmas cookies, spare decorations, some outgrown toys or clothes, or a cash donation for the Children's Trust Fund, the Volunteer Bureau has a useful destination for it.

The people pictured here are helping to share the spirit of Christmas through exchange. If you have a gift to share call the Christmas Exchange, through the telephone operator.

READY TO go caroling for patients at Christmas time are members of Cadette Girl Scout Troop 2009 of San Rafael, who will sing and play at Marin General Hospital and local convalescent homes to spread the Christmas spirit. HELEN HELP US!

By HELEN BOTTEL

Grandparents Speak For Daughter Who Kept Her Illegitimate Baby

DEAR HELEN:

I'm glad you don't make flat generalizations about human problems. While others preach to an unwed teen, "Give up your baby," you say: "It depends on the individuals concerned." Thank you. Here's our story!

Our little girl was only 15. Priests, social workers and a judge urged that the baby be adopted out. We just wouldn't listen. She wanted her son and we wanted our grandson. Though marriage was impossible then, these two young people truly loved each other. When the child was two years old, they were married. There was no pressure brought to bear; they wanted it.

Now they have added two little girls to their happy family. I can't conceive of the misery we all would have felt, had the first baby been given away. Even without a marriage, he was part of us.

I'm not saying that a wedding should be forced on unwed parents. But equally, I say that a girl should not be unduly pressured into giving up her baby. What seems "sensible" to outsiders is not always right.V.M.B.

DEAR V:

How very true!

But let me add a word for counselors: Most do not bring "undue pressure." Their educated listening helps a girl think clearly about her future, so that she can make the right decision. In most cases, that decision is her own.—H.

DEAR HELEN:

About letters to Vietnam not arriving on schedule, here's a tip which I use when writing to boys in service. Number each letter as you send it. When he receives the letter, he will know which ones are missing, and just how many more will be coming for him. Then he'll know you haven't forgotten him, even if there's a mail hang-up somewhere.—E.Z.

DEAR HELEN:

You and people like you have the "courage" to print everything available condemning marijuana. Now let's see if you will print my letter.

I'm 28 and have been smoking pot for the past eight years. I have been married for six of them. Next week my wife and I move into our own home which we saved for and can pay for. I hold down a 9 to 5 job, pay my bills, have more than enough money to live on, all of which I earn.

If the old wives tales about pot were true, that you need more and more, and it will bring you to stronger drugs and possible addiction, then I must be completely ruined. Yet in eight years I have never increased the amount I smoke, nor have I had a craving for other trips. I have never spent one red cent on marijuana that I could not well afford. There have been six month periods when I was unable to get my supply. I suffered no ill effects or great cravings. It has also cut out my taste for liquor.

Our children have never seen my wife and I high, nor do they know we smoke. We will never encourage them to try pot, even should it become legal. It is something you must decide for yourself.

People who can drink without becoming alcoholics can also apply the same good sense to grass. Addiction is for the weak who turn to drugs for escape.

Many intelligent people are changing their minds about marijuana. How about you? — FRUSTRATED BY LEGEND AND LIES

DEAR FRUSTRATED:

Sorry: I think we already have enough trouble. Let's learn to cope with liquor and cigarettes before we add another problem. And perhaps you parents should learn to obey the law before your children end up in foster homes.—H.

This column is dedicated to family living, so if you're having kid trouble or just plain trouble, let Helen help you. Address Helen Bottel in care of the Independent-Journal.

HELEN HELP US!

By HELEN BOTTEL

Grandparents Speak For Daughter Who Kept Her Illegitimate Baby

DEAR HELEN:

I'm glad you don't make flat generalizations about human problems. While others preach to an unwed teen, "Give up your baby," you say: "It depends on the individuals concerned." Thank you. Here's our story!

Our little girl was only 15. Priests, social workers and a judge urged that the baby be adopted out. We just wouldn't listen. She wanted her son and we wanted our grandson. Though marriage was impossible then, these two young people truly loved each other. When the child was two years old, they were married. There was no pressure brought to bear; they wanted it.

Now they have added two little girls to their happy family. I can't conceive of the misery we all would have felt, had the first baby been given away. Even without a marriage, he was part of us.

I'm not saying that a wedding should be forced on unwed parents. But equally, I say that a girl should not be unduly pressured into giving up her baby. What seems "sensible" to outsiders is not always right. V.M.B.

DEAR V:

How very true!

But let me add a word for counselors: Most do not bring "undue pressure." Their educated listening helps a girl think clearly about her future, so that she can make the right decision. In most cases, that decision is her own.—H.

DEAR HELEN:

About letters to Vietnam not arriving on schedule, here's a tip which I use when writing to boys in service. Number each letter as you send it. When he receives the letter, he will know which ones are missing, and just how many more will be coming for him. Then he'll know you haven't forgotten him, even if there's a mail hang-up somewhere.—E.Z.

DEAR HELEN:

You and people like you have the "courage" to print everything available condemning marijuana. Now let's see if you will print my letter.

I'm 28 and have been smoking pot for the past eight years. I have been married for six of them. Next week my wife and I move into our own home which we saved for and can pay for. I hold down a 9 to 5 job, pay my bills, have more than enough money to live on, all of which I earn.

If the old wives tales about pot were true, that you need more and more, and it will bring you to stronger drugs and possible addiction, then I must be completely ruined. Yet in eight years I have never increased the amount I smoke, nor have I had a craving for other trips. I have never spent one red cent on marijuana that I could not well afford. There have been six month periods when I was unable to get my supply. I suffered no ill effects or great cravings. It has also cut out my taste for liquor.

Our children have never seen my wife and I high, nor do they know we smoke. We will never encourage them to try pot, even should it become legal. It is something you must decide for yourself.

People who can drink without becoming alcoholics can also apply the same good sense to grass. Addiction is for the weak who turn to drugs for escape.

Many intelligent people are changing their minds about marijuana. How about you? — FRUSTRATED BY LEGEND AND LIES

DEAR FRUSTRATED:

Sorry: I think we already have enough trouble. Let's learn to cope with liquor and cigarettes before we add another problem. And perhaps you parents should learn to obey the law before your children end up in foster homes.—H.

HARD-PRESSED FOR A GIFT?

Try Wall-To-Wall Mink

By GAY PAULEY

NEW YORK (UPI)—There we were, holding onto a Christmas advertisement for a mink covering for a doorknob. Not a bad stocking stuffer at $5.

Then wham! This other advertisement appeared. Bye-bye mink doorknob cover. Hello mink carpet. Wall to wall. Just about the most luxurious present a girl could picture under the tree Christmas morning . . . or underfoot Christmas morning.

"Natural Saga mink, beige or brown," the full-page advertisement said. "A rather unusual gift, you know. $95 per square foot."

Let's see now, say you wanted wall to wall mink in the average bedroom apartment, one 12 by 18 feet. That's run up a bill in the neighborhood of $21,500, counting in the New York City sales tax.

WAS ANYONE REALLY going to afford mink wall to wall? Mink coat maybe. But mink to walk on? "Yes, we've already had two orders," said Jacques Kaplan, the president and chief designer for the 78-year-old firm of George Kaplan, which ran the ad.

"One was for a four feet square 'throw'," Kaplan added. "But the other. Ah. A gentleman ordered it for his wife. In beige. To fit a room 21 by 23.6 feet. He wants it installed Christmas Eve while they're at the theater."

Now that's really a thoughtful husband. A lil ol' surprise Christmas night of close to $50,000, counting in the tax. Well, some girls get emeralds and diamonds.

Might we order just one foot as a starter, we asked Kaplan. Add on as we caught up with the affluent society? Kaplan veered off onto the subject of mink's durability and easy care. It needs cleaning only about once a year by an expert furrier.

"WE'LL INSTALL that one without charge," said Kaplan. Nice furrier.

True, Kaplan knows that something like fur carpets will get attention. And mink is not his first startler. In Kaplan's words during an interview: "Fur was a boring part of fashion a decade or more ago. We decided it should be amusing. Everyone laughed at us at first. Now they're laughing with us."

Kaplan used less expensive furs for rugs and pillows and now they're all over the market. He claims to be still alone as a designer of custom furniture upholstered in whatever fur madame and her decorator elect.

"I'll 'wallpaper' a room in fur if the customer wants," he said.

Mitten Clips

If you nail spring-type clothespins onto a strip of wood and hang it over the children's boot bin, they can clip their mittens to the board when they come in from play.

GOLFERS COVET A TROPHY

The putting trophy is admired by new officers of the Oakview Women's Rover Golf Club during the Christmas luncheon at the Meadows Oakview Club in Terra Linda. From left at the Friday afternoon festivities were Mesdames Bert Tischbern, co-captain; John Devaney, captain; Arthur Brodie, who won the trophy, and Philip Berven, secretary.

HARD-PRESSED FOR A GIFT?

Try Wall-To-Wall Mink

By GAY PAULEY

NEW YORK (UPI)—There we were, holding onto a Christmas advertisement for a mink covering for a doorknob. Not a bad stocking stuffer at $5.

Then wham! This other advertisement appeared. Bye-bye mink doorknob cover. Hello mink carpet. Wall to wall. Just about the most luxurious present a girl could picture under the tree Christmas morning . . . or underfoot Christmas morning.

"Natural Saga mink, beige or brown," the full-page advertisement said. "A rather unusual gift, you know. $95 per square foot."

Let's see now, say you wanted wall to wall mink in the average bedroom apartment, one 12 by 18 feet. That's run up a bill in the neighborhood of $21,500, counting in the New York City sales tax.

WAS ANYONE REALLY going to afford mink wall to wall? Mink coat maybe. But mink to walk on? "Yes, we've already had two orders," said Jacques Kaplan, the president and chief designer for the 78-year-old firm of George Kaplan, which ran the ad.

"One was for a four feet square 'throw'," Kaplan added. "But the other. Ah. A gentleman ordered it for his wife. In beige. To fit a room 21 by 23.6 feet. He wants it installed Christmas Eve while they're at the theater."

Now that's really a thoughtful husband. A lil ol' surprise Christmas night of close to $50,000, counting in the tax. Well, some girls get emeralds and diamonds.

Might we order just one foot as a starter, we asked Kaplan. Add on as we caught up with the affluent society? Kaplan veered off onto the subject of mink's durability and easy care. It needs cleaning only about once a year by an expert furrier.

"WE'LL INSTALL that one without charge," said Kaplan. Nice furrier.

True, Kaplan knows that something like fur carpets will get attention. And mink is not his first startler. In Kaplan's words during an interview: "Fur was a boring part of fashion a decade or more ago. We decided it should be amusing. Everyone laughed at us at first. Now they're laughing with us."

Kaplan used less expensive furs for rugs and pillows and now they're all over the market. He claims to be still alone as a designer of custom furniture upholstered in whatever fur madame and her decorator elect.

"I'll 'wallpaper' a room in fur if the customer wants," he said.

GOLFERS COVET A TROPHY

CONCERT REVIEW

A Melodic Approach Made By Orchestra

By MAYBELLE SPECKMANN

The winter concert of the College of Marin Community Orchestra directed by John H. Myers Saturday night in the college's new theater, while conservative in program by contemporary standards, was an especially congenial one for those who enjoy melody.

In both the Symphony No. 100 in G major (Military) by Haydn and the "Pelleas and Melisande" Suite, Opus 80, by Faure, the 53-member orchestra achieved readings that were in harmony with the composers' periods and styles.

GOOD BALANCE

That of the Haydn Symphony from his fifth period of greatest mastery was classically balanced, with the low strings better heard in relation to the violins than elsewhere in the program, except perhaps in the prelude of the Faure Suite.

The greater use of percussion in the symphony, however, pointed up that something more is needed in the way of a shell to increase resonance in the back, for at times the timpani sounded dull and cymbals did not have enough ring. Sound reflection of the violins was good, no doubt enhanced by the strength of such players as Charles Meacham and Ruggiero Pelosi.

It is good to hear more of Haydn, as seems to be the trend, now that recent scholarship is resulting in newly edited scores that reveal the original intent of the composer.

POETIC APPROACH

The "Pelleas and Melisande" was played with due regard for the poetic sensitivity of this typically French work that has so much impressionistic charm and grace. There was some nice horn and harp playing and the flute was very good in the sicilienne.

Another number of much interest was J. S. Bach's Concerto in C Minor for violin and oboe, one of those works in which the great master shows his favoring of the oboe as a melodic instrument. In this we made the acquaintance of oboist principal Jacquelyn Bowers, a fine player new to the musical scene in Marin.

She had flexible and well controlled technique and expressive sensitivity but was a little weak in sonority at times for the strength of Pelosi's assured violin. An attractive and graceful appearance added to her appeal.

Pelosi, who has been heard with various ensembles in Marin, played with his usual skill and special technical facility in the final allegro movement.

The opening piece, Beethoven's "Prometheus" Overture, Opus 43, like many beginning numbers, was not quite as good as the others.

On the whole the sound of the orchestra was refined rather than brilliant.

Symphony Talks At A Standstill

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI) — Negotiations were at a standstill today in the San Francisco Symphony Association's contract dispute with its musicians.

The symphony association has been forced to cancel the first three weeks of scheduled concerts. The regular season is 35 weeks long.

State mediators scheduled no meetings between the association and Musicians Union 6, saying talks would be fruitless until one of the parties softened its position.

The dispute involves wages, length of the work week and the question of artistic control.

A Reagan Report

SACRAMENTO (AP) — Gov. Ronald Reagan will summarize his first year in office Sunday with a 15-minute radio and television "Report to the People."

Former Liberal Millionaire Beating Drum For Reagan

WASHINGTON (AP) — A "Reagan for President" headquarters is being set up here by an Indiana millionaire who says he's never seen Reagan except on television.

Walter J. Dilbeck Jr., who as an Army private was cited for turning back a German charge singlehandedly, aims at turning the course of American politics with a national campaign to gather petitions supporting California Gov. Ronald Reagan for the Republican presidential nomination.

"I think if he gets enough backing he'll come out. I think that's what he's waiting for," said Dilbeck. "I find the interest underneath everywhere is for Reagan."

The campaign center is a six-room suite in a distant corner of a 50-year-old hotel at the far end of Washington's Embassy Row.

Dilbeck, 49, is a former campaign worker for liberal Democrat Adlai Stevenson. He says that until last year he voted a straight Democratic ticket and actively opposed conservative Republican nominee Barry Goldwater, who had Reagan's backing, in the 1964 presidential election.

He distributes to visitors a copy of a Dun & Bradstreet report that lists his assets at $3 million and his net worth at $1.6 million.

In his lapel he wears a pin for the Distinguished Service Cross. A citation he displays to callers says that on April 6, 1945, Dilbeck stood in the open atop a hill in Germany and, by himself, stopped an infantry charge, shooting 60 enemy soldiers.

Vietnam and American morality worry him now.

Dilbeck, who says he has traveled twice to Saigon, points to the U.S. firepower capabilities in Southeast Asia and argues, "Morally it's a shame to let a youngster get killed in Vietnam. Everybody knows it is a situation they can win in six weeks if they want."

Dilbeck adds, "Reagan only has to say two words as far as I'm concerned to win this election: 'law and order'."

The Evansville, Ind., real estate man says he gathered 22,000 signatures of support in his home state. Now his horizons are national and his goal is one million names.

Stern Warning On Desertion Talk

SAIGON (AP) — The U.S. Navy has warned its personnel in South Vietnam and around the world to be wary of anti-war groups trying to talk them into deserting, a spokesman said today.

ALMANAC

Today is Monday, Dec. 11, the 345th day of 1967 with 20 to follow.

The moon is between the first quarter and full stage. The morning stars are Venus and Jupiter. The evening stars are Mars and Saturn.

On this day in history:

In 1907, President Theodore Roosevelt announced he would not be a candidate for another term.

In 1930, effects of the depression began to spread in New York where the Bank of the United States, including 60 branch offices, closed its doors.

In 1936, King Edward VIII abdicated his British throne to marry American divorcee Wallis Warfield Simpson.

In 1941, four days after Japan's sneak attack on Pearl Harbor, Congress declared a state of war between the United States, Germany and Italy.

A thought for the day—British writer Lord Macauley once said: "His imagination resembled the wings of an ostrich. It enabled him to run, though not to soar."

HOW TO PLAY
WINNING BRIDGE

By ALFRED SHEINWOLD

First Count The Trump Losers, Then Plan The Contract Attack

The correct way to play the trump suit may depend on how many tricks you can afford to lose. You can't play for safety until you have found out what is safe.

SAFETY PLAN

In today's hand, part of a series on safety play, South won the first trick with the singleton ace of diamonds and carelessly led the ace of trumps. Now East was sure to defeat the contract with his two trump tricks.

"There's probably a safety play," South admitted, "but I didn't know whether I could afford to lose a trump trick. I might also have to lose a spade."

It was a poor excuse. South should test the spades before playing trumps. If he loses the spade finesse he can try for all of the trumps; but if the spade finesse wins he can look for a safety play in trumps.

FINESSE WIND

South should lead a club to dummy at the second trick in order to return the queen of spades. When the finesse wins South knows he can afford to lose a trump.

Declarer should next lead the four of trumps from dummy. When East plays low, South can finesse with the ten.

If this lost, only two trumps would be left; and declarer could later draw those two with the ace and king. Actually, the ten would win, assuring the slam.

TRUMP LIMIT

If West had all four trumps, East would discard when declarer led the four of trumps from dummy.

South would then go up with the ace of trumps and return a trump through West to dummy's king-nine. This would make it easy to limit West to one trump trick.

Yule Tree With Plenty Of Pots

NEW YORK (UPI)—In an exhibition of 22 lavishly decorated Christmas trees here, each named for a celebrity who specified how one tree was to be trimmed, the most unusual is one constructed entirely of pots, pans and other kitchenware.

The tree is the creation of Julia Childs, television's "French Chef," and is on display with the others at the Hallmark Gallery on Fifth Avenue in an exhibition entitled "Celebrity Christmas Trees."

Leader In Children's Health Bureau Retires

ENDS LONG CAREER — Dr. Edith Pasmore Sappington of Sausalito displays the Eskimo carvings she collected during her 33-year career with the federal Children's Bureau, a career that took her on many trips to Alaska, Hawaii and far-flung American territories. She retired Friday. (Independent-Journal photo)

Although she has traveled around the world once and half way around a couple of other times, Dr. Edith Pasmore Sappington deos not plan to sit still in her Sausalito home now that she has retired.

Friday was Dr. Sappington's last day as regional director of the Children's Bureau for the Department of Health, Education and Welfare, a post that oversees health programs in seven western states including Hawaii and Alaska, and the territories of Guam and American Samoa.

As director, Dr. Sappington made annual trips to Alaska, frequent trips to Guam, and attended medical conferences in various parts of the world. Combining leaves with her Guam duty trips, she has toured throught India, the Near East and Europe as well.

So, now that she no longer has to travel for duty, she plans to take a leisurely freighter cruise to South America, perhaps spending several months.

When Dr. Sappington joined the Children's Bureau in 1934, California was the only state west of the Mississippi with any program for children's welfare. Along with the growth of medical programs has come the conquering of most of the one-time epidemic children's diseases — polio, diphtheria, whooping cough and others.

The emphasis now is shifting to treatment of children for mental retardation, although research continues on major diseases.

A native San Franciscan, Dr. Sappington earned bachelor's and master's degrees at Stanford University and her Ph.D. and M.D. degrees at the University of California at Berkeley.

She interned in Boston and then spent two years at the University of Michigan in the Student Health Service and physical education department.

After a year at Oregon State University with a Michigan health service group, she returned to the Bay Area to take a post with the state health department for two years, then joined the U.S, Children's Bureau.

After passage of the Social Security Act, she helped found improved programs of infant and child treatment and maternal care.

Among medicine's greatest strides during her 33 years with the bureau, Dr. Sappington said, are the control of communicable diseases and greatly improved treatment, by antibiotics, of streptococcus infections and their complications.

Dr. Sappington is one of the few non-musical members of a noted Bay Area family of musicians. Her father, Henry Bickford Pasmore was a composer, organist and music teacher.

One sister, Mary Pasmore Shattuck, retired as a violinist with the San Francisco Symphony and now plays with the Honolulu Symphony. Another sister, the late Suzanne Pasmore Allen, was a pianist. A third, Dorothy Pasmore Bell, is a retired cellist with the San Francisco Symphony, and a fourth sister, Radiana Pazmor (her spelling), is a singer in the eastern United States.

While she hasn't looked much beyond the South America trip, Dr. Sappington anticipates no trouble finding things to do. Perhaps she'll start a collection of Latin American carvings to match her collection of Eskimo-carved ivory figures.

Students Seek Board Hearing

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — A group of Polytechnic High School students is asking for permission to talk about their school at the next Board of Education meeting Dec. 19.

Enrollment in Poly is more than 50 per cent Negro.

The youngsters also invited Mrs. Louis Obwald and Dorothy Waite to attend the meeting. The two mothers appeared at the last board meeting and protested a redistricting move that would take their homes from the Lincoln High School district and put them in the Poly area.

Both denied a racial basis for their complaint. Mrs. Obwald said, "Children learn from their peers, and these Poly students are peers I don't want my children to learn from."

How the Mercedes-Benz 250S nudges its $6700 rivals into unplanned obsolescence.

The Mercedes-Benz 250S: one test drive is worth a thousand pictures. Take a test drive soon.

While other car makers busy themselves with new styling themes, new names and new slogans, Mercedes-Benz engineers busy themselves finding ways to make their cars run better and last longer.

The Mercedes-Benz 250S shows the wisdom of this approach. It doesn't look quite as flashy or far-out as the other '68 cars—but in terms of efficiency and over-the-road performance, it's years ahead. So far ahead, in fact, that it nudges those other cars into quite unplanned obsolescence.

No queasy feeling

The 250S suspension is a case in point. Borrowing from one of their own world-champion sports cars, Mercedes-Benz engineers fitted the 250S with a fully independent, rear swing-axle suspension system. It keeps all four wheels clamped firmly on the road, even in hard cornering or on skittish surfaces. The 250S outhandles its rivals like a sailboat outhandles a barge.

The engineers even built a hydro-pneumatic spring into the rear axle. Add weighty trunk loads—this ingenious device automatically pumps up to stiffen the rear suspension and keep you riding level.

Brakes you can trust

Instead of throwing money away on styling tricks, Mercedes-Benz engineers poured it into things like a better braking system.

You stop with 10½-inch disc brakes—fitted not only up front but at all 4 wheels. Engineers rank discs above cheaper-to-make drum brakes for this reason: even in one smoking panic stop after another, disc brakes refuse to fade.

Swerving and pulling are other vices you'll never miss. The engineers even met the threat of the rear wheels locking up in a crash stop, by fitting a valve to balance front and rear braking forces.

If anyone ever asks you to explain why your 250S is worth the price, the brake system is a good place to start.

The great vibration hunt

Nothing proves the engineering superiority of the 250S more than its unflappable calm at extreme speeds. You feel no tremors, no rhythmic shudders.

Mercedes-Benz engineers knew that cycles of vibration are set up in a car as its speed increases. So they hunted every quiver down, making tiny changes in suspension layout and drive-train design—even in sheet metal thickness—to deaden these harmonic vibrations, even at maximum speeds where you'll likely never drive.

That overhead camshaft, 6-cylinder 250S engine claims a share of credit for the car's uncanny running quiet.

Every engine bearing, for example, is machined down to tolerances as close as .019 of a millimeter.

Connecting rods are hand matched for perfect balance.

A 60-minute bench test precedes mounting of the finished engine in the car.

To wash away metal filings and other such debris, oil is added and replaced in the engine 62 times during the final check.

A long-term investment

Sixteen different gauges of sheet metal, up to one millimeter thick, form the 250S "unit" body structure. It is welded at 10,000 points, then hand-filed and sanded for three hours. Next, it's lowered into a huge vat and completely coated with a layer of primer. The anti-corrosion materials on each 250S body weigh 48 pounds.

The paint job is three layers thick. The top coat is sprayed by hand, then rubbed by hand.

No artificial ingredients

The tasteful wood interior trim in the 250S is real wood, not plastic. Run your hand along below the dash: it's perfectly smooth, because even the underside of the dash is fully finished off.

Sit in those deeply upholstered seats. You feel properly supported—and after an all-day drive, you still will. The reason: Orthopedic physicians laid down the specifications. And Mercedes-Benz engineers actually tuned seat springs to the car's suspension motions, to wipe out millions of miniscule but wearying vibrations.

Price: That $6700 includes such items as power-assisted steering and a 4-speed automatic transmission. Take these optional items away and you can own a 250S for only $6,011*.

SAFETY NOTE: Mercedes-Benz pioneered many important safety features, many years ago.

Dual-circuit brake lines, disc brakes, and other items have been standard equipment for years.

Work continues to make Mercedes-Benz cars even safer—both in avoiding trouble, and in protecting you if trouble should occur.

INCOME TAX FACTS

Art Treasure Can Be A Helpful Deduction

By PETER JAMES WIKEL, CPA

Do you have a picture or other valuable work of art or other asset that you no longer use, and that has materially appreciated in value since you bought it? If so consider giving it to your favorite charity.

Wikel

You get a charitable contribution deduction for the fair market value as of the date of gift and you do not pay any income tax on the increased value of the article given.

In case this seem too good to be true, it does have a couple of sticky points. One, you have to prove the fair market value.

There are several ways to prove this. Perhaps the easiest is to make the gift to charity and let the charity sell the article and use the price that they sell it for as your fair market value.

However, the charity may not want to sell the gift or it may take a long time to sell, or it might be a picture you could give to a museum where they would want to keep the gift. In these cases you would need an apprisal by an appraiser who was well qualified in the field and who could substantiate his appraisal in a court if called upon to do so.

This means spending some money to get a good appraisal. However, there is no substitute for a good appraisal by a qualified appraiser who can substantiate fully and completely his reasoning and who documents his appraisal properly.

All forms of property may be contributed — stocks and bonds, real estate, automobiles, furniture, fixtures, equipment, clothing, etc.

Since there have been some abuses in this area a contribution of property in excess of $200 must have a supporting statement attached to the return showing.

1. The name and address of the recipient.
2. The date of the contribution.
3. The description of the property showing whether it was new or used.
4. The date you acquired the property and its cost to you and how you acquired it such as, purchase, manufacture, etc.
5. The fair market value of the property at the time of contribution and how you determined this value.
6. The adjusted basis in your hands.
7. The amount by which the contribution was reduced on account of some previous depreciation deductions claimed.
8. The terms, if any, restricting the use, sale or disposition of the donated property.

Merchants can contribute items from their stock in trade and the deduction is the fair market value of the merchandise contributed. Merchants are required to adjust their cost of goods sold to eliminate the cost of the merchandise contributed, so they do not get a double deduction.

There is a complicated set of rules for this type of giving so be sure to study them carefully before actually making the contribution.

Cost Of Living Goes Up In Netherlands

THE HAGUE (UPI)—The general cost of living in the Netherlands rose six points in the second quarter of 1967, according to government statistics.

With 1960 prices set at 100, the latest figures put the cost of living index up to 132 points. Food costs rose 12 points in the quarter.

Market Closes Lower

NEW YORK (AP)—The stock market closed moderately lower in fairly active trading Monday.

A brief early rally fizzled as weakness spread among some key blue chips.

Declines among individual issues topped advances by less than 100 issues in a reversal of an earlier trend.

The market failed to respond to what was considered by brokers to be favorable business news over the weekend. This included a report that manufacturers expect a sales increase of 3.5 per cent his quarter and of another 3 per cent next quarter.

On a delayed opening of 44,000 shares, Bunker Hill spurted 7⅞ to 54¾. C. E. Schwab, Bunker Hill president, had advised stockholders to reject an offer by Gulf Resources to acquire 700,000 Bunker Hill shares at $56 a share.

Prices advanced on the American Stock Exchange.

SUCCESSFUL INVESTING

Don't Buy More Issues Than Can Be Followed

By ROGER E. SPEAR

Q. Do you ever advise the average investor to avoid overdiversification? I am 41, married and have $42,000 spread out in 17 different stocks. I recently wanted to put money into an additional issue, but my broker advised against it. He says I should sell some of my present holdings and use the proceeds, together with new money, to build up my strongest growth holdings — General Dyanmics; Mobil Oil; Pfizer. Your opinion will be appreciated. — R. H.

A. I wlll be glad to supply it. I think your broker is a thoughtful man who should be warmly commended for his generally sound advice. I have frequently said here that no one should hold more individual stocks than he can reasonably follow, and I believe that 17 situations are too many for the ordinary investor to watch closely.

The three stocks your broker wants you to build up are all strong situations, although General Dynamics, strictly speaking, is not a growth stock because of its heavy military involvement. Nevertheless, I advise you to take his suggestion, add to the stocks he has selected and limit your portfolio to 10 to 15 issues at the most.

Q. Recently I inherited from my husband a portfolio of bonds, stocks and cash. I am enclosing a ist for your review. At present I am advised to sell 50 per cent of the common stock and put the money into more bonds. Do you approve of this plan and, if so, which stocks would you sell? — R. E.

A. If you will allow me, I should like to tell you that rarely have I encountered a finer list of securities or one which is better balanced. Your husband must have been a shrewd and farsighted man. I can see no justification for selling good stocks in order to purchase more bonds under present money conditons. You already hold a substantial backlog of savings, bonds and preferreds, and I advise you to leave your portfolio exactly as it is.

Doctors Constructing Two New Greenbrae Medical Buildings

Two new medical buildings are now under construction on South Eliseo Drive Greenbrae for Dr. Sherwin Miller and Dr. Gordon Dunn of 1125 Sir Francis Drake Boulevard, Kentfield and Dr. Robert Morris of 45 Corte Patencio in Greenbrae.

They will move from their respective offices to the new location upon completion by James J. Menke, Inc. — probably next April. They will occupy one building and the other will be leased out for other professional use.

SPEAKING of James J. Menke, Inc., now associated with this construction firm as managing estimator is Joseph Costamagna of San Rafael. He was general manager for Herbert A. Crocker and Co. for about eight years and was also with Edward W. Burgar, Inc. for 15 years.

WILLIAM L. McGEE of Sleepy Hollow has joined Kaiser Broadcasting in San Francisco as account executive at KBHK-TV, Channel 44, which goes on the air Jan. 2. Most recently he was television sales manager for Peters, Griffin and Woodward, San Francisco and was named the firm's television "Colonel of the Year" for 1964. Previously he was western division manager for Independent Television Corp. and with the National Broadcasting Co.

HUGH C. DONNER of Kentfield, vice president of the Marcona Corp., has been elected a director of San Francisco's 118-year old Marine Exchange for a three year term.

INCOME TAX FACTS

Art Treasure Can Be A Helpful Deduction

By PETER JAMES WIKEL, CPA

Do you have a picture or other valuable work of art or other asset that you no longer use, and that has materially appreciated in value since you bought it? If so consider giving it to your favorite charity.

Wikel

You get a charitable contribution deduction for the fair market value as of the date of gift and you do not pay any income tax on the increased value of the article given.

In case this seem too good to be true, it does have a couple of sticky points. One, you have to prove the fair market value.

There are several ways to prove this. Perhaps the easiest is to make the gift to charity and let the charity sell the article and use the price that they sell it for as your fair market value.

However, the charity may not want to sell the gift or it may take a long time to sell, or it might be a picture you could give to a museum where they would want to keep the gift. In these cases you would need an apprisal by an appraiser who was well qualified in the field and who could substantiate his appraisal in a court if called upon to do so.

This means spending some money to get a good appraisal. However, there is no substitute for a good appraisal by a qualified appraiser who can substantiate fully and completely his reasoning and who documents his appraisal properly.

All forms of property may be contributed — stocks and bonds, real estate, automobiles, furniture, fixtures, equipment, clothing, etc.

Since there have been some abuses in this area a contribution of property in excess of $200 must have a supporting statement attached to the return showing:

1. The name and address of the recipient.
2. The date of the contribution.
3. The description of the property showing whether it was new or used.
4. The date you acquired the property and its cost to you and how you acquired it such as, purchase, manufacture, etc.
5. The fair market value of the property at the time of contribution and how you determined this value.
6. The adjusted basis in your hands.
7. The amount by which the contribution was reduced on account of some previous depreciation deductions claimed.
8. The terms, if any, restricting the use, sale or disposition of the donated property.

Merchants can contribute items from their stock in trade and the deduction is the fair market value of the merchandise contributed. Merchants are required to adjust their cost of goods sold to eliminate the cost of the merchandise contributed, so they do not get a double deduction.

There is a complicated set of rules for this type of giving so be sure to study them carefully before actually making the contribution.

Cost Of Living Goes Up In Netherlands

THE HAGUE (UPI)—The general cost of living in the Netherlands rose six points in the second quarter of 1967, according to government statistics.

With 1960 prices set at 100, the latest figures put the cost of living index up to 132 points. Food costs rose 12 points in the quarter.

Market Closes Lower

NEW YORK (AP)—The stock market closed moderately lower in fairly active trading Monday.

A brief early rally fizzled as weakness spread among some key blue chips.

Declines among individual issues topped advances by less than 100 issues in a reversal of an earlier trend.

The market failed to respond to what was considered by brokers to be favorable business news over the weekend. This included a report that manufacturers expect a sales increase of 3.5 per cent his quarter and of another 3 per cent next quarter.

On a delayed opening of 44,000 shares, Bunker Hill spurted 7⅞ to 54¾. C. E. Schwab, Bunker Hill president, had advised stockholders to reject an offer by Gulf Resources to acquire 700,000 Bunker Hill shares at $56 a share.

Prices advanced on the American Stock Exchange.

SUCCESSFUL INVESTING

By ROGER E. SPEAR

Q. Do you ever advise the average investor to avoid overdiversification? I am 41, married and have $42,000 spread out in 17 different stocks. I recently wanted to put money into an additional issue, but my broker advised against it. He says I should sell some of my present holdings and use the proceeds, together with new money, to build up my strongest growth holdings — General Dyanmics; Mobil Oil; Pfizer. Your opinion will be appreciated. — R. H.

A. I wlll be glad to supply it. I think your broker is a thoughtful man who should be warmly commended for his generally sound advice. I have frequently said here that no one should hold more individual stocks than he can reasonably follow, and I believe that 17 situations are too many for the ordinary investor to watch closely.

The three stocks your broker wants you to build up are all strong situations, although General Dynamics, strictly speaking, is not a growth stock because of its heavy military involvement. Nevertheless, I advise you to take his suggestion, add to the stocks he has selected and limit your portfolio to 10 to 15 issues at the most.

Q. Recently I inherited from my husband a portfolio of bonds, stocks and cash. I am enclosing a ist for your review. At present I am advised to sell 50 per cent of the common stock and put the money into more bonds. Do you approve of this plan and, if so, which stocks would you sell? — R. E.

A. If you will allow me, I should like to tell you that rarely have I encountered a finer list of securities or one which is better balanced. Your husband must have been a shrewd and farsighted man. I can see no justification for selling good stocks in order to purchase more bonds under present money conditons. You already hold a substantial backlog of savings, bonds and preferreds, and I advise you to leave your portfolio exactly as it is.

Doctors Constructing Two New Greenbrae Medical Buildings

Two new medical buildings are now under construction on South Eliseo Drive Greenbrae for Dr. Sherwin Miller and Dr. Gordon Dunn of 1125 Sir Francis Drake Boulevard, Kentfield and Dr. Robert Morris of 45 Corte Patencio in Greenbrae.

They will move from their respective offices to the new location upon completion by James J. Menke, Inc. — probably next April. They will occupy one building and the other will be leased out for other professional use.

SPEAKING of James J. Menke, Inc., now associated with this construction firm as managing estimator is Joseph Costamagna of San Rafael. He was general manager for Herbert A. Crocker and Co. for about eight years and was also with Edward W. Burgar, Inc. for 15 years.

WILLIAM L. McGEE of Sleepy Hollow has joined Kaiser Broadcasting in San Francisco as account executive at KBHK-TV, Channel 44, which goes on the air Jan. 2. Most recently he was television sales manager for Peters, Griffin and Woodward, San Francisco and was named the firm's television "Colonel of the Year" for 1964. Previously he was western division manager for Independent Television Corp. and with the National Broadcasting Co.

HUGH C. DONNER of Kentfield, vice president of the Marcona Corp., has been elected a director of San Francisco's 118-year old Marine Exchange for a three year term.

DORE SCHWAB of Ross has been appointed western region branch manager of the Olympic Radio and Television Division of Lear Seigler, Inc., with responsibilities for operations of all branches from the West Coast through Chicago. He has been with Olympic since 1955 and continues to serve as president of Olympic of Northern California, a distributorship headquartered in San Francisco.

Schwab

JOSEPH ROTENBERG of Greenbrae, who heads the U.S.E. Pharmacy in San Francisco, has been appointed vice president of Mayer Research Laboratories in Sausalito. Mayer Research makes Reprieve, the hangover tablet now being test marketed in the Sacramento area and to be distributed nationally by McKesson Robbins Co.

REAL ESTATE: Nancy Shuit of San Anselmo is now associated with Merritt Pollock, Realtor. She was formerly with Pingree Realty.

McCarthy Would Bid For Peace By Pullout In Strong Cong Areas

WASHINGTON (UPI)—Sen. Eugene J. McCarthy suggests the United States pull troops out of some areas of South Vietnam where "the Viet Cong have been strong throughout the war" in an effort to stimulate peace talks.

"Let's open up some areas and see what happens, and then press for negotiations," McCarthy said. The United States "ought to begin to vacate or not try to control all of South Vietnam. I know there are areas that we don't have to dominate."

TOGETHER—Sen. Eugene McCarthy of Minnesota and Robert F. Kennedy of New York appeared together last night in New York City at a state Democratic committee fund-raising affair. McCarthy gave his views on Vietnam peace in a television appearance yesterday. (AP Wirephoto)

HUMPHREY TALKS

Vice President Hubert H. Humphrey said in a separate interview, however, that he has "never believed in enclaves" and feels the Vietnam war will be won in the countryside.

"It is our view that negotiations will take place in Vietnam at the time when the Viet Cong and North Vietnam feel that this struggle cannot be won militarily, that they have lost the countryside, that they have lost the people," Humphrey said.

McCarthy, in a television interview (Face the Nation—CBS) said yesterday he felt there was no "question but what the National Liberation Front can be found, they can be talked to, and in some kind of communication with Hanoi, I think there is a negotiation possible."

SUGGESTS WARSAW

The Minnesota senator said President Johnson's repeated declaration he will "go any place at any time" says nothing.

"I would feel much better if they said we will go to Warsaw next week," McCarthy said. He also scoffed at Johnson's offer to conduct peace negotiations "on a neutral ship in a neutral sea."

"There aren't any neutral seas any more. I would much rather have seen their response, for example, to the approaches a year ago, roughly a year and a half ago, of going to Warsaw, sending somebody there, instead of laying down these broad generalizations," McCarthy said.

'MORAL JUDGMENTS'

"I hate to make moral judgments," he added, "But I don't think they want to negotiate in the area in which I think negotiation is possible."

Humphrey, however, vigorously denied McCarthy's allegations in an interview broadcast several hours later (Issues and Answers—ABC).

"The man in this government that believes in negotiations and that promotes negotiations, that asks for negotiations, that pursues this hope of peace is the President of the United States," Humphrey said.

"I believe that what the President said at San Antonio continues to represent the sincere desire and the public policy of the President of the United States; that we want, as soon as possible, prompt and productive discussions and negotiations to end the war.

"I have a high regard for Senator McCarthy," Humphrey said. "I disagree with him, as you know, on this issue of our involvement in Southeast Asia, on Vietnam.

"He says he wants a political settlement. So do we. He says he wants a negotiated settlement. So does the President. He says he wants a rational approach to this subject. So does the President. So do we. He says he would like a cessation of the bombing. We have had six pauses in the bombing and the President has said again we will have a stopping of the bombardment of the North if we can get prompt and productive discussions.

"I really believe that there is beginning to grow in America an understanding that we are pursuing the right course, not the extreme of withdrawal or the use of weapons of mass destruction which can trigger a world conflagration," Humphrey said.

GOVERNORS WANT ROLE IN POLICY

Republicans Determined To Help Shape Issues For A Presidential Candidate

WASHINGTON (AP) — Republican governors, so far reluctant to put themselves behind any single presidential hopeful, are determined to make themselves a force in shaping the issues on which the GOP candidate will run.

Rhode Island Gov. John H. Chafee fixed that goal today as the party leadership conferred at a session of the Republican coordinating committee.

FLORIDA CONFERENCE

The governors' three-day conference in Palm Beach, Fla., turned out to be another gathering of the presidentially nonaligned. That left the state executives with national policy-making efforts as their current avenue to influence the 1968 campaign.

Their priority target now is a share of the leadership of the platform committee at the next national convention. The governors' candidate for that role is Pennsylvania Gov. Raymond P. Shafer.

Senate Republican Leader Everett M. Dirksen is in line to be the platform chairman. Chafee, the chairman of the Republican Governors Association, acknowledged there is little the governors can do beyond asking National Chairman Ray C. Bliss to give Shafer a share of the platform job.

EXPRESS DISCONTENT

"We'll just have to be quite forceful in saying how much we want Gov. Shafer," Chafee said. Twenty-six strong, "the governors represent a very substantial force in the Republican party," Chafee said.

They expressed discontent with what they considered congressional dominance of the party policy-making machinery.

New York Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller contended in Palm Beach that the administrative know-how of the state house should be blended with legislative experience in shaping party policy. And Arizona's Jack Williams complained congressional Republicans tend to become "national-minded" and lose touch with state problems.

While the governors contented themselves with talk of policy, not of candidates, Colorado's John A. Love said they will still be a potent force when the time arrives to select a nominee.

Love, who has not stated a presidential preference, said timing will be a key factor in exerting gubernatorial influence. He said that's why most of the governors are unwilling now to align themselves with any candidate. "I think to jump too soon is going to be a disadvantage, as well as to go too late," he said.

Chafee, who wants Michigan Gov. George Romney nominated for president, blamed political problems at home for the governors' inability to mass their power behind any single candidate now. "Many of them feel that by choosing one candidate they would be a devisive force," Chafee said.

Without Shirley, Tomorrow's Vote Out Of Limelight

REDWOOD CITY (UPI)—Republican Paul N. McCloskey Jr. and Democrat Roy N. Archibald oppose each other tomorrow in an election that has dwindled from international attention to a neighborhood dispute.

The widespread attention died last month when McCloskey, a Korean War hero, upstaged the political debut of former movie moppet Shirley Temple Black. He defeated her soundly for the GOP nomination.

Without Mrs. Black, the election became just another political race to fill one of 435 seats in the U.S. Congress. The winner will succeed the late J. Arthur Younger in California's 11th Congressional District.

McCloskey, an attorney, is favored over Archibald, a National Education Association official and former mayor of San Mateo.

Plant Discussion

Median planting on Miller and East Blithedale avenues will be discussed when the Mill Valley Parks and Recreation Commission meets at 8 p.m. today in the Mill Valley Library board room.

A Bold Robbery; $75 Is Taken

In a bold daylight robbery an unidentified man, 30 to 40 years of age, took $75 in cash from a clerk, Mrs. Natalie Beckett, and the cash register at the Sandpiper shop at 11 Princess Street, Sausalito, yesterday afternoon.

Police said the man, who at least simulated having a weapon, walked into the shop at 1:55 p.m. and told Mrs. Beckett, 56, "all I want is money."

He then forced her to the floor, tied her up and took her cash and cash from the register, officers reported.

A Mail Hijack By Young Pair Foiled By Driver

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI) —A baby-faced bandit and a pony-tailed blonde tried to hijack a truckload of first class mail early yesterday, according to Chapers Agee, a Post Office driver.

Agee, 33, told authorities he had just left San Francisco International Airport when he found the freeway onramp blocked by a car with its hood up.

When Agee stopped to aid the pony-tailed blonde standing nearby, he said the baby-faced bandit jumped into the cab of the truck and flashed a pistol.

Agee said he was forced to drive to a darkened industrial area, but managed to disarm the bandit as the youth glanced back to see if the girl was following them.

The postman said he ordered the gunman out of the truck just as the supposedly stalled car roared by. Agee said a man riding with the girl fired a shot at him, and when he attempted to return fire the baby-faced youngster fled.

One Organization Still Believes In Self-Help

"In my day," said the Elder Citizen, "when people wanted something done, they did it for themselves. They didn't run to the government for it."

The implication, of course, was that people don't do things for themselves any more.

One who has attended sessions of any public body is likely to feel that way. The Marin County Board of Supervisors, for instance, hears pleas for public funds for everything from bus stop shelters to special hospital facilities for sufferers from rare and exotic ailments. Citizens become incensed when government agencies fail to exterminate their yellow jackets or carry off their dead rats.

BUT IT IS NOT quite true that "people don't do anything for themselves any more." There are some who do.

This was brought to our attention lately by a special centennial edition of Grange, the official organ of what was called the Patrons of Husbandry when it was founded on Dec. 4, 1867, in Washington, D.C.

The organization was formed to represent rural Americans in a time when the nation was predominantly agricultural. It launched the fight for government regulation of public carriers that resulted in establishment of the Interstate Commerce Commission. Campaigns a little later were for vocational agriculture courses in public schools, for the Pure Food and Drug Act, and for the parcel post system.

The Grange's prominence in its early years may be gathered from the fact that for many years Montgomery Ward and Co., America's pioneer mail order house, carried on the front cover of its catalogue: "The Original Grange Supply House."

BUT THE GRANGE continues today in a far different America. And if its role is not so prominent as once, the things it does prove that it is still possible to accomplish projects for community benefit without a government handout — our Elder Citizen to the contrary notwithstanding.

The centennial edition of the Grange magazine lists these accomplishments of the past year, under the proud general title: "If You Want the Job Done, Get the Grange Behind It":

A county fairgrounds in Bucks County, Pa., with land purchased and buildings erected by the Grange.

A public library in Boerne, Tex., started by the Grange and operated by it until joint Grange-city-state funds financed a new, larger building.

A community building in Beach, Va., financed and built by Grange members.

A youth building in Prunedale, Calif., on land donated by Grange members and with building funds by the Grange.

A community nursing home in Utica, Neb., built by the Grange.

An ambulance service in Otisville-Mt. Hope, N.Y., established by the Grange.

A volunteer fire department in Tyler, W. Va., established and equipped by the Grange.

THESE AND OTHER projects described in the magazine were undertaken by members of the local Granges as community betterment efforts. They did it for themselves.

"Patrons of Husbandry" may have an archaic sound, and many city dwellers may have wondered at the postage stamp which the United States issued earlier this year to honor the organization's centennial. But today's Grange has not forgotten the dictum that "if you want something done, do it yourself."

Other organizations seeking worthy projects, whose posture so often is with hand outstretched for gift of public funds, might do well to seek the Grange formula.

California Election Law Set Up To Make Third Party Difficult

By HENRY C. MacARTHUR

SACRAMENTO (CNS) — Complications beset individuals who seek to establish a third party in California, as the promoters of the American Independent Party supporting George Wallace of Mississippi for president are finding out.

According to Secy. of State Frank M. Jordan, there are two methods of qualifying a new party.

First, by affidavit of registration denoting party affiliation. There would have to be 66,059 new registrations, or one per cent of the total vote cast in the last general election, as of next Jan. 2. County clerks report party affiliation figures to Jordan by Jan. 21, and if they have 66,059 registrations for a new party, that party is qualified to participate in the next primary election.

This first method does not involve the signing of a petition, but rather taking a trip to the court house or other designated place for registration and changing parties.

THE SECOND METHOD, by petition, is even more complicated. An actual petition for a new party requires 660,587 signatures, or 10 per cent of the total votes cast at the last general election, the petition to be filed with the secretary of state.

Jordan is keeping a running check on the proposed new Wallace party. As of last Wednesday, clerks reported 15,149 registrations for the American Independent Party. These were from the seven largest counties of Calfirornia.

Jordan points out that if a new party does not qualify by either of the methods explained, then there is no way for it to have a presidential delegation on the primary ballot.

HOWEVER, to have the candidate's name put on the general election ballot, the secretary of state needs only a letter from its state convention listing the names for president and vice-president and the names of 40 electors with their addresses.

If a state convention cannot be established, it is believed the state can accept a letter from the national convention of a qualified party containing the necessary names.

Also, there is a means to get a candidate for president or any other office on the general election ballot as an independent nomination, which requires a minimum of five per cent sponsors of the total votes cast for the office in the last election. In the case of president, the signatures would amount to a minimum of 330,294, filed between next Aug. 27 and Sept. 20 with the county clerks.

The catch to this one is that none of the signatures of qualified voters may include anyone who has voted for that office for any party in the previous primary election.

Whether the Democtats and the Republicans complicated the procedures on purpose, of course is a matter of speculation.

But in any event, the election laws make it really rough for any group to go through the required rigamarole and put a third or fourth party on the ballot.

WHAT OUR READERS SAY

Political Pressure For Closing FRC

Editor, Independent-Journal:

It was enlightening to know the real reason for the closing of the Family Rehabilitation Center. To a newcomer to the state, the overt signs of juvenile unrest are especially pronounced: vandalism and daily disruption in the high schools, widespread drug use, and a large increase in runaway children. The existence of the FRC was an encouraging sign — not enough but a beginning.

Then despite the voted approval of the center by seven members of the mental health board (seven psychiatrists) and despite (or because of) the voluntary deep personal involvement of some its professional case workers, the center was closed out. I think one worker was criticized for having been delinquent formerly himself, but that would seem to indicate an ability to understand the children better; this could be an asset. Possibly to arouse public support of the censure of the center, the police were called to awaken a girl in bed with another child at the center. This seems comparable to a hospital calling for outside help (and publicity) when a patient vomits on the floor.

None of the criticisms of the center and its methods hold much validity in light of what is known about juvenile delinquency and its remedy. The charge of political pressure to eliminate a dedicated group of professionals who are showing up the clockwatchers makes much more sense.

Won't Hold Grudge Against Supervisors

Editor, Independent-Journal:

If only I could be satisfied by holding a grudge against the county board of supervisors; this would validify the simplicity of a paranoidal response and allow me to string my hunting bow (65 lbs. draw) and project my missile of grude, an arrow, into ex-Marine Storer's thigh. Ah what personal, but primitive and counterfeit, satisfaction!

The individual people of Marin County have validified and returned my initiative trust in people, to be able to express their opinion rather than recite rules of absolute. They are not auto-matons. . . .

Dec. 4, I accused Mr. Thomas T. Storer of committing a felony against the people of the County of Marin; lawfully arrested him and was told by the deputy, that I could not arrest and he would not accept (as prescribed by the law) the accused, to be taken to the nearest magistrate. Oh yes, the charge (bilious bureaucratic buckpassing) intent to defraud.

The district attorney says, "As an entity, the board of supervisors cannot be held liable." This being the case, I cannot hold a grudge and will therefore respond accordingly. To show my true condolence for, their irresponsibility as an entity, I will not make an acception, but will see that each receives a gift-wrapped bottle of deodorant (same brand) and a brand new hat (same size) for Christmas.

Two Tell Stand On Fairfax Plan

Editor, Independent-Journal:

Here is a letter to the people of Fairfax explaining our reasoning for not participating or voting on recommending to the city council the plan for the Fairfax downtown center:

This was a new plan submitted by Mr. Solnit, chief advance planning, Marin County Planning Department for downtown Fairfax, and in our opinion it is ridiculous to expect the planning commission to arrive at a decision firm enough to make a proper recommendation in the course of one evening. Furthermore, the pros and cons of the entire plan should be fully discussed among all the planning commissioners at a separate meeting, and sad to say this has never been done. We did not see how the Fairfax Planning Commission could make recommendations without even knowing exactly where the new city hall complex and firehouse were to be and what sort of traffic patterns we would have to contend with. We also felt that the data on the new traffic survey should be available to us prior to our recommendation and the reasoning for this is as follows:

Mr. (Rowland) Darnell, the traffic expert of the Marin County Planning Staff, estimates that there are 300 cars per hour passing over White's Hill; this was a rough traffic count by his department, and anticipates future traffic to reach 3,000 cars even if the Freeway passes over White's Hill. He further recommended that there be four lanes of traffic from White's Hill to the Manor area and eventually six lanes of traffic through downtown Fairfax into San Anselmo.

Mr. Solnit, on the other hand, estimates that there are 500 to 600 cars passing over White's Hill and estimates that this figure will eventually double.

On the one hand one man, who is a traffic expert, predicts 10 times more automobiles going through Fairfax than at present, while the other estimates that it will double.

With the anticipated population to reach over 25,000 in San Geronimo Valley, which does not include the tremendous potential growth in Nicasio and West Marin, we feel that Mr. Darnell's estimates are much more accurate and that by splitting the commercial area in two, such as Mr. Solnit's plan, that slowly and surely the commercial on the north side of Sir Francis Drake will gradually downgrade and eventually be non-existent. Then it is too late to do anything about it.

The most important point, however, is the fact that there has been no public hearing on the county plans for the commercial area which seems to us to be a gross violation of the rights of all the people in Fairfax and particularly of those people most directly concerned with the adoption or rejection of these plans; namely, the owners of the property in the affected area. We could not in good faith participate in the vote on these plans when we felt the citizens of Fairfax had not been given an opportunity to express their opinion on this most important segment of the general plan. . . .

In our opinion what San Anselmo does or what is contemplated in San Geonimo should have no bearing on what is good or not good for Fairfax. Our main concern should be the general welfare of Fairfax and its citizens. And unless we take care of ourselves no one else will!

Role In Vietnam Contributes To Strengthening Southeast Asia

WASHINGTON — The outlook in the whole Western Pacific is improving.

The progress in the Vietnam war is only part of the more encouraging picture.

Equally significant is the political stability and growing national self-confidence visible throughout most of Southeast Asia.

This goal is at the very center of U.S. policy. Its achievements is what makes the defense of South Vietnam important and meaningful.

IT WILL BE AN achievement more than equal to the costs. Here is what's happening:

The Suharto government in Jakarta is steadily drawing Indonesia, the fifth largest nation in the world, back from the brink of economic chaos and Chinese Communist control where Sukarno was consigning it.

Malaysia is no longer having to waste its resources in fighting a guerrilla war which Sukarno was conducting against it.

The recent elections in the Philippines gave added strength to the reform government of President Marcos.

Thailand, Burma, Singapore are all showing a stability most thought unattainable three years ago.

Indeed, the whole arc in the the Western Pacific from Japan, South Korea, and Taiwan to Australia and New Zealand is accomplishing an economic development of great promise.

OF ALL OF THE underdeveloped areas of the world, Southeast Asia is making notable headway, and this development is bringing with it a regional stability and independence which couldn't be more welcome to the U.S.

It is not the wish of the United States to be the policeman of the world. Our goal is to promote regional collective security and this is exactly what the nations of Southeast Asia are now finding within their reach.

Indonesians overthrew Sukarno and defeated the attempted Chinese Communist coup on their own, with one factor contributed from outside. The anti-Sukarno leaders became convinced that the U.S. was determined to stay the course in Vietnam and was checking Communist expansion-by-force at the Vietnamese gate. This game them the assurance they needed that they could safely resist the Chinese Communist forces which were surrounding Sukarno and attempting to take over.

THE DOMINO THEORY — that the other nations of Southeast Asia would topple one after another if South Vietnam fell to Communist aggression —is perhaps oversimplified as a phrase. But it reflects the basic reality that these nations, relatively weak and torn by internal subversion, would soon find it next to impossible to stand out against Communist pressure and outside Communist force from wherever it was exerted.

This is why President Eisenhower, President Kennedy, and President Johnson all explicitly concluded that the safety and independence of all Southeast Asia were at stake in the U.S. defense of South Vietnam and that this tremendous stake made the cost worthwhile.

This is why nearly all the political leaders of Southeast Asia affirm that the security of their nations rests in large part on our success in defending South Vietnam.

But what we are now beginning to witness in Southeast Asia is the domino theory in reverse. The progress which is being made in Vietnam is bringing in its wake progress toward regional stability in Southeast Asia.

As it becomes evident that we are staying the course in Vietnam, the "dominoe.s" which were teetering, are beginning to stand more firmly on their feet.

Near-Clash Over Cyprus Adds To NATO Fears

By PHIL NEWSOM

UPI Foreign News Analyst

The Mideast war and the narrowly averted clash between Greece and Turkey is causing anxious thoughts about NATO's military position in the Mediterranean.

In Paris, the seven-nation West European Union composed of Britain, France, Germany, Italy, Belgium, The Netherlands and Luxembourg received a report from its military committee that the position had deteriorated dramatically.

It blamed the change on France's withdrawal from the North Atlantic Treaty's integrated defense command and on stepped-up Soviet naval operations in the Mediterranean.

Although the French withdrew their Mediterranean naval forces from the NATO command in early 1959, the immediate concern was the French decision to evacuate the naval base at Mers-el-Kebir, Algeria, next year.

A SPECIAL FEAR of the committee was that, with the departure of the French, the Soviet Union might take over the base.

The French replied that they would not relinquish sovereignty over the site until 1975.

Assurances against establishment of a Russian base on Egyptian soil also came from Cairo.

A government spokesman declared that "we are against giving bases to the Soviet Union or the United States or any country."

Nonetheless there were good reasons for allied fears.

Under the pressure of newly independent governments or the necessity to reduce military expenditures, former allied footholds in Morocco, Libya and Malta have been abandoned or reduced.

The future of the British base on Cyprus is at best a question mark.

THE BURDEN of NATO defenses falls upon the U.S. Sixth Fleet.

And as the allies have fallen back from positions on both ends of the Suez Canal, the Russians, set back only briefly by the Arab defeat last June, have moved with propaganda, weapons and money to fill the gap.

By moving promptly to replace Arab losses suffered to the Israelis in the Mideast war, the Soviets have recovered most of the prestige they lost when they failed to intervene on the Arabs' side.

One Organization Still Believes In Self-Help

"In my day," said the Elder Citizen, "when people wanted something done, they did it for themselves. They didn't run to the government for it."

The implication, of course, was that people don't do things for themselves any more.

One who has attended sessions of any public body is likely to feel that way. The Marin County Board of Supervisors, for instance, hears pleas for public funds for everything from bus stop shelters to special hospital facilities for sufferers from rare and exotic ailments. Citizens become incensed when government agencies fail to exterminate their yellow jackets or carry off their dead rats.

BUT IT IS NOT quite true that "people don't do anything for themselves any more." There are some who do.

This was brought to our attention lately by a special centennial edition of Grange, the official organ of what was called the Patrons of Husbandry when it was founded on Dec. 4, 1867, in Washington, D.C.

The organization was formed to represent rural Americans in a time when the nation was predominantly agricultural. It launched the fight for government regulation of public carriers that resulted in establishment of the Interstate Commerce Commission. Campaigns a little later were for vocational agriculture courses in public schools, for the Pure Food and Drug Act, and for the parcel post system.

The Grange's prominence in its early years may be gathered from the fact that for many years Montgomery Ward and Co., America's pioneer mail order house, carried on the front cover of its catalogue: "The Original Grange Supply House."

BUT THE GRANGE continues today in a far different America. And if its role is not so prominent as once, the things it does prove that it is still possible to accomplish projects for community benefit without a government handout — our Elder Citizen to the contrary notwithstanding.

The centennial edition of the Grange magazine lists these accomplishments of the past year, under the proud general title: "If You Want the Job Done, Get the Grange Behind It":

A county fairgrounds in Bucks County, Pa., with land purchased and buildings erected by the Grange.

A public library in Boerne, Tex., started by the Grange and operated by it until joint Grange-city-state funds financed a new, larger building.

A community building in Beach, Va., financed and built by Grange members.

A youth building in Prunedale, Calif., on land donated by Grange members and with building funds by the Grange.

A community nursing home in Utica, Neb., built by the Grange.

An ambulance service in Otisville-Mt. Hope, N.Y., established by the Grange.

A volunteer fire department in Tyler, W. Va., established and equipped by the Grange.

THESE AND OTHER projects described in the magazine were undertaken by members of the local Granges as community betterment efforts. They did it for themselves.

"Patrons of Husbandry" may have an archaic sound, and many city dwellers may have wondered at the postage stamp which the United States issued earlier this year to nonor the organization's centennial. But today's Grange has not forgotten the dictum that "if you want something done, do it yourself."

Other organizations seeking worthy projects, whose posture so often is with hand outstretched for gift of public funds, might do well to seek the Grange formula.

California Election Law Set Up To Make Third Party Difficult

By HENRY C. MacARTHUR

SACRAMENTO (CNS) — Complications beset individuals who seek to establish a third party in California, as the promoters of the American Independent Party supporting George Wallace of Mississippi for president are finding out.

According to Secy. of State Frank M. Jordan, there are two methods of qualifying a new party.

First, by affidavit of registration denoting party affiliation. There would have to be 66,059 new registrations, or one per cent of the total vote cast in the last general election, as of next Jan. 2. County clerks report party affiliation figures to Jordan by Jan. 21, and if they have 66,059 registrations for a new party, that party is qualified to participate in the next primary election.

This first method does not involve the signing of a petition, but rather taking a trip to the court house or other designated place for registration and changing parties.

THE SECOND METHOD, by petition, is even more complicated. An actual petition for a new party requires 660,587 signatures, or 10 per cent of the total votes cast at the last general election, the petition to be filed with the secretary of state.

Jordan is keeping a running check on the proposed new Wallace party. As of last Wednesday, clerks reported 15,149 registrations for the American Independent Party. These were from the seven largest counties of Calfirornia.

Jordan points out that if a new party does not qualify by either of the methods explained, then there is no way for it to have a presidential delegation on the primary ballot.

HOWEVER, to have the candidate's name put on the general election ballot, the secretary of state needs only a letter from its state convention listing the names for president and vice-president and the names of 40 electors with their addresses.

If a state convention cannot be established, it is believed the state can accept a letter from the national convention of a qualified party containing the necessary names.

Also, there is a means to get a candidate for president or any other office on the general election ballot as an independent nomination, which requires a minimum of five per cent sponsors of the total votes cast for the office in the last election. In the case of president, the signatures would amount to a minimum of 330,294, filed between next Aug. 27 and Sept. 20 with the county clerks.

The catch to this one is that none of the signatures of qualified voters may include anyone who has voted for that office for any party in the previous primary election.

Whether the Democtats and the Republicans complicated the procedures on purpose, of course is a matter of speculation.

But in any event, the election laws make it really rough for any group to go through the required rigamarole and put a third or fourth party on the ballot.

Political Pressure For Closing FRC

Editor, Independent-Journal:

It was enlightening to know the real reason for the closing of the Family Rehabilitation Center. To a newcomer to the state, the overt signs of juvenile unrest are especially pronounced: vandalism and daily disruption in the high schools, widespread drug use, and a large increase in runaway children. The existence of the FRC was an encouraging sign — not enough but a beginning.

Then despite the voted approval of the center by seven members of the mental health board (seven psychiatrists) and despite (or because of) the voluntary deep personal involvement of some its professional case workers, the center was closed out. I think one worker was criticized for having been delinquent formerly himself, but that would seem to indicate an ability to understand the children better; this could be an asset. Possibly to arouse public support of the censure of the center, the police were called to awaken a girl in bed with another child at the center. This seems comparable to a hospital calling for outside help (and publicity) when a patient vomits on the floor.

None of the criticisms of the center and its methods hold much validity in light of what is known about juvenile delinquency and its remedy. The charge of political pressure to eliminate a dedicated group of professionals who are showing up the clockwatchers makes much more sense.

'Better Communication' Only Serves To Intensify Group Hates

We've often been led to believe that it's the "lack of communication" that's causing all the fuss between minorities and law enforcement agencies.

In other words, if the two groups would get together and know each other better, everything will be hunky-dory.

But this just ain't so, says Bruce Terris, special assistant to Vice Presdient Hubert H. Humphrey. Terris's reasoning is this: As long as attitudes remain the same (that cops are "brutal" or that kids are "no-good bums"), bringing the two groups together wouldn't improve relations, it would only confirm and intensify the mutual hatred.

Therefore, says Terris, "better public relations" or "better communication" won't help at all. Put simply, the problem is not that "I hate the other guy because I don't know him" but that "the more I know him, the worse I hate him."

No amount of window dressing or image-making can improve police-community relations; it will take drastic changes in the basic attitudes of people toward other people.

THE EX-CONVICT who demanded a citizen's arrest of Supervisor Chairman Tom Storer last Tuesday raised an interesting legal point. Is every citizen subject to the inconvenience and indignity of an arrest and booking on the mere say-so of any other citizen, regardless of the flippancy of the allegation?

Marin County Counsel Douglas Maloney immediately fired off a query to the state attorney general, seeking clarification on the citizen's arrest law. As the law reads, whenever a citizen demands the arrest of another, law enforcement officers are obliged to take the latter into custody.

IT DOESN'T seem likely that this was the intent of the law. If it were, Supervisor Chairman Storer would have been unable to open the supervisors' meeting last Tuesday morning. Instead, he would have been whisked off to county jail, all because a citizen with an accident claim was irked at the county for turndown of his claim, and decided to take it out on the supervisor chairman.

Another fact that the incident revealed was that during certain times of the day, the civic center is virtually unprotected by uniformed officers. There wasn't a deputy around, and officers from the sheriff's office in San Rafael had to be rushed to Santa Venetia.

FOOD AND SERVICE at the Civic Center cafeteria is reported to be "about the best it's ever been." But that's not saying much, because it's never been anything to rave about."

High hopes are being pinned on the cafeteria expansion that will be possible when the new Hall of Justice opens in about a year.

We hope they'll make some improvements in the new cafeteria such as: Speed up the serving line, which seems to bottleneck at the cash register. Customers are balancing their trays precariously and reaching for their wallets because there's no place to leave the trays.

We've hear some high praise for the chef's cooking ability, but some of that glitter loses its luster when fingers are used to help dish out the tasty morsels.

LBJ Aide Discovers A Way To Give Kennedy A Haircut

WASHINGTON — One of the things that has Johnson Administration officials worried is that Sen Robert Kennedy has publicly pledged to support President Johnson in the 1968 elections. As one official said, "If the President has Bobby for a supporter, he doesn't need an enemy."

A White House team is now hard at work trying to devise a way of getting Senator Kennedy to go back on his pledge. It isn't easy.

THE OTHER DAY the team met with the President in the Fish Room of the White House.

"Any luck in getting the kid to drop his support of me?" the President asked.

"No sir, Mr. President. We sent an emissary over to Hickory Hill yesterday and Kennedy reterated his pledge to back you and said he would continue to speak out for you at every opportunity."

"That's what I was afraid of," the President said. "Doesn't he have any loyalty to the Democratic Party at all?"

"He told us he wanted to help you in every way possilbe, and from now until next November he's going to tell the American people what he thinks of you and your policies."

THE PRESIDENT SAID, "Well, if he doesn't have loyalty, what about human decency?"

"He seemed immovable, sir. He says he owes you a political debt for all you've done for him, and he's going to pay you back, no matter what it cost him."

"What about his brother? Couldn't we appeal to him?" the President asked.

"We have, sir, but he's supporting you, too. They both insist on working for you in 1968. And I don't have to tell you, sir, that the harder they work for you, the more trouble we're going to be in."

"Did you tell Bobby that if he promised not to support me in '68, I would promise not to support him in '72?"

"Yes, sir. But he said his opposition cannot be bought at any price. When he believes in somebody, as he believes in you, he wants the world to know about it."

"HE SURE KNOWS HOW to hurt a guy," the President said. "Well, if he insists on going out and campaigning for me, why don't we send a truth squad after him to set the facts straight?"

"That's a great idea, sir. Every time he endorses you, we'll cut the ground from under him," an aide said.

"I disagree, sir," another aide chimed in. "If we ignored him, then his endorsement wouldn't seem that important."

"But," the President protested, "I can't just have him going around the country supporting me without answering back."

"It may be the only way, sir. After all, you're the President and you shouldn't be put in the position of attacking someone who claims he's endorsing you in '68."

"But I'm the new Johnson, and people aren't going to expect me to take Kennedy's support lying down."

"I'm glad to hear you say that, sir," an aide said. "Why don't you endorse his haircut in the morning?"

Sierra Club In 76th Year

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI)—The conservationist Sierra Club started its 76th year yesterday with the urging of a federal official to bring more young persons into its rapidly growing ranks.

Stanley A. Cain, assistant secretary of the Interior, addressed 1,300 club members and guests Saturday night when the club celebrated its founding 75 years ago by John Muir.

"To a young world, looking for heroes, you should have a special appeal," Cain said. "To a generation yearning for an antidote to commercialism, your causes could be the answer."

Club President Edgar Wayburn said the organization now has 58,000 members and is growing by 30 per cent a year.

'Better Communication' Only Serves To Intensify Group Hates

We've often been led to believe that it's the "lack of communication" that's causing all the fuss between minorities and law enforcement agencies.

In other words, if the two groups would get together and know each other better, everything will be hunky-dory.

But this just ain't so, says Bruce Terris, special assistant to Vice Presdient Hubert H. Humphrey. Terris's reasoning is this: As long as attitudes remain the same (that cops are "brutal" or that kids are "no-good bums"), bringing the two groups together wouldn't improve relations, it would only confirm and intensify the mutual hatred.

Therefore, says Terris, "better public relations" or "better communication" won't help at all. Put simply, the problem is not that "I hate the other guy because I don't know him" but that "the more I know him, the worse I hate him."

No amount of window dressing or image-making can improve police-community relations; it will take drastic changes in the basic attitudes of people toward other people.

THE EX-CONVICT who demanded a citizen's arrest of Supervisor Chairman Tom Storer last Tuesday raised an interesting legal point. Is every citizen subject to the inconvenience and indignity of an arrest and booking on the mere say-so of any other citizen, regardless of the flippancy of the allegation?

Marin County Counsel Douglas Maloney immediately fired off a query to the state attorney general, seeking clarification on the citizen's arrest law. As the law reads, whenever a citizen demands the arrest of another, law enforcement officers are obliged to take the latter into custody.

IT DOESN'T seem likely that this was the intent of the law. If it were, Supervisor Chairman Storer would have been unable to open the supervisors' meeting last Tuesday morning. Instead, he would have been whisked off to county jail, all because a citizen with an accident claim was irked at the county for turndown of his claim, and decided to take it out on the supervisor chairman.

Another fact that the incident revealed was that during certain times of the day, the civic center is virtually unprotected by uniformed offiers. There wasn't a deputy around, and officers from the sheriff's office in San Rafael had to be rushed to Santa Venetia.

FOOD AND SERVICE at the Civic Center cafeteria is reported to be "about the best it's ever been." But that's not saying much, because it's never been anything to rave about."

High hopes are being pinned on the cafeteria expansion that will be possible when the new Hall of Justice opens in about a year.

We hope they'll make some improvements in the new cafeteria such as: Speed up the serving line, which seems to bottleneck at the cash register. Customers are balancing their trays precariously and reaching for their wallets because there's no place to leave the trays.

We've hear some high praise for the chef's cooking ability, but some of that glitter loses its luster when fingers are used to help dish out the tasty morsels.

San Rafael Woman Check Case Suspect

Felon's Pelvis Broken In Cell-Block Leap

A 34-year-old convicted forger was seriously injured when he jumped from the fifth tier of a cell block at San Quentin Prison yesterday morning in an apparent suicide attempt, according to W. L. Luster, duty officer.

The prisoner, Maurice Routhier, landed about 32 feet below on a concrete floor and suffered a broken left ankle, broken pelvis, several broken verterbrae and possible internal injuries, Luster said. A guard saw him jump at about 11 a.m., he said.

Routhier was taken to the prison hospital where he was reported in serious condition today.

Routhier was sentenced from Los Angeles County on a charge of forgery. He arrived at San Quentin Nov. 30, 1965, to serve six months to 14 years.

Middle School Site Selection On Agenda

The Mill Valley School District board will try to decide on location of a middle school when it meets at 8 p.m. today at Park School.

The board and the city council have been negotiating for a middle school at the Project 17 development site at Camino Alto and East Blithedale Avenue, but the school could be built for less at the Alto-Edna Maguire school site.

To The Thief: Please Don't Overlove Tiger

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI)—Someone stole a tiger from the San Francisco zoo during the weekend and, surprisingly, authorities are more concerned about the welfare of the tiger than they are the thief.

They are afraid the missing animal may be loved to death.

He has big paws, spends a lot of time stumbling over them, and delights children with his laughable growl. His name is Jimmy. He was born less than three months ago and he tips the scales at a hefty 30 pounds.

Jimmy is conservatively valued at $750, but zoo director Ronald Reuther discounts the money motive.

"He was so lovable and so cute," Reuther said. "I suppose someone just thought he would like to have Jimmy as his own."

Klan Is Still Held A Tool To Boost White Supremacy

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Ku Klux Klan continues to use terror as a tool to achieve white supremacy and remains "a vehicle of death, destruction and fear" says the House Committee on Un-American Activities.

Summarizing a two-year investigation in a 371-page report, the committee said Klans "operate — today as in the past — as conspiracies to deprive certain citizens of rights guaranteed by the Constitution.

"Klans moreover have continued to rely on terrorism as an instrument for achieving so-called white supremacy and other objectives," the committee said.

"Klan involvement in kidnapings, beatings, arson, bombings and outright murder in recent years compels the committee to view a Klan as a vehicle for death, destruction and fear."

The committee said 16,810 Klansmen were members of 14 Klan groups operating in 18 states with the heaviest membership in the United Klans of America headed by Robert Shelton of Tuscaloosa, Ala. The report traces the history of the Klan and lists the 714 individual units, of Klaverns, it found in operation. The total includes 56 women's auxiliaries.

Raiders Clinch AFL Divisional Championship

Mira Still Considering All Offers

ATLANTA (AP) — George Mira, the Miami matador who snapped San Francisco's six-gam losing streak in the National Football League, still is considering playing out his option with the 49ers despite his big showing against the Atlanta Falcons.

"At the end of the year, I'll set down, collect myself and think things over," said Mira, who started his first game at quarterback yesterday in the NFL this season. He completed 20 of 34 passes for 324 yards and two touchdowns, leading the 49ers to a shakky 34-2 victory over Atlanta.

UNHAPPY

Mira has been anything but happy about riding the bench at San Francisco. In his fourth year, he has started only four games as the 49ers operated behind first-stringer John Brodie.

But Brodie was benched during the six-game skid and rookie Steve Spurrier started the last two games. Mira has just recovered from a knee injury suffered in the opening game with Minnesota.

Mira, who earned the nickname Matador with his flashy passing at the University of Miami, got his chance yesterday and his bullet tosses ended the San Francisco slump. He had said before the contest he considered it his most important game.

DECISION

"On May 1, 1968, I'll be a free agent if I don't sign with the 49ers," said Mira, who added that his leg did not bother him yesterday. "I'd like to talk to everybody—NFL, AFL — before I decide."

Mira's performance almost was overshadowed by the Falcons' quarterback Randy Johnson, who completed 14 of 34 passes for 263 yards and three touchdowns as he led a second-half Falcon comeback which nearly won the game. The loss was the Falcons' sixth straight.

In the first half, Johnson completed only four passes, having several dropped by his receivers, and was booed by the

Three Cheers For Our Bay Area Grid Champs

CHEERS — Okay, all you 49er fans: Please stand, face east and give a snappy salute to those Cinderella fellas of the Oakland Raiders.

Don't be jealous that the Johnny-come-lately East Bay craw has wrapped up a division championship before the 49ers. Give 'em credit. All those years when the 49ers were reaping a financial harvest, the Raiders struggled against overwhelming odds.

They started from scratch, getting a bunch of hand-me-down talent and playing in what amounted to a high school stadium. They lost dough. Yet the team's financial backers stuck it out and started to build a powerhouse, making wise trades and draft choices and hiring a first class coaching staff.

On To Dec. 31 Playoff Game

Well, it has paid off handsomely and Oakland — not San Francisco — will be the scene of a professional football championship playoff on Dec. 31.

Yesterday's TV schedule called for a "Bay Area double-header" — the 49ers—Atlanta game in the ayem and the Raiders-Houston contest in the afternoon.

You watched half-heartedly as the George-Mira-led 49ers scrambled frantically to a narrow decision over the rag-tag Falcons, and then you sat back and enjoyed watching the polished, well-balanced Raiders simply overpower the Oilers in a fine display of solid football.

Oh. Mira is an exciting quarterback and can pass with the best of them, but consider the opposition yesterday. I wonder if they were just showcasing Mira for a possible trade?

Dominated The Second Half

The Raiders played a beautiful game against a tough outfit. Where the 49ers seem to run out of gas in the second half, the Raiders come on strong down the homestretch. They're superbly conditioned, as evidenced by yesterday's strong second half rally, during which they completely dominated the ball-control game.

The 49ers have a lot of house-cleaning to do while the Raiders appear set for years. Their defense is just tremendous and their offense has the balance of a championship team — great passing by Daryle Lamonica to Bill Cannon, Fred Biletnikoff et al, and a powerful rushing game with Hewritt Dixon and Pete Banaszak providing a nifty 1-2 punch. When you lose your best runner (Clem Daniels) to an injury and still wallop teams like San Diego and Houston you have yourself a fine ball club, Mister, so heaps of congrats to the Mighty Raiders. On to the Super Bowl!

And as for the 49ers? Well, we're still waiting.

To Pick Marin All-Stars

ALL-STARS—Tomorrow Marin high school football coaches will meet with the Ross Valley Kiwanis Club to draw up plans and select players for the 1968 North-South Marin All-Star game.

Head coach for the North (San Rafael, Tomales, Terra Linda, Novato, San Rafael Military Academy) is Don Lucas of Terra Linda. His father-in-law, Carl Brown of Drake, will coach the South stars from Tamalpais, Redwood, Marin Catholic and Drake.

Last summer's North-South game was canceled when the sponsoring Kiwanians failed to get approval from the NCAA. But Co-Chairmen Charles Monte and John McGlynn have already taken steps to win approval for next summer's game.

Lowell High Wins Drake Tourney

By GARY TISCHLER

There is nothing like a little height to slow a running game down to the cripple stage.

Six-five Larry Clark stamped his name on both backboards for Lowell High School Saturday night and helped turn defending champion Petaluma's go-go Trojans into a bunch of washed-up, gun-shy teeny-boppers as the Indians romped to the Drake Invitational Basketball Tournament title with an impressive 61-35 victory in the finals.

TOURNEY MVP

Clark, named the tourney's most valubale player, scored 24 points, mostly in and around the bucket, grabbed 13 rebounds and blocked shots like a giant whirly-bird to completely demoralize the Trojans.

Pete Dagget, the Trojans' superlative guard wizard, threw another bunch of nifty passes, all for nothing. The Trojans, who had averaged 74 points per game in two pre-finals victories, were held to only half that total by Lowell's stingy zone defense.

Games leading up to the finals gave Marin fans a chance for a sneak prevue at the Marin County Athletic League as the four MCAL entries in the tournament collided.

CONSOLATION

In the consolation championship, Terra Linda nicked Redwood, 54-51, for its first victory over the Giants in Terra Linda's school history with Pat Purcell whipping in 18 points, same as Redwood's Tom Seidenberg.

The Trojans had to come from behind twice to do it, trailing 15-7 at the end of the first quarter before taking a 28-22 half-time lead and trailing 37-38 going into the final period.

Drake, sporting a new running game, took a 20-7 first-period lead over Novato in the battle for third place, then proceeded to slop it away over the last three quarters, letting Hornets take a one-point lead in the final minute. But burly Don Stone nailed it down with a rebound shot and the Pirates squeezed, in 53-49.

Stone had 12 points for the Pirates with Don Alvardo chipping in 12, but Novato's Ed Herrnberger took game honors with 18.

OUTSHOT

The Hornets outshot the Pirates from the field, 20-18.

In a clash of big losers, Napa downed Balboa, 57-41 for eighth place.

Six MCAL players made the all-tournament team, two each from Drake and Terra Linda and one each from Novato and Redwood.

Purcell, who scored 46 points in three games made it for Terra Linda along with guard John Thibedeaux, who had 54 points, including 47 in the first two games. For Drake, it was the football tandem of Stone and Alvarado while Seidenberg made it for Redwood and Herrnberger was Novato's choice for the elite

Wildcats Win Their First Game

The Wildcats did it.

Marin Catholic High School, in the middle of a tough schedule, broke through for its first basketball triumph of the season by topping Salesian, 68-60, to nail down seventh place in the St. Elizabeth Tournament in Oakland Saturday.

Ches Bornia moved back to his old center position and grabbed 19 rebounds in addition to scoring 12 points. Guards Harry Matsinger and Rick Garms split 44 points between them to spark the offense.

The Wildcats are now 1-4.

Marin Catholic Scoring — Mark Carbone, 0-3-3; Harry Matsinger, 7-8-22; Stacey Schaefer, 3-1-7; Rick Garms, 9-4-22; Art Goepp, 0-2-2; Ches Bornia, 5-2-12. Totals: 24-20-68.

Salesian Scoring— Slater, 4-5-13; Seolari, 6-2-14; Trott, 3-0-6; McGrew, 2-6-10; Webb, 1-2-4; Scott, 2-2-6; Stewart, 3-1-7. Totals: 21-18-60.

Sweet Revenge For Mr. Blanda

HOUSTON (AP)—It was like a B-picture. Grizzled and bitter, George Blanda trotted out yesterday and kicked four field goals for Oakland against Houston, the team that turned him out last spring as a has-been.

The 19-7 victory assured the American Football League's Western Division title for the Raiders, and it demoralized the Houston whippersnappers going after the Eastern top-spot.

The old hometown crowd that shivered under laden skies while Blanda exacted revenge couldn't have booed louder had he twirled a mustache and cleated a grandmother for an encore.

He exulted.

FANTASTIC

"This was fantastic," he said. "The best day of my career. To come back here and show all those rube fans that the booing doesn't bother the old man."

Exhibiting a vast grin, Blanda went on, "I went out there. All those boos kind of shocked me. I thought maybe—just maybe—the fans would respect me a little more than that."

Fickle Houston had forgotten 1960 and 1961 when he guided the newborn Oilers to AFL championships, but no matter. Yesterday's game made him the league's 1967 scoring leader, with 47 points after and 19 of 28 field goals for another 57, total 104.

FIRST THREE

Blanda's first three field goals yesterday, 12, 32 and 31 yards, took Oakland past the seven points Houston got in the closing seconds of the first half on George Webster's interception and Pete Beathard's efficient lobs of 32 yards to Woodie Campbell and 28 yards to Hoyle Granger, for the score.

Blanda's last field goal was a 45-yard follow-up to Hewritt Dixon's 27-yard touchdown run which broke whatever remained of the Oilers' spirit.

Dan Conners had picked off a Beathard pass for Granger to set up the score, and Oiler head coach Wally Lemm blamed the theft on Beathard's confusion in the face of a short-yardage defense.

"He didn't know how to get out of the play he was in, and he didn't want to run it," Lemm said.

DOMINATION

The second half was entirely Oakland's, with Lamonica using a barrage of short ones to get Blanda into range. "Lamonica just picked us apart," Lemm said.

The Oakland quarterback completed 23 of 35 passes, good for 285 yards—better than the 227.2 aerial average the raiders carried into the game.

Before yesterday's contest, Oiler alumnus Ernie Ladd, swapped to Kansas City as down payment on Beathard, terrorized Joe Namath in the Chiefs' 21-7 victory over New York. That game left the Jets and the Oilers tied for the Eastern lead.

Tar Cage Team Still Looking For Its First Win

Quick now: What has muscles like Charles Atlas, elbows like a Shick super stainless razor blade, and the jumping ability of a frightened kangaroo?

Harry Brown, of course. Brown, a 6-feet-3-inch, 225-pound forward for Contra Costa College, was the principle villain in the Comets' 86-63 dismantling of the College of Marin Tars in San Pablo Saturday night.

The loss was Marin's fourth without a victory. Which was pretty much expected, considering the tough early schedule the Tars face annually. What was unexpected was the closeness of the defeats, leaving the team with a betwixt and between feeling. They don't know whether they should be frustrated by the close losses or encouraged by the knowledge that they won't face similar competition in the Golden Valley Conference come January.

Saturday night's contest was close until a series of catastrophic errors did the Tars in late in the final quarter. With eight minutes left, Marin trailed the once-beaten East Bay quint 44-42. With just five to go, the spread was only three points. Then the deluge.

The Tars missed a layup that would have put them one point down, Contra Costa grabbed the rebound and got a three-point plan. The Tars came back upcourt and lost the ball to the Comets' press, something they only did on two other occasions all game, and the Contra Costans scored to go eight up. There goes ye olde ball game.

After that series, "They just blitzed us," said Tar mentor Cal Riemcke. "We tried to slow down their fast break and confuse their offense with a zone defense, and it was fairly effective, but they got the second and third shots and we didn't."

Brown was the chief architect of the Comets' rebounding supremacy. He also led the Contra Costa scoring parade with 19 points.

Freshman guard Andre Horn came through with 23 points to lead the Tars, while center Keith Kornelis hit a personal season's high with 11. The 6-5 Kornelis also led the Tars on the boards with 11 rebounds. Riemcke called the former Novato center's performance "his best of the year, both offensively and defensively." Riemcke was also pleased with the way the Tars kept their poise in trying circumstances.

Despite a less-than-cordial home crowd and the Comets' pressure defense, Marin worked its offense well and lost the ball only four times on turnovers, said Riemcke. Which is not bad at all against a press. Especially on a foreign court and with several inexperienced players. Horn, Russ Smith, Tom Stetson and Russ Williams did a good job bringing the ball through the press.

The Tars will have an ironic opportunity for their first win Thursday night when they face Reedley College in the opening round of the College of Marin Invitational.

Other first-round pairings include Napa-American River, Yuba-Santa Rosa, and Sierra-Solano. Sierra, defending GVC champs, and American River are the favoirtes.

Marin Scoring: Andre Horn, 8-7-23; Russ Smith, 4-1-9; Russ Williams, 0-2-2; Tom Herrnberger, 1-2-4; Keith Kornelis, 5-1-11; Tom Stetson, 2-3-7; Chip Tyson, 1-2-4; Greg McCarthy, 1-1-3;. Totals: 22-19-63.

Contra Costa Scoring: Harry Brown, 8-3-19; Butch Whyburn, 5-2-12; Dave Strand, 6-3-15; Herbye White, 5-0-10; Brady Stewart, 7-4-18; Jesse Reed, 6-0-12. Totals: 37-12-86.

San Francisco Ken Willard (40) tries to dive over a wave of Atlanta defenders on the goal line, but can't make it. He scored on the next play.

Clemente's Singles Won Him N.L. Batting Title

CINCINNATI (AP) — You've still got to hit singles—and a lot of them—if you want to win the National League's batting championships.

The league's official 1967 batting records bear this out. Roberto Clemente of the Pittsburgh Pirates won the crown for the fourth time with a .357 batting average. His "singles average" was a lot higher than that—.713.

Clemente went to bat 585 times to accumulate the best hitting average of his 13-year major league career. He collected a total of 209 hits and drove in 110 runs—second only to Orlando Cepeda's 111. Clemente's hits included 150 singles, 26 doubles, 10 triples and 23 home runs.

In fact, only one of the top six batters came up with a "singles average" of less than .700, and home run king Henry Aaron of the Atlanta Braves, who hit 39 homers and 105 singles, wound up in a seventh-place tie with Richie Allen of Philadelphia. Both batted .307 for the season.

The top six batters, with their batting averages and "singles averages" (in parentheses) were:

Roberto Clemente, Pittsburgh, .357 (.713); Tony Gonzalez, Philadelphia, .339 (.744); Matty Alou, Pittsburgh, .338 (.839); Curt Flood, St. Louis, .335 (.825); Rusty Staub, .333 (.709) and Orlando Cepeda, St. Louis, .325 (.661).

Aaron, with his 39 home runs, still accumulated a "singles average of .570 and drove in 109 runs for third place in that department. It was his fourth home run crown.

The Atlanta outfielder also tied Lou Brock of St. Louis for the most runs scored with 113. No one came near Brock's total of 52 stolen bases—or the 18 times he was caught stealing.

Maury Wills of the Pirates hit more singles than anybody else —162—and tied the league record by leading in that category four times. His final batting average of .302 put him in a tie for ninth place and his "singles average" was .871.

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — Will the real owner of the Philadelphia Eagles' football team please stand up?

For the next day or so at least, financially troubled builder-sportsman Jerry Wolman is the owner of the National Football League franchise — on paper and in practice.

But when the 40-year-old Wolman signs a $14.5 million deal—probably Wednesday — with a group headed by Norman S. Raab, a clothing manufacturer, he is expected to become a mere figurehead.

Technically, he won't be selling the Eagles. He'll be attempting to borrow his way out of a financial crisis in other business interests brought on by "a tight money market," according to Wolman.

Wolman remains listed as club president and majority stockholder in NFL records in New York, but until the loan is repaid, effective control will pass to the Raab interests.

This was an 82-yard touchdown pass to end Ray Ogden, the longest passing play in the Falcons' two-year NFL history. "That picked me and everyone else up," said Johnson. "When you get a big play like that you just have to come alive."

Johnson, thrown for losses only twice by San Francisco rushers, gave full credit to the Falcons' offensive line. "They really did a fine job," he said. "That's the most time I've had to get ready to throw since we started."

Mira's favorite target was flanker Dick Witcher, who caught 11 passes for 186 yards, only one shy of the 49er record.

Falcon Coach Norb Hecker said he never considered taking Johnson out despite his poor first half. "He needs to play under such conditions," Hecker said. "He'll lose confidence otherwise."

Tar Cage Team Still Looking For Its First Win

Quick now: What has muscles like Charles Atlas, elbows like a Shick super stainless razor blade, and the jumping ability of a frightened kangaroo?

Harry Brown, of course. Brown, a 6-feet-3-inch, 225-pound forward for Contra Costa College, was the principle villain in the Comets' 86-63 dismantling of the College of Marin Tars in San Pablo Saturday night.

The loss was Marin's fourth without a victory. Which was pretty much expected, considering the tough early schedule the Tars face annually. What was unexpected was the closeness of the defeats, leaving the team with a betwixt and between feeling. They don't know whether they should be frustrated by the close losses or encouraged by the knowledge that they won't face similar competition in the Golden Valley Conference come January.

Saturday night's contest was close until a series of catastrophic errors did the Tars in late in the final quarter. With eight minutes left, Marin trailed the once-beaten East Bay quint 44-42. With just five to go, the spread was only three points. Then the deluge.

The Tars missed a layup that would have put them one point down, Contra Costa grabbed the rebound and got a three-point plan. The Tars came back upcourt and lost the ball to the Comets' press, something they only did on two other occasions all game, and the Contra Costans scored to go eight up. There goes ye olde ball game.

After that series, "They just blitzed us," said Tar mentor Cal Riemcke. "We tried to slow down their fast break and confuse their offense with a zone defense, and it was fairly effective, but they got the second and third shots and we didn't."

Brown was the chief architect of the Comets' rebounding supremacy. He also led the Contra Costa scoring parade with 19 points.

Freshman guard Andre Horn came through with 23 points to lead the Tars, while center Keith Kornelis hit a personal season's high with 11. The 6-5 Kornelis also led the Tars on the boards with 11 rebounds. Riemcke called the former Novato center's performance "his best of the year, both offensively and defensively." Riemcke was also pleased with the way the Tars kept their poise in trying circumstances.

Despite a less-than-cordial home crowd and the Comets' pressure defense, Marin worked its offense well and lost the ball only four times on turnovers, said Riemcke. Which is not bad at all against a press. Especially on a foreign court and with several inexperienced players. Horn, Russ Smith, Tom Stetson and Russ Williams did a good job bringing the ball through the press.

The Tars will have an ironic opportunity for their first win Thursday night when they face Reedley College in the opening round of the College of Marin Invitational.

Other first-round pairings include Napa-American River, Yuba-Santa Rosa, and Sierra-Solano. Sierra, defending GVC champs, and American River are the favoirtes.

Marin Scoring: Andre Horn, 8-7-23; Russ Smith, 4-1-9; Russ Williams, 0-2-2; Tom Herrnberger, 1-2-4; Keith Kornelis, 5-1-11; Tom Stetson, 2-3-7; Chip Tyson, 1-2-4; Greg McCarthy, 1-1-3;. Totals: 22-19-63.

Contra Costa Scoring: Harry Brown, 8-3-19; Butch Whyburn, 5-2-12; Dave Strand, 6-3-15; Herbye White, 5-0-10; Brady Stewart, 7-4-18; Jesse Reed, 6-0-12. Totals: 37-12-86.

San Francisco Ken Willard (40) tries to dive over a wave of Atlanta defenders on the goal line, but can't make it. He scored on the next play.

This was an 82-yard touchdown pass to end Ray Ogden, the longest passing play in the Falcons' two-year NFL history. "That picked me and everyone else up," said Johnson. "When you get a big play like that you just have to come alive."

Johnson, thrown for losses only twice by San Francisco rushers, gave full credit to the Falcons' offensive line. "They really did a fine job," he said. "That's the most time I've had to get ready to throw since we started."

Mira's favorite target was flanker Dick Witcher, who caught 11 passes for 186 yards, only one shy of the 49er record.

Falcon Coach Norb Hecker said he never considered taking Johnson out despite his poor first half. "He needs to play under such conditions," Hecker said. "He'll lose confidence otherwise."

Rams, Colts In 'Biggie'

By ASSOCIATED PRESS

Jim Houston, Cleveland's 245-pound super-thief, has picked the lock to the Century throne-room, leaving only one divisional battle still raging in the National Football League—the Coastal war between Baltimore's unbeaten Colts and Los Angeles' relentless Rams.

Linebacker Houston intercepted a fourth-quarter pass yesterday and lumbered 18 yards for the decisive touchdown as the Browns clinched the Century Division crown with a 20-16 victory over St. Louis.

EARLIER THEFT

A week ago, Houston's 79-yard scoring run with another pass theft put the wraps on a 24-14 victory over New York that eliminated the Giants from the Century race.

While the Browns joined Green Bay's Central champs and Dallas' Capitol kings in the NFL semifinal playoff bracket, the Colts whipped New Orleans 30-10, running their unbeaten string to 13 games and setting up next Sunday's Coastal showdown with Los Angeles.

The Rams stayed alive Saturday by blocking a Green Bay punt in the final minute and scoring with 34 seconds to play for a 27-24 nod over the Packers. They tied the Colts in an earlier meeting and are one game off the pace going into the finale in title-frantic Los Angeles.

DALLAS ROLLS

In yesterday's other NFL games, Dallas drubbed Philadelphia 38-17; San Francisco outscored Atlanta 34-28; Detroit smacked New York 30-7; Washington edged Pittsburgh 15-10 and Chicago and Minnesota played to a 10-10 deadlock.

Kansas City tripped New York 21-7; Oakland downed Houston 19-7 and Miami ambushed San Diego 41-24 in American Football League play. Buffalo belted Boston 44-16 Saturday.

The Browns led 13-9 when Houston, a rugged, eight-year pro, batted a Jim Hart pass into the air, grabbed the ball on the fly and raced across untouched. Those six points stood up for Cleveland despite Hart's 15-yard TD pass to Jackie Smith late in the period. A desperate 41-yard pitch from Hart to Smith carried to the Browns' 18 as time ran out.

Frank Ryan's 38-yard scoring pass to Paul Warfield and two field goals by Lou Groza offset three three-pointers by St. Louis' Jim Bakken before Houston came up with the big play for the Browns.

UNBEATEN COLTS

The Colts rolled to their 11th victory—they have tied two—despite a sub-par performance by quarterback Johnny Unitas, who completed 10 of 24 passes for 148 yards and failed to connect for a touchdown.

Baltimore's tough defense set up short scoring thrusts by Tony Lorick, Tom Matte and Jerry Hill, however, and Lou Michaels booted three field goals as the Colts continued their drive to become the first NFL team to go without a loss since the 1942 Chicago Bears.

Dan Reeves caught a five-yard touchdown pass from Craig Morton and threw a 45-yard scoring strike to Lance Rentzel, triggering the Cowboys' romp over Philadelphia.

Eagles center Jim Ringo started his 181st consecutive game, setting an all-time pro record.

TOUGH DEFENSE

Karl Sweetan led the Lions past New York with three scoring passes. The Detroit defense shut off Fran Tarkenton, who hit on only three of 16 pass attempts and was thrown four times for losses of 63 yards.

Sonny Jurgensen, stymied most of the game by Pittsburgh's defense, got off a 33-yard touchdown pass to Charlie Taylor with less than three minutes remaining to bring the Redskins from behind. After Taylor scored the go-ahead touchdown, Paul Krause stopped the Steelers' last-ditch drive with his third interception of the game.

A 25-yard, fourth quarter field goal by Fred Cox earned Minnesota its third tie of the season and nullified brilliant, muddy-field running display by the Bears' Gale Sayers. Sayers splashed for 131 yards in 20 carries, scored Chicago's touchdown on a seven-yard run and set up Mac Percival's field goal with a 38-yard dash.

Fullerton Wins J.C. Grid Title

ANAHEIM (UPI) — Fullerton Junior College looked back today on a streak of 40 games without a defeat after closing out its 1967 season with a 41-0 romp over American River of Sacramento for the California junior college football championship.

The Fullerton Hornets have not been defeated since the second game of the 1965 season although they were tied by Santa Monica in the opening game of the 1966 season. Since then they have won 21 games in a row.

American River, the Northern California champions, proved no match for the Hornets who barely sqeaked to a 14-13 victory the previous week over Bakersfield to win the Southern California title.

U.S. Ski Coach Says He's Pleased

HOCHGURGL, Austria (AP) —Bob Beattie, U.S. skiing coach, was pleased with his team's showing last weekend in the Tyrolean skiing championships —a warm-up meet for the 1968 Olympic winter games in Grenoble, France.

Although Karl Schranz of Austria won the men's slalom Saturday and the giant slalom and combined title yesterday, Beattie said, "Things are coming along fine. In the early races our performances are never good. Considering we had bad numbers yesterday—there were three Americans among the first 14 Austrian starters — we did all right."

Rick Chaffee of Rutland, Vt., finished in a three-way tie for second yesterday in the giant slalom with a 1:05.6 clocking to Schranz' winning 1:04.7.

In the combined, however, Jere Elliott of Steamboat Springs, Colo., was the leading American, finishing fourth. Jim Huega of Squaw Valley, Calif., tied for fifth over-all when he finished in a fifth-place tie in the giant slalom at 1:06.1.

In women's titles, Gertrud Gabl of Austria swept all three titles, winning the giant slalom and combined yesterday. Her giant slalom time was 1:07.6.

Bruin Cage Team Extends Its Long Victory String

By ASSOCIATED PRESS

Johnny Wooden didn't say so, but he may have been thinking of Houston.

"Although I feel the Bruins would win over any opponent in a series of games on a neutral court," said the coach of top-ranked and unbeaten UCLA, "I know quite well the hazards that often befall visiting teams and the possibility of good teams coming up with great nights."

ROMP

Wooden's juggernaut rolled over Iowa State 121-80 Saturday night, making the Cyclones their 37th consecutive victim and third this year. And it left Iowa State Coach Glen Anderson shaking his head in bewilderment.

"They're the finest college basketball team I've ever seen," he said.

Lew Alcindor tossed in 45 points and five other Bruins scored in double figures.

Houston, ranked No. 2 in the nation, scored its fourth straight victory, beating Illinois 54-46 at Champaign with Elvin Hayes scoring 25 points.

Houston and UCLA meet Jan. 20 in the Astrodome, a game that could set a college basketball attendance record.

UCLA is idle this week, while Houston plays in its own Bluebonnet Classic Wednesday and Thursday. The Cougars' first round opponent is George Washington.

While UCLA and Houston rolled along as expected, three other members of the Top Ten suffered upsets in Saturday action. No. 3 Louisville and No. 4 Kansas were upset in a doubleheader at Chicago while No. 5 North Carolina lost to eighth-ranked Vanderbilt 89-76 at Nashville, Tenn.

TWIN BILL

Chicago Loyola tumbled Kansas 83-73 and unheralded Northwestern stunned Louisville 88-83 in the Chicago doubleheader.

All other top ten teams in action won, No. 7 Purdue rebounding from a Friday defeat by Washington and beating the same team 84-77. Rick Mount scored 30 points for the winners.

Kentucky, No. 9, playing at hme, pushed its record to 4-0 with a 64-49 triumph over Penn while No. 10 Boston College beat Connecticut 76-70 on the road.

Hockeyman Hurt

BOSTON (AP) — The Boston Bruins announced last night that defenseman Bobby Orr will be sidelined for two to three weeks with a broken collarbone suffered in Saturday night's 3-3 National Hockey League tie at Toronto.

San Rafael's Braves Triumph In S.F. League

Jess Jacinto, Neil McNevin and Ron Stewart each collected two hits to lead the San Rafael Braves to an 8-4 victory over the Spiders in San Francisco Winter Semi-Pro Baseball League action yesterday.

Jacinto had a pair of two-base hits, McNevin a double and single and Stewart a pair of singles as the Braves scored their fourth straight victory. Their 6-2 won-lost record is two games behind undefeated New Pisa in league standings.

Southpaw Ken Dryer and righthanders Steve Miller and Ben Trujillo shared pitching honors for the Braves, yielding a total of only four hits. Dyer was the winner.

Young Frenchman Wins Formula V Sports Car Title

FREEPORT, Bahamas (AP) — Jean-Pierre Beltoise — roaring into the lead on the last lap when a collision ruined the hopes of his chief opponent — scored a nervous victory yesterday in the International Formula V Sports Car Championships.

The rising young French star said he was running just behind the favored Jochen Rindt of Austria when "I saw another car run into him and he spun around. I passed him on the last turn before going down to the finish line."

Rindt, one of the world's top race course drivers at 25, had led in the see-saw 88- mile duel over a new road racing course modeled after the Monte Carlo circuit.

Braking for the last turn before heading into the home straightaway, Rindt collided with a car driven by Bill Campbell of Pensacola, Fla. As Beltoise flashed past on the narrow road, he and Rindt also brushed fenders.

Rindt came out of the spin to cross the line second, followed by Gunther Huber of Austria, Werner Muller of Germany, Tony Jeffries of South Africa and Lothar Motschenbacher of Beverly Hills, Calif.

Driving in his first Formula V race—an event for Volkswagen-powered cars capable of speeds up to 105 miles an hour—the 30-year-old Beltoise averaged 61.800 m.p.h. around the sharp turns of the course. He plans to compete next year on the Formula One circuit for the World Driver Championship.

Yesterday's International, scheduled for 100 miles, got off to a late start and the checkered flag was dropped after 44 laps, or 88 miles, because of darkness.

The 100-mile Governor's Cup race is scheduled next Friday and the 200-mile grand Bahama Grand Prix next Sunday.

Although Rindt had beaten the field in the qualifying heat, Beltoise took a quick lead in the International and held it for 56 miles. Then he was forced into a 35-second pit stop because his gas tank didn't hold enough fuel for the distance.

This allowed Rindt and Huber, who had been locked up in a close duel for second place, to charge to the front. Ten miles farther on, Beltoise worked back into second place and into position to take over when Rindt's mishap came.

One of the race favorites, Jacky Ickx of Belgium, was forced to withdraw because of illness.

Bradley Returns To Action

NEW YORK (AP) — The New York Knickerbockers were leading midway in the second quarter Saturday, but the crowd of 18,499 at Madison Square Garden wasn't satisfied because the big reason for their coming was still on the bench.

They wanted Bill Bradley.

Midway in the second quarter they got him, and the Garden rocked to a standing ovation.

The former Princeton All-America and Rhodes Scholar, who signed a four-year, $500,000 contract last spring to play with the National Basketball Association club, made his pro debut with the Knicks leading Detroit by 12 points.

"I wanted to put Bradley in when we had a lead so the pressure wouldn't be as great," Coach Dick McGuire gave as his reason for not using Bradley sooner.

Bradley played a total of 20 minutes, hitting on three of six field goal attempts and two of six foul shots for eight points, handing out two assists and grabbing five rebounds.

"I don't think I was nervous," said Bradley, who had worked out only once with the Knicks since being released from his six-month tour with the Air Force. "The crowd doesn't bother me at all. It's just noise that's all. I felt disappointed that we lost (124-121)."

"I might just start him Tuesday night against St. Louis," said McGuire. "There won't be as much pressure as there was in his first game."

But there will be just as much noise.

Field judge Charles Musser (55) flips on his head and gets a worm's eye view of a touchdown as Miami Dolphin Jack Harper (29) scores on a 37-yard run. Musser was flipped by San Diego Charger Leslie Duncan (45) who is giving chase along with Ron Billingsley (86) and Bud Whitehead (47). The Dolphins upset the Chargers, 41-24, knocking San Diego out of the AFL's Western Division title race. (AP Wirephoto)

U.S. Ski Coach Says He's Pleased

HOCHGURGL, Austria (AP) —Bob Beattie, U.S. skiing coach, was pleased with his team's showing last weekend in the Tyrolean skiing championships —a warm-up meet for the 1968 Olympic winter games in Grenoble, France.

Although Karl Schranz of Austria won the men's slalom Saturday and the giant slalom and combined title yesterday, Beattie said, "Things are coming along fine. In the early races our performances are never good. Considering we had bad numbers yesterday—there were three Americans among the first 14 Austrian starters — we did all right."

Rick Chaffee of Rutland, Vt., finished in a three-way tie for second yesterday in the giant slalom with a 1:05.6 clocking to Schranz' winning 1:04.7.

In the combined, however, Jere Elliott of Steamboat Springs, Colo., was the leading American, finishing fourth. Jim Huega of Squaw Valley, Calif., tied for fifth over-all when he finished in a fifth-place tie in the giant slalom at 1:06.1.

In women's titles, Gertrud Gabl of Austria swept all three titles, winning the giant slalom and combined yesterday. Her giant slalom time was 1:07.6.

Bruin Cage Team Extends Its Long Victory String

By ASSOCIATED PRESS

Johnny Wooden didn't say so, but he may have been thinking of Houston.

"Although I feel the Bruins would win over any opponent in a series of games on a neutral court," said the coach of top-ranked and unbeaten UCLA, "I know quite well the hazards that often befall visiting teams and the possibility of good teams coming up with great nights."

ROMP

Wooden's juggernaut rolled over Iowa State 121-80 Saturday night, making the Cyclones their 37th consecutive victim and third this year. And it left Iowa State Coach Glen Anderson shaking his head in bewilderment.

"They're the finest college basketball team I've ever seen," he said.

Lew Alcindor tossed in 45 points and five other Bruins scored in double figures.

Houston, ranked No. 2 in the nation, scored its fourth straight victory, beating Illinois 54-46 at Champaign with Elvin Hayes scoring 25 points.

Houston and UCLA meet Jan. 20 in the Astrodome, a game that could set a college basketball attendance record.

UCLA is idle this week, while Houston plays in its own Bluebonnet Classic Wednesday and Thursday. The Cougars' first round opponent is George Washington.

While UCLA and Houston rolled along as expected, three other members of the Top Ten suffered upsets in Saturday action. No. 3 Louisville and No. 4 Kansas were upset in a doubleheader at Chicago while No. 5 North Carolina lost to eighth-ranked Vanderbilt 89-76 at Nashville, Tenn.

TWIN BILL

Chicago Loyola tumbled Kansas 83-73 and unheralded Northwestern stunned Louisville 88-83 in the Chicago doubleheader.

All other top ten teams in action won, No. 7 Purdue rebounding from a Friday defeat by Washington and beating the same team 84-77. Rick Mount scored 30 points for the winners.

Kentucky, No. 9, playing at hme, pushed its record to 4-0 with a 64-49 triumph over Penn while No. 10 Boston College beat Connecticut 76-70 on the road.

Hockeyman Hurt

BOSTON (AP) — The Boston Bruins announced last night that defenseman Bobby Orr will be sidelined for two to three weeks with a broken collarbone suffered in Saturday night's 3-3 National Hockey League tie at Toronto.

San Rafael's Braves Triumph In S.F. League

Jess Jacinto, Neil McNevin and Ron Stewart each collected two hits to lead the San Rafael Braves to an 8-4 victory over the Spiders in San Francisco Winter Semi-Pro Baseball League action yesterday.

Jacinto had a pair of two-base hits, McNevin a double and single and Stewart a pair of singles as the Braves scored their fourth straight victory. Their 6-2 won-lost record is two games behind undefeated New Pisa in league standings.

Southpaw Ken Dryer and righthanders Steve Miller and Ben Trujillo shared pitching honors for the Braves, yielding a total of only four hits. Dyer was the winner.

DEEP STEAM WALL-TO-WALL CARPET CLEANING

CLEANS DEEP actually removes soil from both the pile of the carpet and the carpet backing. It does not scrub it deeper.

GENTLE ACTION uses no brushes or scrubbing action, so it does not distort the pile of the carpet.

SAFE PROCESS scientifically developed specially for the professional carpet cleaner. It is completely safe for all carpet fibers.

RESTORES PILE the powerful extraction process removes moisture immediately, thus avoiding shrinkage, and lifts matted pile to 'like new' appearance.

ECONOMICAL reduces the need for frequent professional cleaning because it removes the deeply embedded soil and leaves no residue in the carpet fibers to collect dirt.

SOIL RETARDING AND MOTH PROOFING are included at no extra cost.

Young Frenchman Wins Formula V Sports Car Title

FREEPORT, Bahamas (AP) — Jean-Pierre Beltoise — roaring into the lead on the last lap when a collision ruined the hopes of his chief opponent — scored a nervous victory yesterday in the International Formula V Sports Car Championships.

The rising young French star said he was running just behind the favored Jochen Rindt of Austria when "I saw another car run into him and he spun around. I passed him on the last turn before going down to the finish line."

Rindt, one of the world's top race course drivers at 25, had led in the see-saw 88- mile duel over a new road racing course modeled after the Monte Carlo circuit.

Braking for the last turn before heading into the home straightaway, Rindt collided with a car driven by Bill Campbell of Pensacola, Fla. As Beltoise flashed past on the narrow road, he and Rindt also brushed fenders.

Rindt came out of the spin to cross the line second, followed by Gunther Huber of Austria, Werner Muller of Germany, Tony Jeffries of South Africa and Lothar Motschenbacher of Beverly Hills, Calif.

Driving in his first Formula V race—an event for Volkswagen-powered cars capable of speeds up to 105 miles an hour—the 30-year-old Beltoise averaged 61.800 m.p.h. around the sharp turns of the course. He plans to compete next year on the Formula One circuit for the World Driver Championship.

Yesterday's International, scheduled for 100 miles, got off to a late start and the checkered flag was dropped after 44 laps, or 88 miles, because of darkness.

The 100-mile Governor's Cup race is scheduled next Friday and the 200-mile grand Bahama Grand Prix next Sunday.

Although Rindt had beaten the field in the qualifying heat, Beltoise took a quick lead in the International and held it for 56 miles. Then he was forced into a 35-second pit stop because his gas tank didn't hold enough fuel for the distance.

This allowed Rindt and Huber, who had been locked up in a close duel for second place, to charge to the front. Ten miles farther on, Beltoise worked back into second place and into position to take over when Rindt's mishap came.

One of the race favorites, Jacky Ickx of Belgium, was forced to withdraw because of illness.

Bradley Returns To Action

NEW YORK (AP) — The New York Knickerbockers were leading midway in the second quarter Saturday, but the crowd of 18,499 at Madison Square Garden wasn't satisfied because the big reason for their coming was still on the bench.

They wanted Bill Bradley.

Midway in the second quarter they got him, and the Garden rocked to a standing ovation.

The former Princeton All-America and Rhodes Scholar, who signed a four-year, $500,000 contract last spring to play with the National Basketball Association club, made his pro debut with the Knicks leading Detroit by 12 points.

"I wanted to put Bradley in when we had a lead so the pressure wouldn't be as great," Coach Dick McGuire gave as his reason for not using Bradley sooner.

Bradley played a total of 20 minutes, hitting on three of six field goal attempts and two of six foul shots for eight points, handing out two assists and grabbing five rebounds.

"I don't think I was nervous," said Bradley, who had worked out only once with the Knicks since being released from his six-month tour with the Air Force. "The crowd doesn't bother me at all. It's just noise that's all. I felt disappointed that we lost (124-121)."

"I might just start him Tuesday night against St. Louis," said McGuire. "There won't be as much pressure as there was in his first game."

But there will be just as much noise.

HOW TO KEEP WELL

By DR. THEODORE R. VAN DELLEN

Skepticism Is Voiced In Diets For Cure Of Psoriasis Sufferers

VAN DELLEN

The latest dietary treatment of psoriasis features turkey. This is the fourth attempt to relieve psoriatic lesions via the gastrointestinal route. The first diet was low in protein; the second limited fatty substances such cholesterol; the third, restricted foods containing taurine; the latest is low in tryptophan — another protein.

I am somewhat skeptical about the importance of food in causing or controling psoriasis because these regimens overlap considerably. Items forbidden on one are allowed on the other, and vice versa. Furthermore, altho each remedy is introduced with considerable fanfare, the enthusiasm soon wanes suggesting that the results may not be lasting. In addition, psoriasis may clear spontaneously and then recur for no apparent reason.

PERHAPS WE should wait for more extensive studies of the low-tryptophan diet because it has been used on a limited number of psoriasis sufferers and for too short a time to make definite conclusions. On the other hand, most of these diets center about protein and its tryptophan content may be the culprit in psoriasis. Tryptophan is associated with a certain degree of romance because it is found in all meats except turkey.

Four Million Americans have psoriasis and a cure would be welcome. A coal tar ointment along with ultraviolet irradiation is a favorite remedy. Cortisone-type steriods also are helpful, especially when applied over the lesions and kept in place with a thin plastic cover. One of the latest remedies is methotrexate taken orally. This anti-cancer drug clears the skin but frequently produces serious side effects.

METHOTREXATE RETARDS the synthesis of nutrients needed by psoriatic cells for growth. When lacking, the cells starve and the skin clears. The nutrient to withhold may be an essential amino acid — one of the components of the protein molecule. This may well turn out to be tryptophan.

(Dr. Van Dellen will answer questions on mecial topics if stamped, self-addressed envelope accompanies request to the Independent-Journal.)

POST-SURGERY BLISTERING

D. B. writes: An attack of appendicitis and comlications kept me in the hospital four weeks. I've been home three weeks, and ever since I have had cold sores on my lips. Could this be due to my illness or to the drugs I was taking?

REPLY

These cold sores may be regarded as another (and the last) of the complications associated with your illness.

POST-MIGRAINE NUMBNESS

J. C. writes: I suffer from migraine, and after the head pain leaves, my fingers get numb. Is this a serious sign?

REPLY

Not as a rule. Occasionally numbness stems from spasm of the brain arteries, a condition that also is part of the cause of migraine headache.

CIRRHOSIS NOT CANCER

T. P. writes: Is cirrhosis of the liver a fancy name for cancer?

REPLY

No. Cirrhosis is a liver disorder in which damaged cells are replaced with scar tissue. Alcoholism and nutritional deficiencies are common causes of this condition.

COOLING HOT FEET

J. G. wrties: At 77 I am healthy but lose a lot of sleep because of hot feet. Is there any wonder drug for this condition?

REPLY

No, not even an icytope. Aspirin, which is one of the standard aids for this complaint, is the best remedy.

Impersonation Brings Booking

Marin Anthony Matosich, 27, of Millbrae was booked into county jail early yesterday morning for investigation of disturbing the peace after a sheriff's deputy reported he was "too boisterous" and had impersonated a police officer.

Deputy John O. Goff reported that Matosich hollered at him several times first in the lobby of the Tiburon Lodge at 12:20 a.m. and later in a bar on Main Street, then identified himself with a business card as a California Highway Patrol officer.

Matosich was released on $125 bail and set to appear today in Marin Municipal Court.

HOW TO KEEP WELL

By DR. THEODORE R. VAN DELLEN

Skepticism Is Voiced In Diets For Cure Of Psoriasis Sufferers

VAN DELLEN

The latest dietary treatment of psoriasis features turkey. This is the fourth attempt to relieve psoriatic lesions via the gastrointestinal route. The first diet was low in protein; the second limited fatty substances such cholesterol; the third, restricted foods containing taurine; the latest is low in tryptophan — another protein.

I am somewhat skeptical about the importance of food in causing or controling psoriasis because these regimens overlap considerably. Items forbidden on one are allowed on the other, and vice versa. Furthermore, altho each remedy is introduced with considerable fanfare, the enthusiasm soon wanes suggesting that the results may not be lasting. In addition, psoriasis may clear spontaneously and then recur for no apparent reason.

PERHAPS WE should wait for more extensive studies of the low-tryptophan diet because it has been used on a limited number of psoriasis sufferers and for too short a time to make definite conclusions. On the other hand, most of these diets center about protein and its tryptophan content may be the culprit in psoriasis. Tryptophan is associated with a certain degree of romance because it is found in all meats except turkey.

Four Million Americans have psoriasis and a cure would be welcome. A coal tar ointment along with ultraviolet irradiation is a favorite remedy. Cortisone-type steriods also are helpful, especially when applied over the lesions and kept in place with a thin plastic cover. One of the latest remedies is methotrexate taken orally. This anti-cancer drug clears the skin but frequently produces serious side effects.

METHOTREXATE RETARDS the synthesis of nutrients needed by psoriatic cells for growth. When lacking, the cells starve and the skin clears. The nutrient to withhold may be an essential amino acid — one of the components of the protein molecule. This may well turn out to be tryptophan.

(Dr. Van Dellen will answer questions on mecial topics if stamped, self-addressed envelope accompanies request to the Independent-Journal.)

POST-SURGERY BLISTERING

D. B. writes: An attack of appendicitis and comlications kept me in the hospital four weeks. I've been home three weeks, and ever since I have had cold sores on my lips. Could this be due to my illness or to the drugs I was taking?

REPLY

These cold sores may be regarded as another (and the last) of the complications associated with your illness.

POST-MIGRAINE NUMBNESS

J. C. writes: I suffer from migraine, and after the head pain leaves, my fingers get numb. Is this a serious sign?

REPLY

Not as a rule. Occasionally numbness stems from spasm of the brain arteries, a condition that also is part of the cause of migraine headache.

CIRRHOSIS NOT CANCER

T. P. writes: Is cirrhosis of the liver a fancy name for cancer?

REPLY

No. Cirrhosis is a liver disorder in which damaged cells are replaced with scar tissue. Alcoholism and nutritional deficiencies are common causes of this condition.

COOLING HOT FEET

J. G. wrties: At 77 I am healthy but lose a lot of sleep because of hot feet. Is there any wonder drug for this condition?

REPLY

No, not even an icytope. Aspirin, which is one of the standard aids for this complaint, is the best remedy.

Today's Health Hint—

Slow down when recuperating from a bout of flu.

Impersonation Brings Booking

Marin Anthony Matosich, 27, of Millbrae was booked into county jail early yesterday morning for investigation of disturbing the peace after a sheriff's deputy reported he was "too boisterous" and had impersonated a police officer.

Deputy John O. Goff reported that Matosich hollered at him several times first in the lobby of the Tiburon Lodge at 12:20 a.m. and later in a bar on Main Street, then identified himself with a business card as a California Highway Patrol officer.

Matosich was released on $125 bail and set to appear today in Marin Municipal Court.

Athletes Warned On Excessive Vitamins

HOUSTON (SS) — Consumption of too many vitamins may actually harm an athlete and too much protein may lower his performance, an Army nutrition authority said here at the American Medical Association's Ninth National Conference on the Medical Aspects of Sports.

The idea that massive doses of vitamins will improve athletic performance was based on a finding, later disproved, that considerable quantities of vitamins are lost in sweat, C. Frank Consolazio, chief of the bioenergetics division of the U. S. Army Medical Research and Nutrition Laboratory, Denver, explained.

Spearmint is used for flavoring medicine as well as in chewing gum and candy.

THE SEVILLE CHAIR—Upholstered in plush velvet and available in many accent colors, this beautiful piece is currently featured in the Spanish Room setting on the main stage at the Elegant Room, newly opened on the Northgate Fashion Mall.

Elegant Room Offers New Idea In Decor

The Elegant Room, newly opened in the Northgate Fashion Mall, was created for women who want their homes to reflect their personalities just as their clothes do, according to the owner Don Gianotti.

Gianotti, who has been in the decorative business with his father more than 17 years in El Cerrito, spent two years planning the Northgate "atelier" before opening it.

Instead of stiff furniture arrangements, he has created "room portraits" — vignette settings themed to different styles to provide interest for browsing visitors.

An arrangement may contain a lamp, perhaps a fine oil painting, a dramatic piece of sculpture — all forming an artistic composition. A Spanish Room consists of a sofa covered in rich tapestry, fine paintings, tables, lamps and chairs.

Gianotti plans to change these room portraits every month.

He and his father still maintain Gianotti Interiors at El Cerrito.

He was trained at the Rudolph Schaeffer School of Design in San Francisco.

Hours are from 9:30 a.m. to 5:30 p.m., with Wednesday and Friday evening hours extended to 9:30 .

Virginia Dare Puzzle Re-Enacted Annually

ROANOKE ISLAND, N.C. (UPI)—The first English-speaking citizen born on American soil was Virginia Dare. She was born Aug. 18, 1587.

Miss Dare apparently perished with the other hardy souls who pioneered this North Carolina island. Their disappearance without a trace is one of the mysteries which has led to the tag, "Lost Colony," the subject of the famed outdoor drama staged here every summer.

New Gadget Lowers Smog

WASHINGTON (SS) — A new approach to cutting auto exhaust emissions, patented this week, may help clear up the auto air pollution problem.

The device, developed by independent inventor Vincent Guarnaschelli of Greenlawn, N.Y., consists of a cylindrical insert in the exhaust manifold of the engine. The metal insert retains the heat of the exhaust as it comes out of the cylinder and slows the gases down so that more complete burning takes place.

A prototype model of the device, in combination with an intake pre-heater also patented by Mutual Industries Inc., brought hydrocarbon emissions on a four-year-old, 67,000-mile car from 722 parts per million down to 278 ppm. in a California test.

Carbon monoxide emission was reduced from 1.69 ppm. to 1.08. Nitrogen oxides came down from 11.81 to 3.50, he said.

Present California standards for that type of car are 275 ppm. hydrocarbons and 1.50 ppm. carbon monoxide. No standards for nitrogen have been set.

The combination intake and exhaust burner system is expected to cost less than $25 on new cars. It can be installed on used cars in a half hour, although it will cost more.

Northgate Features Extra Fun While Doing Yuletide Shopping

By DONNA GRIMSTVEDT

Miss Phylis Stolz of Corte Madera is one girl who can tell you about the fun features at Northgate Fashion Mall during this holiday season. She was the winner of a $25 gift certificate during one of the events that are occurring every night from 5:30 to 9:30 at Northgate's City of Paris.

From now up until Christmas all stores in the Fashion Mall will be open six nights a week for your shopping convenience. Shopping ease is also heightened by the free Christmas Cartoon Festival at the Northgate Theater. Each Saturday morning the cartoons are featured from 10 a.m. to noon, and from Monday, Dec. 18 through Friday, Dec. 22 they will be shown from 10 a.m. until 2 p.m. Tickets are available from merchants in the Fashion Mall to all children accompanied by an adult.

GRANAT BROS. JEWELERS has developed the ultimate in "psych war." Diamonds are a girl's best friend, and every girl knows it, but men are not so easily convinced. Now the button craze has come to the aid of those women who have found that just asking is not always enough. Ladies are invited to stop into Granat Bros. and pick up the key to psychological warfare which promises to produce the dreamed of results — a little lapel pin which offers the plea to "Help Stamp Out Rhinestones." Pin one of these on his pillow and he'll surely get the point!

CHRISTMAS is always the time for miraculous transformations. Good little boys and girls are the rule, not the exception, as they make ready for Santa's yearly visit. Mom is given an unusual amount of assistance from the wee ones as she decorates the house and prepares her culinary delights. Interior Systems follows suit by transforming itself each Christmas into a shop of fun treasures for the young at heart on your list. A bright orange Christmas tree with doves of peace fills the window as hundreds of gift items cascade below. Items by Jackie Curry, a local Marin artist who sells creative ideas to Better Homes and Gardens Magazine, are featured — original Christmas tree ornaments, heart-shaped pin cushions, eye glass cases. The Fat Cat Coloring Books by Donna Sloan, another Marin artist, are also found at Interior Systems. A colorful spindle, a desk organizer or book-end jacks of decorator color cast iron might be the answer in your search for a gift for your child's teacher.

FOR THOSE holiday gift givers looking for unusual packaging or for those seeking a convenient mail - away parcel, the Trojan Boosters "Can-A-Gift" booth on the Northgate Shopping Mall provides an easy answer.

Food, clothing, money, jewelry or practically any small gift item can be quickly sealed into a quart or gallon can which is then decorated from a wide variety of holiday and novelty labels.

Cost — which includes can, sealing, label and mailing tag — is 50 cents for the quart size and $1 for the gallon size.

Sponsored by the Terra Linda High School Trojan Boosters Association, the booth is located on the north end of the shopping mall and is open Monday through Friday from 3:30 to 9:30 p.m. and on Saturdays from 9:30 a.m. to 9:30 p.m. through Dec. 23. It is manned by "Block TL members," Terra Linda athletes who have earned athletic letters, and also by members of the Boosters Association.

Proceeds will be used to further the athletic program at Terra Linda High School.

MRS. JEWEL SATHER of Marinwood currently has a display of oil paintings in the Bank of America at Northgate. The continuous display consists primarily of seascapes, floral arrangements and landscapes and is periodically changed with the additions of Mrs. Sather's latest works.

CITY OF PARIS at Northgate has been serving hot coffee to customers when they dash in out of the rain on these particularly cold evenings.

Life Possible On Torrid Venus

IRVINE — Conditions permitting some form of life may exist on Venus, claims a University of California Nobel laureate in a recent talks at UC's Irvine campus, despite surface temperatures as high as 540 degrees reported by the Soviet Union's recent Venus probe.

Dr. Willard F. Libby, UCLA chemistry professor, says his theory is based on the premise that oven-like temperatures exist only in the equatorial belt on Venus. Ice caps, similar to those on earth, cover Venus' poles and may extend over as much as half the planet, he says.

Consequently, he reasons, temperatures between the hot equatorial belt and icy polar regions must grade off into an area of moderate warmth where some form of life could exist.

Life Possible On Torrid Venus

IRVINE — Conditions permitting some form of life may exist on Venus, claims a University of California Nobel laureate in a recent talks at UC's Irvine campus, despite surface temperatures as high as 540 degrees reported by the Soviet Union's recent Venus probe.

Dr. Willard F. Libby, UCLA chemistry professor, says his theory is based on the premise that oven-like temperatures exist only in the equatorial belt on Venus. Ice caps, similar to those on earth, cover Venus' poles and may extend over as much as half the planet, he says.

Consequently, he reasons, temperatures between the hot equatorial belt and icy polar regions must grade off into an area of moderate warmth where some form of life could exist.

High-Fi Scheme To Silence Jets

WASHINGTON (SS) — If you want to cut the noise of a jet engine — and thousands of people do — you might try adding more noise.

Research in this also has produced a high fidelity system that uses welding torches for its loudspeakers. By adding or imposing electric currents on a flame, scientists can produce sound.

A lot of a jet's noise comes from a phenomenon called acoustic overloading — the flames strike a pitch that sets the whole engine vibrating.

But sound pressure can change the characteristics of the flame, and thus its pitch, preventing the resonance and thus much of the noise.

Engineers at the United Technology Center at Sunnyvale, have been able to change electrical signals into flame vibrations which can fill a room with music or speech.

We're hoping all good things come your way for a happy holiday.

Thank you for your loyal patronage.

POLITICS AND PAINTING

West Germany's Minister of Transport Georg Leber and his wife discuss one of his widely-acclaimed amateur paintings — a hobby for which he'll likely have little time in the near future. He's involved in a drive to ban heavy trucks from the highways, to increase travel safety and incidentally to give a lift to the federally-owned but red-ink ridden national rail and canal systems. Winter Puts Freeze On Seas Around The Pole

By SCIENCE SERVICE

As winter begins to creep down from the North Pole, edging plants with slivers of ice and rime and coating fields with layers of snow, the great oceans and salty seas of the Northern Hemisphere start to stiffen and silently freeze.

As temperatures drop, the surface of the ocean begins to have an oily, opaque appearance, caused by the formation of tiny needles and thin plates of ice known as frazil crystals. These crystals increase in number until the top of the sea is slushy, like thick soup. As this slush thickens, it is broken by wind and waves into round pieces of ice with turned up edges, looking somewhat like lily pads or pancakes. They form in this shape because they are spun around by the wind and collide with each other. As temperatures continue to lower, they gradually freeze together into large sheets of ice, sometimes many feet thick.

This frozen seawater is somewhat salty, but it gradually loses its salt and other impurities as they seep down in periods of rain or partial thawing, and leave fresh water ice at the top.
